14. It appears that the Government had advised the Company in 1958 to prepare a scheme for diversification of their production and it has been contended by the Unions that the Company did not accept this suggestion and made no serious attempt for diversification. My attention has also been drawn to the phased programme of production approved by the Ad Hoc Committee at its meeting held on 29th January 1957 in which three other items besides Carding Engines, viz., Speed frames, Drawing frames and Blow rooms occurred and this Company undertook to take up production of them from the end of 1958 or in 1959 (Ext. I-5, Annexure B). No question was, however, put to the Works Manager of the Company as to production of these items. It appears from the subsequent decision of the Ad Hoc Committee at its meeting held on 31st March 1959 that the estimate of the average annual requirement of each such item was very much reduced (Ext. I-8) and that may be the reason why the Company made no arrangement to produce them specially as these were being produced by other textile machinery manufacturers in sufficient quantities. The Company did try for diversification and started on an experimental basis the machining of certain components of Diesel Engines and secured orders from various concerns, but, as will appear from the evidence of the Works Manager, such attempts were not successful and the rates were not favourable. The Company also reported from time to time in its correspondence with the Employees' Union the attempts it were making for diversification (Ext. G series). But, as was argued on behalf of the Company, the necessity for retrenchment cannot be judged on the basis of the adequacy of the Company's attempts to take up some other kinds of production. That must be left to the Company's discretion and would depend on various factors. The Company cannot be expected to undertake other productions at unfavourable rates ending in loss. The fact, however, remains that the Company did make some attempts at diversification but did not succeed.

15. The Company received order for about 100 Carding Engines from Kalyani Cotton Mills in July, 1959, a month after the retrenchment, and it has been argued on behalf of the Unions that the Company was fully aware in June, 1959, that this order was coming to them and in spite of it carried out the retrenchment on the plea of fall in orders. The receipt of this order was admitted by the Resident Director of the Company in the conference in the Labour Minister's office, already referred to, and he showed that even including this order the fall in orders amounted to 66 per cent. of the capacity and that labour force had been reduced only to the extent of 26 per cent. Adding this order for 100 Carding Engines the total number of effective orders would have been 193 which was not certainly sufficient for the continued maintenance of the Company's entire labour force on the basis of a production capacity of 60 engines a month.

16. It has finally been argued on behalf of the Unions that the Company artificially created a situation to justify retrenchment with a view to (1) re-employ the retrenched employees on reduced pay, as it subsequently did, (2) to victimise the office-bearers and leaders of the Union, and (3) to create a sense of frustration among the workers. It has also been pointed out that on 31st January 1959 the Secretary of the Employees' Union submitted a charter of demands to the Works Manager in which revision of the wage structure, the introduction of a production bonus scheme and a special Puja bonus were claimed in addition to certain other reliefs [Exts. 10(a) and 10(b)], and it is suggested that the Company suddenly and without any previous intimation to the Unions decided upon retrenchment with a view to punish the workmen for this charter of demands and to frustrate their attempt to get redress of their grievances. But this charter of demands was submitted in January and the retrenchment was effected six months later. It is difficult to hold in the circumstances that the retrenchment was decided upon in consequence of the submission of the charter of demands. The Company sent its reply to the charter of demands on 24th April 1959 (Ext. G-27) and it does not appear that the Employees' Union took any steps to press the charter of demands thereafter. As to victimisation, the Mazdoor Union mentioned in its written statement that its President, Vice-President, Secretary and some members of the Executive Committee had been retrenched but this Union had not submitted any charter of demands and it appears that the Company had not recognised this Union. I may mention in passing that the President of this Union was later re-employed by the Company. The witness for the Employees' Union mentioned that six of the office-bearers of the said Union had been retrenched but in its written statements victimisation was not suggested as a motive for retrenchment. The only motive suggested in the supplementary written statement was putting pressure on the workers to agree to increased work-load and to a change in the conditions of service. It has not been made clear what changes were demanded by the Company or were in its contemplation. This is a vague suggestion without any basis whatsoever. In the circumstances the plea of victimisation cannot be entertained and no ulterior motive on the part of the Company can be presumed. It is true that the Company has since re-employed some of the retrenched personnel and they may have been re-employed on reduced pay, but that circumstance cannot certainly be taken as a guiding motive for the retrenchment.

17. In view of the previous history already recounted, the retrenchment cannot be deemed to be a sudden affair. It was the result of an abnormal fall in the number of effective orders for Carding Engines during a period of about a year before June, 1959 and, as already stated, the Company several times contemplated retrenchment and took the Employees' Union into confidence in the matter and discussed and took measures with a view to postpone retrenchment as long as possible. Though the Company in its negotiations with the Union had proposed at first to retrench about 70 workmen, it had reported to the Government of India on 23rd July 1958 that it would have to retrench another 200/250 men before the end of the year, if the order position did not revive (Ext. H-10). When the order position deteriorated to the extent it did in the first quarter of 1959-60—10 in April, 1 in May and none up to 12th June—the Company appears to have decided upon immediate retrenchment of surplus workmen. The Company had improved its machineries and geared its production and increased its labour force on the basis of the phased programme of the Ad Hoc Committee in 1957 and even introduced a production bonus scheme in the hope of getting more and more orders, but when these hopes were belied and orders began to shrink and were cancelled or indefinitely postponed in large numbers the Company could not be expected to carry on with the same labour force for an indefinite length of time. In these circumstances, the retrenchment was, in my opinion, fully justified and I have no ground to think that it was mala fide or actuated by a motive for victimisation or any other ulterior motive. I may mention in passing, though I am not attaching any importance to it that about 300 existing workmen of the Company sent a letter to the Labour Commissioner on 28th September 1959 stating that in their opinion the retrenchment was unavoidable (Ext. G-15).

18. As to the number of the retrenched personnel, it has already been stated that the number was much lower in proportion to fall in orders. Apart from that, if the retrenchment is justified and bona fide, then the number which the Company considers to be surplus should be left to its discretion and cannot be questioned. This is now well-settled and reference may be made to the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Swadesamitran Ltd. and their workmen, reported in 1960-I-LLJ, p. 504. But the Unions have contended that the retrenchment was mala fide as the Company did not follow the principle of "first come, last go" in effecting the retrenchment as laid down in section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act and have relied on the said decision in this behalf. This has been denied by the Company and list (Ext. A) has been filed of all the workmen in the employment of the Company on 12th June 1959 with relevant particulars regarding the dates of appointment and categories together with an explanatory statement of the principles on the basis of which the retrenched personnel were chosen. It is first of all explained that six of the departments in the factory are water-tight departments and that these are Tool Room, Mechanical Maintenance, Electrical Maintenance, Building Maintenance, Tin Smith and Foundry. Each of these six departments was treated as a separate unit for the purpose of retrenchment because the workmen employed in these departments except the unskilled ones were not inter-changeable and could not be pooled together with the workmen having the same designations in other departments. That is also the evidence of the Company's Works Manager. Evidence to the contrary was given by the Secretary of the Employees' Union but he spoke only of the Tool Room and the Maintenance departments as not being water-tight because transfers of workmen were made from these departments to other departments and vice-versa. The said Union also produced a few copies of orders of transfer relating to Tool Room (Ext. 11 series) but I do not think that these are sufficient to show that the Tool Room is not a water-tight department. A copy of an order has been filed showing that the Company transferred certain grinders to a newly-formed grinding section (Ext. 11-g) and it has been contended that these grinders some of whom have been retrenched did not belong to the Tool Room. But that is not correct because the order itself shows that this section was placed in charge of the Foreman, Tool Room Section, which means that it was a part of the Tool Room. The Company's statement, Ext. A, shows that the workmen of these six departments are required to perform special types of work and if some workmen of other departments were chosen for transfer to these departments on the basis of their fitness for such work, that would not disprove the water-tight nature of these departments. In such matters I must accept the evidence of the Works Manager and should not interfere with the decision or discretion of the management. I agree therefore that these departments were rightly treated separately for the purpose of retrenchment. In each of these departments the seniority or juniority of a workman was determined category-wise and the juniormost workmen of each category were retrenched.

19. As regards the other departments, the workmen of each category in all of them were pooled together and retrenchment was effected on the basis of juniority category-wise. The category of each workman as also his position in the category was determined with reference to the date of the last recategorisation. By this principle the length of service of a workman in a particular category was calculated not from the original date of his employment under the Company, if he had been employed in a different category, but from the date when he was placed in the category in question. When retrenchment has to be effected category-wise this is certainly the correct principle to follow in determining who are the juniormost workmen in each category, according to the provisions of section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the unions did not question this principle. They contended, however, that the recategorisation carried on by the Company was not a genuine change of category but only amounted to redesignation of an occupation or job without any change in status or wages or conditions of service and that as such the provisions of section 25G were not complied with. To prove this the Unions have produced certain orders of transfer or redesignation passed by the Company (Ext. 11 series). Several of these orders, however, show that the transfer to the new category involved promotion and increase in wages [Exts. 11(o), 11(p), 11(u), 11(v)]. In some cases though there was no immediate increase in emoluments, there was nevertheless a promotion involved in recategorisation. Even where no promotion was given and there was no increase in emoluments, recategorisation did not merely involve change of designation but change of job and function as well, as has been explained by the Company in detail in the analysis of Ext. A. Thus where a Mate was recategorised as a Viewer, it did not merely mean, as has been contended by the Unions, that the same job was redesignated. The category Mate was not replaced by the category Viewer. Both the categories remained and had different functions. The function of each such category and the distinction in the nature of work performed in each have been fully explained in the above analysis and each case of recategorisation has been separately dealt with. The analysis clearly shows that in each such case there was a real change in category and in the nature of the job. It has been stated by the Unions that several categories were similar, but if there was some difference in functions, e.g., among Progress Assistants, Chasers and Progressmen who all belonged to the clerical staff, they would not be the same. I cannot hold in the circumstances that the recategorisation was not genuine. It is not the case that a programme of recategorisation had been undertaken by the Company on the eve of retrenchment. The retrenched employees had been recategorised long before retrenchment. Excepting in three cases the recategorisations had all been completed by 1957. In the circumstances no ulterior motive can be imputed to the Company in this matter. I find accordingly that the Company's action in retrenching the juniormost workmen of each category with reference to the date of last recategorisation cannot be taken exception to and it cannot be treated as violation of the principle laid down in section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act. I should further mention here that in a few cases where two workmen had been appointed or recategorised on the same date and the Company was required to retrench one of them the selection was made, according to the Company's statement, on the basis of reports about their work. The Unions complained that no adverse reports were communicated to the workmen concerned and that they were not asked to explain their conduct. The complaint is not, however, justified because the Company was not dismissing any workman by way of punishment. The Company's action in selecting the personnel for retrenchment in such a case on the basis of report of work was certainly fair and no blame can attach to it on that account. In any case, I do not think that such action can be said to amount to violation of the principle laid down in section 25G or characterised as mala fide. With regard to 9 workmen who were Pakistani nationals the principle of "last come, first go" was not followed. Section 25G itself lays down that the principle applies to a workman who is a citizen of India. This was not challenged by the Unions excepting in one case in which it was suggested that the person (Paul Peris) was an Indian national. He was not, however, examined and the Company's documents, Exts. K and K(1) show that he was a Pakistani national and had declared himself to be so.

20. In the case of Swadesamitran Ltd. vs. their workmen, 1960-I-LLJ 504, relied upon by the Unions, the Supreme Court laid down that the management had the right to retrench the workmen provided retrenchment was justified but that in effecting retrenchment the management was normally bound to observe and give effect to the industrial rule of retrenchment which had now been given statutory recognition in section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act. For valid reasons, however, the management could depart from the said rule. If such departure was not justified then the action of the management in so departing from the rule could be treated as being mala fide or as amounting to unfair labour practice. The apparent departure from the rule in treating some of the departments as water-tight and in relying upon the dates of recategorisation about which the Unions complained was really no departure and was fully justified. In the circumstances, I must hold that there was no departure from, or violation of, the principle of "last come, first go" as laid down in section 25G of the Act in effecting the retrenchment. I award accordingly that the retrenched employees are not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

The above industrial dispute over the alleged termination of the service of Shri Samarjit Ghosh, an employee of the "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta, was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4940-I.R./IR/13L-28/59, dated the 6th October 1959, as subsequently amended by the said department order No. 6943-I.R./IR/13L-28/59, dated the 21st December 1959. The said First Labour Court having been abolished before adjudication of the said dispute it was finally referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4014-I.R./IR/13L-28/59, dated the 29th July 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference to the First Labour Court.

The issue for decision as formulated in the order of reference to this Tribunal stands as follows:

> Was the termination of the services of Shri Samarjit Ghosh justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The relevant case put forward by the Indian Journalists' Association of Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as the Association) in the written statement filed by it before this Tribunal may be briefly summarised as follows: "Hindusthan Times" is one of the biggest daily newspapers in India and has been placed in Class A by the Wage Committee for the Working Journalists. It is owned and run by the Company concerned. The Company has Press correspondents in different State capitals in the Indian Union and these correspondents are accredited to the respective State Governments. Shri Samarjit Ghosh, the employee concerned, was appointed on and from 1st October 1958 as its Calcutta correspondent. The appointment was made by two letter, dated 18th September 1958 and by a letter, dated 6th October 1958, the Director of Publicity, West Bengal, was informed of the appointment. By a subsequent letter, dated 19th November 1958, the News Editor of the "Hindusthan Times" informed Shri Samarjit Ghosh that his appointment would be on a trial basis for three months from 1st October 1958 and his appointment to the regular staff would be considered at the end of December, 1958. Thereafter the P.A. to the General Manager of the Company wrote a letter, dated 21st January 1959, to Shri Samarjit Ghosh calling for certain particulars and informations from him for the purpose of regularising his appointment. Shri Samarjit Ghosh duly complied with the requirements of the letter and this compliance was duly acknowledged by the Company's letter, dated 4th February 1959. Shri Samarjit Ghosh did not get any further information from the Company after the Company's letter, dated 4th February 1959 and he continued to send his despatches to the New Delhi office and these were regularly published in the "Hindusthan Times". Then on 21st February 1959 Shri Samarjit Ghosh received a letter, dated 20th February 1959, from the Director of Publicity, West Bengal, wherein he was asked to return his accredition card on the ground that intimation had been received by the Director from the News Editor, "Hindusthan Times", that Shri Samarjit Ghosh's service would end with the termination of his probation on 28th February 1959. Shri Samarjit Ghosh then wrote a letter to the News Editor requesting him to withdraw his letter to the Publicity Directorate, West Bengal, and pointing out that his probation ended on 31st December 1958 and his employment had been regularised. Thereafter on 3rd March 1959 Shri Samarjit Ghosh received a letter from the News Editor with a copy of a letter, dated 14th February 1959, stated to have been sent to him also and whereby his probation was purported to be terminated. After this there was some correspondence between the Company and Shri Samarjit Ghosh regarding the termination of Shri Samarjit Ghosh's employment under the Company. The termination of Shri Samarjit Ghosh's employment under the Company at the end of February, 1959, was mala fide and unjustified and a gross instance of unfair labour practice and was done with the ulterior motive of denying him the benefits to which he was entitled under the award of the Wage Committee for Working Journalists finally published in the "Gazette of India Extraordinary", dated 29th May 1959. The preliminary recommendations of the Wage Committee prescribing among others a basic starting pay of Rs. 600 for accredited correspondents for A Class newspapers in metropolitan cities of India including Calcutta were published much earlier and from the recommendations the Company concerned was fully aware that Shri Samarjit Ghosh would be entitled to increased benefits under the Wage Committee award. According to the final award of the Wage Committee the basic wages and dearness allowances for accredited Press correspondents in metropolitan cities of India of A Class newspapers were fixed in the scale of Rs. 500—900 (10 years) and Rs. 90 respectively and it was further directed by the award that any probationer in any post would get the scale of pay fixed for the regular staff. The aforesaid award of the Wage Committee was given retrospective effect from 1st June 1958. In the aforesaid circumstances the service of Shri Samarjit Ghosh was unjustly and illegally terminated after February, 1959, on the plea that he was a mere probationer under a temporary arrangement with the Company with the mala fide intention as already indicated above. It is contended that Shri Samarjit Ghosh's service was regularised as the permanent correspondent of the "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta and the Company could not terminate his service in the manner it had done. The Association has prayed for reinstatement of Shri Ghosh to the post of Press correspondent of "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta on the scale of pay with D.A. as fixed by the Wage Committee and for recovery of his back wages on the said scale since the date of the illegal termination of his service.

The Company has filed a written statement in reply to the written statement filed by the Association. In the written statement the Company has raised some preliminary legal objections and then has also challenged and denied the basis of the Association's claim that Shri Samarjit Ghosh's appointment was regularised as a permanent Press correspondent of the paper in Calcutta.

The preliminary objections raised are twofold The first objection is that the reference of the dispute for adjudication by the State Government of West Bengal is incompetent and without jurisdiction because the employer-Company which is "Hindusthan Times" Limited has its office in New Delhi, outside the boundaries of this State It is contended that the West Bengal Government cannot exercise any jurisdiction under the Industrial Disputes Act in regard to a dispute which concerns an employer establishment which is situated outside the territory of West Bengal. The second objection is that it is a purely individual dispute concerning only one worker, Shri Samarjit Ghosh, and the Indian Journalists' Association of Calcutta which has purported to have taken up the cause of Shri Samarjit Ghosh has no locus standi in the matter because it is not a Union of the employees of the "Hindusthan Times" Ltd., New Delhi, and no employee of the Company is its member. It is also an individual dispute because no other workman, not to speak of a majority of the workmen, in the particular establishment has taken up the cause of Shri Ghosh. These two preliminary objections were again raised and elaborated in a petition filed before the Tribunal by the Company on 7th November 1960.

The Company's contentions regarding the merits of the case and the claim put forward by the Association are substantially that Shri Ghosh was appointed on a purely trial basis under a temporary arrangement and as a probationer from 1st October 1958 on a monthly salary of Rs. 250 on the stipulation that the question of his being absorbed in the regular staff of the Company's establishment would be considered by the Editor after seeing his work and by the letter, dated 21st January 1959, from the Company to Shri Ghosh, he was simply asked to fill in certain forms for completing and regularising the records in the office concerning him and this was by no means an admission of his appointment to the regular staff and, in these circumstances, by the letter, dated 14th February 1959, Shri Ghosh was informed that the trial period and the probation arrangement with him would terminate on 28th February 1959 and thereafter his service would no longer be required. The Company and the management were fully within their legal rights to dispense with the service of Shri Ghosh in that manner and this was done because his work was not satisfactory and not with any mala fide or ulterior motive in view of the enforcement of the Wage Committee award with effect from 1st June 1958 substantially according to the recommendations of the Wage Committee published much earlier, as alleged by the Association. The letters referred to in the Association's written statement and made annexures thereto are mostly admitted by the Company and it is contended that the correspondence between Shri Ghosh and the Company really reflected the position now taken up by the Company that Shri Ghosh was working merely as a probationer and on a trial basis under a temporary arrangement with effect from 1st October 1958 as the Company's Press correspondent in Calcutta and he was never accepted as a regular member of the staff and his probationary service was never regularised as that of a permanent employee as claimed by him. On the above case the Company contends that no relief is admissible in regard to Shri Ghosh as claimed by the Association.

Before taking up the only issue formulated in the order of reference which relates to the merits of the respective cases of the parties as put forward in their written statements, I will deal with and dispose of the two preliminary legal objections raised by the Company and already set out above.

I first take up the objection that the State Government of West Bengal has no legal jurisdiction to make this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act because the dispute concerns a Company which is not situated within its territorial jurisdiction but is situated outside its territorial jurisdiction and within the jurisdiction of another Government. It is contended that as the Company is not within the territorial jurisdiction of the State Government of West Bengal, this Government is not the appropriate Government to refer this alleged dispute with the Company within the meaning of section 10(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. This argument proceeds on the assumption that in order to be an "appropriate Government" for the purpose of making a reference of an industrial dispute under section 10(1), Industrial Disputes Act, the Government must be such that both parties to the dispute are within its territorial and administrative jurisdiction and if any of the parties to the dispute are not within its territorial jurisdiction it would not be an "appropriate Government". The expression "appropriate Government" has been explained in section 2(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Clause (i) of section 2(a) indicates the circumstances under which the Central Government is the "appropriate Government" and lays down that that Government would be the "appropriate Government" in any case of industrial dispute "concerning any industry carried on by or under the authority of the Central Government or by a Railway Company or concerning any such controlled industry as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government or in relation to an industrial dispute concerning an Insurance Company, a mine, an Oil Field or a Major Port". Then we come to clause (ii) which simply lays down that "in relation to any other industrial dispute the State Government is the 'appropriate Government'." There is no other provision in this clause laying down the conditions under which a State Government may become the "appropriate Government" under section 10(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The present dispute does not certainly fall within any of the categories of dispute referred to in clause (i) and as such it may be taken to fall under clause (ii) for the purpose of determination of the "appropriate Government" in regard to it in view of the position that it cannot be gainsaid that though the employer-Company is situated, according to the order of reference itself, outside the territorial jurisdiction of this State Government, the dispute with which we are concerned in the present reference certainly arose in Calcutta and as such within the territorial jurisdiction of this State Government because the worker concerned got his appointment letter in Calcutta and joined his work here and also continued to work here for some time before his services were terminated. The dispute arose particularly over the termination of his service which certainly took place in Calcutta. Thus the dispute had its origin in Calcutta and also it continued to exist in Calcutta uptil the date of reference and it may also be said that it is still continuing. Here it would be profitable to refer to the language of section 10(1) which lays down the conditions under which an "appropriate Government" can refer an industrial dispute for adjudication. The section stands thus: "Where the 'appropriate Government' is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended it may at any time refer....." The language clearly indicates that the existence of an industrial dispute or apprehension of such a dispute is the sine qua non of reference of an industrial dispute by an "appropriate Government" and according to the plain meaning of the language it may be interpreted as laying down that whenever a particular Government is of opinion that an industrial dispute exists or is apprehended within its territorial jurisdiction it may refer it for adjudication. This position would not raise any conflict with the explanation of the expression "appropriate Government" as given in section 2(a) particularly with reference to "the State Government" which, as already explained above, is to be treated as the "appropriate Government" except in disputes concerning certain categories of industries enumerated in clause (i). In my view a State Government is certainly the "appropriate Government" for referring an industrial dispute if and when the dispute exists or is apprehended within its territorial jurisdiction in regard to the service or condition of employment of any worker serving within its jurisdiction in any industry not falling under clause (i) of section 2(a), Industrial Disputes Act, no matter that the industry is controlled by an establishment which exists outside its territorial jurisdiction. In the above view of the matter I hold that as, in the present case, the dispute arose over the service and working conditions of Shri Ghosh who was employed within the territorial jurisdiction of this State Government by the Company which has its main establishment outside the territorial jurisdiction of this State according to the order of reference itself, this Government is the appropriate Government to refer the dispute for adjudication under section 10(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Accordingly, I reject the first preliminary objection raised by the Company.

I now take up the second preliminary objection already set out above. In the order of reference to this Tribunal the dispute is said to be existing between the "Hindusthan Times" Ltd., New Delhi, and their employees represented by the Indian Journalists' Association, Calcutta. The issue given in the schedule to the order of reference shows that the dispute is over the alleged termination of the service of Shri Samarjit Ghosh. No doubt Shri Samarjit Ghosh is primarily the cause of this dispute and the dispute arising out of the alleged termination of his service has been taken up by the Indian Journalists' Association which, according to the evidence, is a local Association of Journalists affiliated to the larger all-India body, The Indian Federation of Working Journalists. That the Indian Journalists' Association of Calcutta is a constituent affiliated unit of the Indian Federation of Working Journalists has been proved practically without dispute by the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Samarjit Ghosh, the worker concerned, and by printed constitutions of the two Associations, IFWJ, New Delhi and IJA, Calcutta (Ext. 2 and 2a). The latter is a Trade Union body registered under the Trade Unions Act. It is proved by P.W. 1 that he is the sole working Journalist under the "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta. In fact this answer was elicited by his cross-examination by the learned Advocate for the Company. There is no evidence to show that there is any other working Journalist or any other employee of "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta. It is, of course, in evidence that there are 49 working Journalists under this paper at Delhi and they have got a Union of their own—Delhi Union of Journalists—which is also a constituent affiliated unit of IFWJ. Thus it is clear that though it is primarily a dispute concerning only one employee of the "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta, the dispute has been taken up by the local registered Trade Union of the industry, Indian Journalists' Association, which is an affiliated unit of the larger central body, Indian Federation of Working Journalists. It cannot be gainsaid that a dispute involving only one worker is not per-se an industrial dispute as defined in section 2(k), but it is well settled that such a dispute may develop into an industrial dispute when it is taken up by the Union of such workers or by a substantial number of such workers though this number may not form the majority and there is a concerted demand for redress against the Company (1953, I, LLJ, 195; 1957, I, LLJ, page 27; 1959, I, LLJ, page 600 and 1960, I, LLJ, page 491). In 1959, I, LLJ, page 600, the opinion was expressed that the majority or a large portion of the workmen employed in the particular industry must be shown to be concerned in the dispute about a particular workman if it is to become an industrial dispute. But this view about the requirement of majority of workers of a particular industry being concerned in the dispute over a particular worker was not accepted in the latest case on the point reported in 1960, 1, LLJ, page 491. The facts of the present case are that there is a local Union of the industry in which the worker concerned in the present case serves, though not exclusively of the workers under the same employer concerned, and this worker is the sole employee of the employer concerned in the present case and the local Union of the industry in which he serves has taken up his cause for redress; and upon these facts, it may quite legitimately be held that his dispute has developed into an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k), Industrial Disputes Act. I do not find any firm basis for the view that the Union, which takes up the dispute regarding a particular worker, must be the Union of the workers of that employer exclusively and it cannot be a Union comprising workers of the same industry belonging to different establishments. It may be presumed from the fact that the local Union of the same industry has taken up the cause of this worker that there is a concerted demand for redress in the dispute concerning this worker by quite a substantial number of workers of the industry concerned who are members of the Union. When it is established that there is no other employee of this particular employer in Calcutta and there is no Union exclusively of the workers of this particular employer in Calcutta but there is a registered Trade Union of the industry concerned, the newspaper industry and the present worker concerned Shri Samarjit Ghosh is employed in that industry and that Union has taken up his cause, the dispute concerning him must be deemed to have been transformed into an industrial dispute. In the above view of the matter I also reject the second preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company and hold that it has become an industrial dispute under section 2(k), Industrial Dispute Act and as such the reference is quite good, valid and maintainable.

I now take up the issue formulated in the order of reference for decision.

For the purpose of deciding the first question of the issue, it is first to be determined what was the nature of the service held by Shri Samarjit Ghosh under the Company. I have already set out above the respective cases of the parties on this point and I will only briefly state here that according to the Company he was engaged on a purely trial basis as a probationer under a temporary arrangement and the Company was therefore fully justified in terminating his service at the end of February, 1959, but according to the Association he was employed on a permanent basis and was absorbed in the regular staff of the Company and consequently the Company was not justified in terminating his service at the end of February, 1959, in the manner it had done.

It cannot be gainsaid that Shri Samarjit Ghosh was initially appointed as the Company's Calcutta correspondent on a trial basis for the period of three months from 1st October 1958 on the terms and conditions set out in the two letters, Exts. 1 and 1(a), dated, respectively, 18th September 1958 and 19th November 1958. These two letters are to be treated as constituting one whole document relating to the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh under the Company and indicating the precise terms of his initial appointment. In Ext. 1 the nature of the work to be done by Shri Samarjit Ghosh was indicated and it was also stated that his terms were to be finalised after the Company had seen his news despatches. In the subsequent letter, Ext. 1(a), it was clearly stated that Shri Samarjit Ghosh's appointment as the Company's Calcutta correspondent would be for a trial period of three months from 1st October 1958 on a monthly remuneration of Rs. 250 and during this period of three months the appointment might be terminated by either side without notice and his appointment to the regular staff was to be considered at the end of December, 1958. Shri Samarjit Ghosh certainly acted in terms of these two letters in his service under the Company at the least for the period of three months, September to December, 1958, and these letters clearly indicate that he was working as a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement for three months. According to the terms of the letter, dated 19th November 1958, his appointment to the regular staff was to be considered at the end of December. The next letter to be considered in this connection is the Company's letter, dated 21st January 1959 (Ext. 3a), wherein Shri Samarjit Ghosh was requested to complete and sign and return certain forms sent therewith along with some other documents for the purpose of regularising his appointment legally with the Company. It may be safely held from the Company's letter, dated 4th February 1959 (Ext. 3b), that Shri Samarjit Ghosh complied with the requirements of the letter, dated 21st January 1959. The next letter of the Company in connection with Shri Samarjit Ghosh's appointment is a letter, dated 14th February 1959 (Ext. 3c), whereby Shri Samarjit Ghosh was informed that his probation as the Company's Calcutta correspondent will terminate on 28th February 1959 and his service would no longer be required from that date. It appears from the evidence on record that a copy of this letter was sent to the Director of Publicity, Government of West Bengal, and thereafter the Director of Publicity wrote to Shri Samarjit Ghosh requesting him to return the accredition card issued to him as a Press correspondent of the Company in Calcutta and thereafter Shri Samarjit Ghosh wrote to the Company protesting against this action of the Company in terminating his appointment and asserting that his service stood regularised with the Company and finally the Company offered him Rs. 500 covering his dues for January and February, 1959, in full and final settlement but Shri Samarjit Ghosh accepted this amount under protest and not in full and final settlement of his claim against the Company. These facts are clearly proved by the oral evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Samarjit Ghosh and by the letters, Exts. 3c, 3d, Ext. 4, Ext. 5, Ext. 6, Ext. 8, Ext. 9 and Ext. 10. Shri Samarjit Ghosh's contention is that he did not actually receive the letter, dated 14th February 1959, whereby his appointment under the Company was purported to be terminated and he came to know about this position from the letter received by him from the Publicity Directorate of the Government of West Bengal, whereby he was informed of the gist of the Company's letter, dated 14th February 1959, and was asked to return his accredition card. It is of little importance whether Shri Samarjit Ghosh actually received the Company's letter, dated 14th February 1959, whereby his appointment under the Company was purported to be terminated because it cannot be gainsaid that within a week thereafter he received the letter from the Director of Publicity (Ext. 4) whereby he was asked to return his accredition card on the ground that the Company had terminated his appointment under it and then on February 26, Shri Samarjit Ghosh took up the matter with the Company by his letter, Ext. 5. We must therefore start from the position that the initial appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh under the Company was that of a probationer under trial for a period of three months under a temporary arrangement and this period was from 1st September to 31st December, 1958. It cannot be gainsaid that this nature of his appointment was not such as to make him automatically a regular employee of the Company in the permanent staff on the expiry of the aforesaid period of probation and trial and it was for the Company to decide whether he should be taken in as a regular member of its staff on a permanent basis. It appears from the Company's letter, dated 21st January 1959, that for the purpose of making this decision it asked for certain documents from Shri Samarjit Ghosh and I have already indicated above that Shri Samarjit Ghosh duly complied with the requirements of this letter. I am unable to hold from the terms of this letter, dated 21st January 1959 (Ext. 3a), that this letter by itself constituted regularisation of his appointment under the Company on a permanent basis. The letter expressed nothing more than the position that the Company wanted some documents to consider regularisation of his appointment under the Company on a permanent basis. Even after this letter it was certainly open to the Company to decide whether his appointment would be regularised on a permanent basis and until the Company made such a decision and communicated it to Shri Samarjit Ghosh his service under the Company should be deemed to be on the terms and conditions of his initial appointment by the letters, Exts. 1 and 1(a), i.e., as a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement. It appears that the Company made its decision in this matter against Shri Samarjit Ghosh and by its letter, dated 14th February 1959, informed him that his probationary appointment as its correspondent in Calcutta would terminate on 28th February 1959. The Company was certainly within its legal rights and competence by way of management function to terminate the appointment of a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement in that manner and the employee concerned cannot challenge that order per-se as illegal and unjustified. The Company has been accused of gross mala fides in regard to its aforesaid action of terminating the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh at the end of February, 1959, mainly on the basis that this action was taken to avoid the effect of provisions of the Working Journalists' (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958 (XXIX of 1958), in regard to his appointment because under the provisions of the Act whereby the recommendations of the Wage Committee were substantially accepted the rates of wages and dearness allowance for a Press correspondent like Shri Samarjit Ghosh in Calcutta were materially increased and under the increased wage structure he was to get pay in the scale of Rs. 500 to Rs. 900 and D.A. of Rs. 90 per month, whereas he was being paid only Rs. 250 per month. The relevant order under the Working Journalists (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958, was passed on 29th May 1959 but its provisions regarding new rates of wages and dearness allowance in the case of A Class Dailies were given retrospective effect from 1st June 1958. The Wage Committee was constituted on 14th June 1958 and the tentative proposals of the Committee were released on 24th December 1958 and these were made available to all interested parties for the purpose of indicating their reactions to the recommendations. Thereafter the Wage Committee submitted its recommendations and mostly on the basis of its recommentations the order, dated 29th May 1959, under the Working Journalists' (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958, was passed. The Association's case is that getting scent of all these moves on the part of the Government for fixing the rates of wages and dearness allowance of working Journalists and particularly of the recommendations of the Wage Committee this Company had recourse to the subterfuge of terminating the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh with effect from the end of February, 1959, by treating him as a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement in order to prevent him from getting the benefit of the rates of wages and dearness allowance fixed by the Act and as might be applicable to him and this clearly indicated a mala fide intention and an ulterior motive on the part of the Company. I am unable to accept this case of the Association and convict the Company of mala fide intention or ulterior motive in terminating the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh under it on the expiry of February, 1959. The new rates of wages for working Journalists were, as already indicated above, determined by an order, dated 29th May 1959, but these were given retrospective operation with effect from 1st June 1958. In January and February, 1959, the crucial period for the purpose of this case, in view of the fact that the regularisation of Shri Samarjit Ghosh's service under the Company on a permanent basis was under consideration during this period, no definite decision had been taken by the Government though the tentative proposals of the Wage Committee were released on 24th December 1958 and had been made available to all interested parties. It cannot at once be held that the Company acted with a mala fide intention and with an ulterior motive simply because it terminated the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh which, according to the Company and also according to my decision, was that of a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement, at the end of February, 1959 and thereafter the order under the Working Journalists' (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958, was passed on 29th May 1959 giving retrospective operation to its provisions regarding rates of wages and dearness allowance payable to working Journalists the recommendations of the Wage Committee in regard to which had been circulated before. I may further say that even assuming that the Company terminated the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh at the end of February, 1959, keeping in view the possibility of the recommendations of the Wage Committee being accepted and passed into law it cannot at once be convicted of mala fide intention and ulterior motive because the appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh under the Company has been held by me to have been that of a probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement which was never regularised into a permanent appointment and if the Company wanted to minimise its business cost by doing away with the service of a probationer like him, keeping in view the impending increase in the rates of wages and D.A. of working Journalists on the recommendations of the Wage Committee with retrospective effect, it was certainly within the legal rights and competence of management function of the Company to do so as a business organisation and such action cannot be at once condemned to be mala fide and done with some ulterior motive in relation to the employee concerned, namely, Shri Samarjit Ghosh, particularly when there is no evidence nor is it suggested that any new man was appointed or has yet been appointed in his place. The action may be justified as being done bona fide in consonance with ordinary business principles.

For the reasons and on the findings recorded above I hold that the termination of the service of Shri Samarjit Ghosh was justified and accordingly I answer the first question of the issue in the affirmative.

I now come to the next question of the issue relating to the relief, if any, to which Shri Ghosh is entitled. In connection with this question, I am of the view that though the termination of his service has been held to be justified and so he is not entitled to reinstatement he is, however, entitled to some monetary relief for the period of his service by way of enhanced pay and D.A. under the provisions of the relevant order under the Working Journalists' (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958, which, as I have already indicated above, was passed on 29th May 1959, but given retrospective operation from 1st June 1958. It must be held, therefore, that this order was in operation during the period of appointment of Shri Samarjit Ghosh under the Company, i.e., from 1st September 1958 to 28th February 1959. It is clearly in evidence that Shri Samarjit Ghosh held the appointment of the sole Press correspondent of "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta and "Hindusthan Times" is an A Class newspaper and Calcutta is a metropolitan city. As he was the sole Press correspondent of the paper in Calcutta he must also be held to have been the principal correspondent of this newspaper in the metropolis of Calcutta. It is laid down in paragraph 25 of Chapter III of the recommendations of the Wage Committee, which has been enacted into law by the relevant order, dated 29th May 1959, that the principal duties performed by an employee should determine the category of such employee and neither designation nor casual or occasional work should be taken into account for such categorisation. In view of the principal duties of Shri Samarjit Ghosh as the sole Press correspondent of "Hindusthan Times" in Calcutta he must be held to have been its principal correspondent. It is further laid down in paragraph 40 of the same chapter of the recommendations of the Wage Committee that a working Journalist may be employed as a probationer for a period not exceeding one year during which he should get a basic pay not less than the minimum of the scale applicable to the class of newspaper or news agency and the group in which he is a probationer and should also get the appropriate D.A. So according to the provisions of this paragraph read with the provisions of paragraph 25 already discussed above, Shri Samarajit Ghosh must get the minimum of the scale of Rs. 500 to Rs. 900 and D.A. of Rs. 90 per month for the whole period of his service under the Company from September, 1958 to February 1959, 5 months in all, according to the scale of remuneration given in Chapter III, paragraph 26, Table 1, and paragraph 27 of the recommendations of the Wage Committee. Thus for the whole period of his service for 5 months under the Company he should get a monthly pay of Rs. 500 with a monthly D.A. of Rs. 90, in all Rs. 590. But he was paid at the rate of Rs. 250 per month in all during this period. He is entitled to get the difference of remuneration at the rate of Rs. 250 per month actually paid to him and the total remuneration of Rs. 590 per month to which he is legally entitled. Thus he would be entitled to recover the difference of Rs. 340 per month for 5 months, i.e., Rs. 1,700 from the Company in spite of the termination of his appointment as probationer on trial under a temporary arrangement for the said period. He is certainly entitled to this monetary relief.

In the result I award that though the termination of service of Shri Samarjit Ghosh was justified he is nevertheless entitled to recover from the Company Rs. 1,700 in all on account of arrears of monthly wages and D.A. under the Working Journalists' (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958, and the Company shall pay this amount to him within a month from the date of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

THE INSTITUTE OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTS OF INDIA

NOTIFICATION

(Chartered Accountants.)

Dated New Delhi, the 7th October 1960.

No. 1-CA(3)/60.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 30 of the Chartered Accountants Act, 1949 (XXXVIII of 1949), the Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India has made the following amendments in the Chartered Accountants Regulations, 1949, the same having been previously published and approved by the Central Government as required under sub-section (3) of the said section.

In the said Regulations:—

I. In Regulation 31B, add the following at the end:—

"Or (iii) a certificate from a surviving partner in Form 'K-4' or 'K-6' that the applicant has served either as an articled or as an audit clerk for the appropriate period, but is unable to produce a certificate in the prescribed form signed by the chartered accountant with whom he served, by reason of the death or infirmity of the chartered accountant or for other sufficient cause."

II. In Regulation 42A, after sub-regulation (5) insert the following:—

"(5A) In the event of the death of the employer, his legal representative shall issue to the audit clerk a certificate in Form 'K-5' for the service rendered. Or in case the deceased employer was carrying on practice in partnership with another member of the Institute, the surviving partner shall issue to the audit clerk a cetrificate in Form 'K-6' for the service rendered."

III. Change the heading of Chapter VIA as "Standing and other Committees" instead of "Standing Committees".

IV. After the existing Regulation 62G, insert the following:—

"62-GG(1). Committees other than Standing Committees: (i) Committees other than Standing Committees appointed by the Council under sub-section (2) of section 17 of the Act, shall consist of a Chairman, a Vice-Chairman and such other members of the Council as may be elected on it by the Council and any other members of the Institute who may be co-opted with the sanction of the Council.

(ii) The Committees shall discharge such functions as may be decided by the Council from time to time.

(iii) The provisions contained in Regulations 62A, 62B, 62C, 62D and 62E relating to the time and place of meetings, quorum, procedure for transaction of business, casting vote, minutes, etc., shall 'mutatis mutandis' apply to such Committees except that the reference to President and Vice-President in the above Regulations shall be construed as reference to Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively of a Committee and the Secretary of the Council shall be the Secretary for only such of the Committees as may be decided by the Council.

62-GG(2). - Sub-Committees of Standing and other Committees: (i) The Council or any Standing or other Committee may also appoint Sub-Committees consisting of members of the Committee concerned and, wherever necessary, co-opt members of the Institute who are not members of the Council or the Committee concerned.

(ii) Each Sub-Committee shall have a Chairman who shall also be the Convenor of the Sub-Committee.

(iii) Each Sub-Committee shall discharge such functions as may be decided by the Council or the Committee concerned from time to time.

(iv) The Chairman of a Sub-Committee may at any time and shall on the requisition of not less than one-third members of the Sub-Committee, call a meeting of the Sub-Committee.

(v) The meeting shall be held at such place, time and date as the Chairman may decide.

(vi) A notice of not less than seven days of every such meeting shall ordinarily be given to every member of the Sub-Committee.

(vii) In the event of the Chairman of a Sub-Committee failing to call a meeting of the Sub-Committee in spite of a requisition under sub-regulation (iv) above, within 7 days of the receipt of the requisition, the members who had sent the requisition may themselves convene the meeting, elect their own Chairman and transact business for which the requisition had been sent.

(viii) The Chairman of any meeting of a Sub-Committee shall maintain a record of all the business transacted by the Sub-Committee."

V. In Regulation 78, for the words "costing financial and taxation matter".

VI. After Form "K 2" of the Schedule, insert the following Forms:—

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the same form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(3) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 (for each category of posts) in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence about he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(4) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(5) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or others of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(6) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or statutory body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fees should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected

RASHTRIYA INDIAN MILITARY COLLEGE, DEHRADUN

Admission to term commencing in August 1961

APPLICATIONS are invited from the permanent residents of West Bengal for admission to the next term of the Rashtriya Indian Military College, Dehra Dun, commencing in August 1961. Course. The College provides a public school education for boys who wish to obtain commissions in the Army, Navy or Air Force. The educational training is designed to bring boys up to the standard of the Senior Cambridge School Certificate and the qualifying examination for entry into the National Defence Academy. Compulsory physical training, games and parades ensure physical fitness and smartness, while special attention is paid to the imparting of discipline, self reliance and social training to all cadets. Admission: Candidates for admission to the next term of the College which commences from August 1961, will have to qualify at an entrance examination to be held at Calcutta some time in the 3rd week of February 1961, followed by an interview.

Age limits: Candidates must have been born not earlier than the 2nd August 1949, and not later than the 1st August 1950. The age limits can in no case be relaxed.

Educational qualifications: No educational qualification is prescribed for admission to this College but it is expected that the candidate should have read up to Class VIII standard of a Secondary School.

Fees: The fees are Rs. 750 per term plus additional expenses of Rs. 400 (i.e., uniforms, pocket money, books, washing, etc.). The actual cost is thus about Rs. 2,300 per annum. One candidate belonging to the Scheduled Castes/Tribes who may be admitted to the College may be charged fees at reduced rates of Rs. 1,550 per annum. A cadet spends five to six years at the College.

Scholarships. A limited number of scholarships of Rs. 1,000 per annum is awarded to the deserving cadets after admission to the College by the West Bengal Government.

Applications: Applications on the prescribed form, in duplicate, which can be had on request from the Assistant Secretary, Home (Defence) Department, Government of West Bengal, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, should be submitted so as to reach him on or before the 15th January 1961.

Office of the Textile Commissioner (Powerloom)

Bombay, the 17th November 1960.

PRESS NOTE

Unregistered looms—extension of time for application for permit.

In the Press Note, issued by the Textile Commissioner on 5th November 1960, owners of unregistered powerlooms working without permits issued under the Textile Control Orders were required to submit their applications before 30th November 1960. In view of several representations for extension of time, the Government of India are pleased to extend this period up to 31st December 1960.

2. In the form of application it was stated that applications for permits should be accompanied by attested copies of Central Excise Licences. It will be sufficient if a certificate is produced from the Central Excise authorities that the looms in question had been acquired and installed before 31st October 1960, and have been issued licences under the Central Excise Rules.

Public Health

NOTIFICATIONS

No P.H./5380/W-81/60.—18th October 1960.—Whereas the Commissioners of the Naihati Municipality in the district of 24-Parganas have submitted an application for a loan of Rs. 1,80,000 for the Water-supply Scheme of the Naihati Municipality;

And whereas it appears to the Governor that the loan should be granted at an interest of four per cent. per annum repayable in sixty equal half yearly instalments of Rs. 5,178.23 nP. each unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of publication of this notification in the "Calcutta Gazette";

Now, therefore, in pursuance of rule 7 of the Local Authorities Loans Rules, 1915, made under section 4 of the Local Authorities Loans Act, 1914 (Act IX of 1914), and published under the Government of India, Finance Department, notification No. 1020A., dated the 10th November 1914, the Governor is pleased hereby to cause a copy of the aforesaid application to be published below for general information.

APPLICATION FROM THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE NAIHATI MUNICIPALITY

FOR A LOAN OF Rs. 1,80,000

| Receipt of loan. | | | | | | | | | | | Repayment of loan | | Financial position of the local body. | | | | | | | | | | |

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.

(a) Not insufficient.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the municipality The rates at which each of the taxes mentioned in column 12 on the reverse are levied, other than tax on persons, should be stated here.

(b) The holding rate is levied at 9¼ per cent. against a maximum of 10 per cent. The conservancy rate is levied at 6¼ per cent. in place of a maximum of 10 per cent. and the water and lighting taken at 1¾ per cent. and 1 1/16 per cent. in place of maximum rate of 7½ per cent. and 3 per cent. respectively. There is therefore a reserve of taxation in the holding rate to the extent of ¾ per cent., in the conservancy rate to the extent of 3¾ per cent., in the water rate to the extent of 5¾ per cent., and in the lighting rate to the extent of 1 15/16 per cent. aggregating to 11 11/16 per cent.

(c) A statement of all outstanding loans specifying in respect of each loan, the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charges involved, and the amount still payable.

(c) Statement of outstanding loans :—

ORDER

No. 5449M.P.—9th December 1960.—Whereas the Durgapur Industries Board, in the district of Burdwan, not being licensees, are engaging in the business of supplying energy to certain nidustrial concerns in the area adjoining the Power Station at Durgapur in the district of Burdwan, the boundaries whereof are set out in Schedule "A" below and delineated in red colour on a map, hereinafter referred to as the said area;

And whereas the Faridpur Union Board, Durgapur Union Board, Gopalpur Union Board and Jemua Union Board are the local authorities constituted for the said area;

And whereas, the said area is not included within the area of any licensee;

And whereas the said area does not form part of any cantonment, aerodrome, fortress, arsenal, dockyard or camp or of any building or place in the occupation of the Government for defence purposes;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 28 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (9 of 1910), the Governor is pleased after consulting the West Bengal State Electricity Board and with the consent of the local authorities concerned, namely, the Faridpur Union Board, Durgapur UnionBoard, Gopalpur Union Board and Jemua Union Board, to give the said Durgapur Industries Board (hereafter referred to as the sanction-holder), sanction to engage in the business of supplying energy within the said area, subject to the following conditions, namely:—

(1) that the provisions of section 11, section 17, section 18, sub-sections (1) and (4) of section 21, section 24 and section 26 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (9 of 1910), and prorvisions of the Indian Electricity Rules, 1956, shall apply as if the sanction-holders were licensees;

(2) that the rates per unit for the supply of energy shall be as set out in Schedule "B" below;

(3) that the sanction hereby granted shall cease to be operative as soon as the West Bengal State Electricity Board shall be in a position to supply energy to the said area;

(4) that the sanction-holders shall, on being called upon by the West Bengal State Electricity Board to do so, be bound to make over the electric supply line for the proposed supply forthwith to the said Board and the sanction-holders shall be entitled to receive from the said Board reasonable compensation therefor based on depreciated book value, as may be agreed upon between the sanction-holders and the said Board, and in case of any dispute, the same shall be referred to arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration Act, 1940 (10 of 1940);

(5) that the sanction hereby given shall be liable to be rescinded or revoked in case the sanction-holders fail to supply energy efficiently and satisfactorily or fail to comply with any of the terms and conditions on which this sanction is granted;

(6) that the West Bengal State Electricity Board should be consulted and its consent obtained with regard to commitments for supply to be made by the sanction-holder in future;

(7) that a suitable agreement should be entered into between the Durgapur Industries Board and the West Bengal State Electricity Board with regard to the sale of surplus power of Durgapur Power Station; and

(8) that if on any future date circumstances arise which make it necessary to withdraw the said sanction in the public interest, the State Government shall have the option to do so, after giving an opportunity to the sanction-holders of being heard.

ORDERS

No. 6395-I.R./IR/9L-55/59.—6th December 1960.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2347-I.R./IR/9L-55/59, dated the 13th May 1960, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield Limited, 6 Church Lane, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Harrisons and Crosfield (Calcutta) Employees' Union, 7 Krishna Laha Lane, Calcutta-12, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield Ltd., 6 Church Lane, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Harrisons and Crosfield (Calcutta) Employees' Union, 7 Krishna Laha Lane, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-113/60.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri R. Goswami, an officer of Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield Limited (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 6 Church Lane, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Harrisons and Crosfield (Calcutta) Employees' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), 8 Krishna Laha Lane, Calcutta-12, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, over the following issue, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2347-I.R./IR/9L-55/59, dated the 13th May 1960.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Panchanan Bhattacharyya is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After service of usual notices upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statement, the Union filed its written statement on 20th June 1960 After that the Company filed the written objection on 6th July 1960.

AWARD

The facts as disclosed in the pleadings, indicate that Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee was a clerk employed by the Company for the last 14 years. He is a permanent resident of Joychandipur, P.S. Bishnupur in the district of 24-Parganas, situated at a distance of 21 miles from the office, and that he used to attend the office as a daily passenger. He used to come to Mominpur by bus and therefrom either by tram car or by bus. According to the version of the Union Shri Bhattacherjee was suddenly attacked with fever and bronchitis on the 13th September 1959, and he remained absent from office from the 14th September to the 26th September 1959. He reported himself for duty on the 27th September after he had recovered from his illness, and subsequently submitted a Medical certificate on 22nd October 1959 in support of his illness, granted by a local doctor under whose treatment he had placed himself. The Company issued a charge-sheet against Shri Bhattacherjee and held an enquiry and found him guilty of misconduct, and dismissed him with effect from 30th October 1959. It is contended by the Union that the dismissal was unjustified and mala fide, and that the employee concerned is entitled to a relief in the shape of reinstatement to his former post.

The Company in its written statement alleged that it was compelled to charge-sheet Shri Bhattacherjee for his absence without taking proper leave, and that he failed to offer any satisfactory explanation as to why he did not submit any medical certificate in due time, and that the past record of service of Shri Bhattacherjee revealed that he had been warned or punished on many occasions for similar acts of misconduct and, therefore, the Company had no other alternative but to dismiss him for misconduct which was established against him.

The only question that arises for consideration in this case is that whether the dismissal of Shri Bhattacherjee was justified. He was a lower division clerk in the Accounts Department of the Company and he remained absent from office from the 14th September to the 26th September 1959. After he had reported for duty on the 27th September 1959, an enquiry was held by the Company to ascertain the reason of absence of Shri Bhattacherjee for the aforesaid period. Exhibit Z(3) is the copy of the report of enquiry held by the Company on the 5th October 1959. It appears that Shri Bhattacherjee had sent a letter through a messenger, which was received by the Company on the 18th September, intimating the Company the fact of his illness. That such a letter had actually been sent is admitted by both the parties. But, unfortunately, the letter itself is not forthcoming. However, admittedly no Medical Certificate was furnishing by Shri Bhattacherjee in support of his contention that he was really ill. At the time of hearing, Shri Bhattacherjee stated that he could not file the Medical Certificate in time as his children were then ill and that he was in financial difficulties. Such reasons as now offered by Shri Bhattacherjee for not submitting the Medical Certificate in time appear to be absolutely flimsy. Besides, no such ground was raised in the body of the written statement by the Union. In course of the enquiry Shri Bhattacherjee admitted that he had been told on numerous occasions that any application for sick leave must be accompanied by a Medical Certificate. In fact, it is only after the preliminary departmental enquiry had been concluded by the Company, and further opportunity was offered to Shri Bhattacherjee for making any further submission as wanted by him in the letter, dated 21st October 1951 [vide Ext. Z(4)], that a medical certificate was filed as late as on the 22nd October 1959. After holding the preliminary enquiry the Company offered further opportunity to the employee concerned for submission of further evidence which could be taken into consideration before coming to the final conclusion in taking the extreme step of dismissal. The final enquiry was held on the 26th October 1959 [vide Ext. Z(6)]. It appears from the proceedings of that enquiry that the only explanation which Shri Bhattacherjee offered for his not submitting the Medical Certificate was that his brain got puzzled. Obviously that is no explanation why the employee deliberately flouted the direction of the employer that an application for medical leave should invariably be accompanied by a Medical Certificate. In fact, it is impossible to enforce discipline and smooth running of administration unless there be strictness in the matter of granting leave. It is quite true that a person may suddenly fall ill, and in such a situation prior application for leave cannot be expected. But at the same time there is no earthly reason why an employee applying for leave on account of illness should not furnish in course of his illness a certificate from a medical man in support of his statement of illness. It is contended by the learned lawyer for the Union that there is no such prescribed rule of this Company that all applications for sick leave must be accompanied by Medical Certificates. It is true that the Company has got no such written rule as to the procedure to be followed in matters of leave. But at the same time it has got to be noted that Shri Bhattacherjee admits that he had been repeatedly asked by the employer on many occasions beforehand that a Medical Certificate should be filed whenever he wanted to go on leave on account of illness. Naturally, there is no way to check the veracity of the statement as to the illness of an employee unless there be a certificate from a doctor. The system of filing Medical Certificate in case of medical leave is almost a universal procedure in all established firms and companies. Besides, this particular employee had been definitely aware that in case of sick leave a Medical Certificate was an imperative necessity. There is nothing to question that he remained absent from duty without furnishing any reliable material to support the reasons behind such absence.

The employer submitted a volume of papers showing that Shri Bhattacherjee was in the habit of absenting himself from duty without taking proper leave and that he had been definitely apprised of the consequences that would follow unless a proper application for leave, accompanied by a Medical Certificate was filed in proper time. The other alternative suggested to the employee was that he should place himself for examination by the Company's doctor. When Shri Bhattacherjee remained absent from office on the 2nd and the 3rd August 1947, the Company after enquiry strongly disapproved the action of the employee and wrote to inform him as follows:

> "We wish to place on record our extreme dissatisfaction with your practice of absenting yourself from office on the excuse of sickness without either consulting the Company's Medical Officer or producing an acceptable Medical Certificate, and hereby warn you that a repetition of this practice may have serious consequences."

Even after that in another instance he remained absent from duty from the 18th to the 30th October 1957 and as a result of enquiry which was in the shape of interrogation of Shri Bhattacherjee, the Management warned him and definitely informed him in writing what he should do in case he needed leave on medical ground. The directions are elaborately given in the letter, dated the 15th November 1957 (Ext. 1).

In 1958, Shri Bhattacherjee was absent without prior intimation or without any Medical Certificate on as many as six occasions, viz., (i) from 17th to 22nd February, (ii) 10th to 14th June, (iii) 5th July, (iv) 17th September, (v) 7th to 15th November, and (vi) 3rd to 5th December 1958. In 1959, Shri Bhattacherjee remained absent from office wthout authorised leave from 8th to 20th June 1959 and 22nd to 29th July 1959. There is also evidence to show that Shri Bhattacherjee was marked late in attendance as may as 67 times in 1952, and as many as 52 times in 1956. It therefore becomes crystal clear that Shri Bhattacherjee by his own conduct gave sufficient scope for the Management to hold that he was irresponsible and negligent in the discharge of his duties. He had been warned many times before and for similar offences his increments had been withheld in last two sucessive years, i.e., 1958 and 1959. In the circumstances I am inclined to hold that the management had sufficient reason to come to the conclusion that the employee was absolutely beyond rectification, and that such serious action against him was called for. It has been strenuously urged by the lawyer of the Union that when the employee admitted his fault, and in consideration of the serious consequence that would befall on him as a result of his dismissal in these hard days, he should have been given a punishment short of dismissal.

I do not think I should interfere with the quantum of punishment when the offence is established and when in this case there is no mitigating circumstances. In fact, the employer can legitimately refer to the past service record of an employee in dealing and deciding on the question of punishment. It is abundantly clear from the evidence that there was no want of good faith on the part of the employer. The Management gave full opportunities to the employee to put his defence, and a proper enquiry was held in an honest and bona fide manner. In the circumstances, even though the punishment has resulted in throwing the employee out of employment, I find that the employee deserved it. It is however recommended that the employee should be paid the entire money of the Provident Fund including the contribution of the Company. The employee deserves no further relief.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Tung Nan Trading Agency, 24 Chattawalla Cully; PO Bowbazar, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as the company) and their workmen represented by Calcutta Leather workers' Union, 12 Arpuli Lane, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter referred to as the union). For the Union: None.

AWARD

The above dispute was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1197-IR/IR/11L-221/60, dated the 18th March 1960, but it was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal after the abolition of the said First Labour Court and in supersession of the said previous order of reference by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 4115-IR/IR/11L-221/60, dated the 4th August 1960.

The only issue formulated in the order of reference stands thus:

"Whether dismissal of Shri Kalicharan Rana is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?"

After the receipt of the reference by this Tribunal, notices were issued to the Company and the Union fixing 12th September 1960 for appearance of the parties and filing written statement by the Union. The notices were duly served and in response to the notice the Company entered appearance on 12th September 1960. But there was no appearance by the Union and no step was also taken on its behalf. The case was then adjourned to 2nd November 1960 in order to give the Union another chance for appearing and filing written statement. But on that date too nothing was done by the Union. The case was again adjorned to 17th November 1960 in order to give the Union still another and final chance for appearing and filing written statement and it was also clearly directed that if no written statement was filed by the Union by 12 o'clock noon on 17th November 1960 the case would be taken up for ex-parte hearing The Company did not file any written statement evidently because their was no written statement of claim by the Union. On 17th November 1960 there was no appearance by the Union and the case was taken up for ex-parte hearing at 1 pm. The Company was represented at this hearing and one witness was examined and Exts. A and A1 were proved on its behalf. The Company adduced this evidence in order to prove that the workman concerned, Shri Kalicharan Rana referred to in the issue, was not really dismissed by the Company, but he volunterily left his work under the Company after taking a sum of money in full and final settlement of all his claims and renouncing any further claim against the Company. It is satisfactorily proved by OPW 1 Kim Sen and Ext. A the receipted voucher bearing the signature of Shri Kalicharan Rana, the workmen concerned, and Ext A1 the endorsement of one Shri K. C. Ram showing that the voucher was read over and explained to the workman concerned by him that the workman concerned, Shri Kali Charan Rana, was nothing more than a thika cooly on the basis of daily wages under the Company which is really a propietory firm and he voluntarily left the Company's service after taking his due wages in full and final settlement and further admitting that he had no further claim against the Company. In view of this proof, it is held that the workman concerned, Shri Kalicharan Rana, was not dismissed from his service by the Company and consequently the question of justification of his dismissal does not arise at all and he is not entitled to any relief. In the result, I award that Kalicharan Rana was not dismissed by the Company, but he voluntarily left his service after taking all his due wages in full and final settlement of all his claims against the company and so he is not entitled to any relief.

No. 6384-IR/IR/11L-231/60.—6th December 1960.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1123-IR/IR/11L-506/57, dated the 19th March 1958, the industrial dispute between Messrs Bengal Refrastories Private Ltd, PO Jamgram via Sitarampur, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Jamgram Shramik Congress, PO Jamura-Hat, district Burdwan, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order, being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Razak Khan, a workman of the said company, made a complant in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said company alleging that the said company had discharged the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Razak Khan against his employers Messrs. Bengal Refractories Private Ltd., PO Jamgram via Sitarampore, district Burdwan, in connection with Government order No. 1123-IR, dated the 19th March 1958. (Case No. 221/60.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri S. N. Banerjee, Advocate

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Razak Khan, a workman employed by Messrs Bengal Refractories Private Ltd (hereinafter referred to as the company), against the said company. A dispute between the aforesaid company and its workmen was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1123-IR, dated the 19th March 1958. In this complaint case, filed on 2nd August 1960, it is alleged by the applicant that he was an active member of the Bengal Refractories Mazdoor Union. The company did not take the formation of the Union in good grace. The company with a view to victimise the applicant suddenly served upon him an order of transfer, dated 24th June 1959, directing the applicant to join at the company's Sales Office in Calcutta with effect from the 25th June 1959, and to vacate the company's quarters. The applicant alleges that the order of transfer was passed just because of his trade union activities, and that there had never occurred in the history of the company any occasion to transfer an employee from the Jamgram Works to the Calcutta Office. After that the company wrote to the applicant on the 25th July 1959, asking him to explain why he would not be dismissed from service for not carrying out the order of transfer and for absenting himself from duty since 21st July 1959. The applicant gave a reply to the same on 27th July 1959. Thereafter the management informed the applicant on the 25th September 1959 that he had been suspended for two months, and that he would join at the Calcutta Office immediately on receipt of this letter after the suspension period had been over, failing which he would be dismissed. Thereafter again the Company wrote to inform the applicant by a letter, dated the 15th October 1959, that he would stand dismissed from service unless he joined the Calcutta Office within two days from the date of receipt of that letter. Ultimately the employer dismissed Rezak Khan.

The company has filed a written objection contending therein that this application under section 33A is not maintainable because there had been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act, as a prior application for approval of its action was filed before the Tribunal. Besides it is alleged that the applicant had deliberately disobeyed the order of his transfer to Calcutta and so they decided to dismiss him from service under the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It has got to be decided first of all, if this application under section 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act is maintainable in law. Naturally, unless there is a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the aggrieved workman has no right to move the Tribunal in the matter before whom the main case is pending. Under section 33A, the Tribunal is given jurisdiction over the matter mentioned in section 33 if only the employer had contravened its provisions during the pendency of the main adjudication proceedings before the Tribunal, by doing an act without permission or approved as required to be done before the Tribunal. In this particular case the employer had filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act on 23rd November 1959. That application of the company for approval of its action was opposed by Razak Khan, and the matter came up for hearing before me. The application under sect on 33(2)(b) was rejected by me on 13th July 1960 as I found that it was not maintainable in law. After that application is rejected this petition is filed. It appears from the record of the said case under section 33(2)(b) that it was registered on 23rd November 1959, and the first order was passed on that particular date in the order-sheet of that case. So, it clearly indicates that the application was received by the Tribunal on that very date (i.e., 23rd November 1959). It is true that the verification of that application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act, signed by Shri Bagalananda Banerjee, one of the Directors of the company, appears to be dated the 28th October 1959. Obviously, the Tribunal had no sesin over the matter prior to 23rd November 1959, which is the particular date on which the employer actually moved the Tribunal for approval of its action under section 33(2)(b) of the Act. An attempt was made during hearing, by the evidence of Shri J. Banerjee, the Liaison Officer of the company, that he had filed the application under section 33(2)(b) on the very date, i.e., 28th October 1959, when it was verified by the aforesaid Director But the witness in the cross-examination could not challenge the fact that the official seal was correctly given. No attempt was made by the parties to examine the Bench Clerk. I, therefore, hold that the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act must have been filed on 23rd November 1959 on which date the official seal was given after due registration of the case in the Register. The employer has produced a letter, marked as Ext. H dated the 30th October 1959, addressed to Razak Khan which runs as follows:

> "As you have not joined our Calcutta Office as directed and in spite of the direction contained in the above letter you are staying here, you are hereby dismissed from service.
> As proceedings are pending before the Hon'ble Fourth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act has been made before the said Hon'ble Tribunal for approval and one month's wages are being sent to you by M.O."

Razak Khan stood dismissed with effect from 30th October 1959. The employer, of course, sent a money-order for a sum of Rs. 60 to Razak Khan in November 1959 (vide Ext. I). The postal seal is not very distinct. From the evidence of the Liaison Officer it seems that the money-order was sent on the 2nd November 1959. On that very date a letter (Ext. H) was sent by registered post with acknowledgment due.

Under the proviso of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act (i) the payment of one month's wages to the workman concerned and (ii) the filing of an application to the appropriate Industrial Tribunal for its approval of the employer's action against such workman appear to be obligatory. Both these aforesaid conditions must be complied with before action is actually taken. The Division Bench of the Bombay High Court in the case of Messrs. Premier Automobiles Ltd. vs. Ramchandra Bhimayya Polkam (reported in L.L.J., Vol. 1, 1960, p. 443), clearly held after due consideration of the wordings of section 33(2)(b) that in order to bring harmony between the different words in the said section the words 'action taken' are to be construed as "action proposed to be taken". Following that decision I hold that the application filed by the employer on 23rd November 1959, after the dismissal order has already been passed, is bad in law. The learned lawyer for the company referred to the form No. M, framed under rule No. 70(2) of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules of 1958. In that form there appear the words "workman dismissed under clause B of sub-section (2) of section 33 has been paid wages for one month". It is urged that the word "dismissed" means a person already dismissed by the action of the employer, and simply an approval is necessary for the action already taken. I do not think that from a reading of the section as it is, such interpretation can be made of the wordings in the prescribed form In this consideration I hold that there was, in the eye of law, no application filed by the employer under section 33(2)(b) of the Act and, therefore, there is a contravention of the provisions of that section.

It is further urged by the employer that the provision of section 33(2)(b) was not at all attracted as there was no certified Standing Orders in respect of the industrial establishment concerned.

The decision of the Industrial Tribunal, Bombay, in the case of Anthony (K.T.) and Messrs. Good Year Tyre and Rubber Co., of India (P) Ltd, Bombay, reported in 1958, L.L.J., Vol. I, p. 377, and the decision of the Industrial Tribunal, Patiala, in the case of Messrs. New Valley View Transport (P) Ltd, Pathankot and their workmen, reported in 1960 L.L.J., Vol. 1, p. 104, support such a contention that the existence of Standing Orders is a prerequisite of the exercise of the power of dismissal of the management, and the absence of the same would take the case out of the mischief of section 33(2) of the Act. A contrary view had been taken by the Industrial Tribunal, Madras, in the case of Muruglan and others and Messrs. Pioneer Mills Ltd, Coimbatore, reported in 1959, L.L.J., Vol. I, p. 327, and by the Rajasthan High Court in the case of Mansingh and Messrs. Mewar Textile Mills Ltd, Bhilwara and another, reported in 1959, L.L.J., Vol. I, p. 687. I have carefully gone through these decisions and I hold that the absence of the Standing Orders does not confer a plenary power to the employer to proceed with the action in dismissing a workman arbitrarily. If there be Standing Orders, and the employer proceeds bona fide in accordance with the provisions of the Standing Orders, the Tribunal would approve the action proposed to be taken by the employer in dismissing the workman for misconduct unconnected with the dispute. But if there is no Standing Orders, the ban imposed under section 33(2) designed to secure status quo during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal remains all the same operative as against the employer. The employer cannot therefore take any advantage on the absence of Standing Orders which in normal course should have been maintained by this employer employing more than 100 workmen in the industrial establishment.

As I hold that there was contravention of section 33 of the Act, I now take up for consideration the merits of the case as to whether the dismissal of Razak Khan was justified. The action of the company against Razak Khan starts with the order of transfer passed on the 24th June 1959 (Ext. A). It is clearly stated in that letter, Ext. A, that the company decided to transfer Razak Khan as he was deeply engaged in agitating labourers and collecting subscriptions from them, and in spite of several warnings he was carrying on such illegal activities. Apparently, the main reasons behind the order of transfer was to remove Razak Khan to a far off place for the purpose of stopping his trade union activities. It appears from the evidence that Razak Khan did not carry out the order of transfer but he continued in his work at Jamgram Factory. The explanation offered by Razak Khan as shown in Ext. C, clearly shows that he continued his duties at the Gourandi Bungalow up to 15th July 1959, and after that at the office. The specific charge against him as made out in the orders contained in the letter, Ext. B, dated the 25th July 1959, is to the effect that he did not carry out the order of transfer. It is clear from the evidence that there was never any occasion before when a workman was transferred from the factory to the Head Office at Calcutta. Apparently, the order was passed with respect to this particular employee as the company did not like the trade union activities of Razak Khan It is, of course, within the power of management to transfer an employee from one place to another when there is need for the same. But colourable exercise by the employer of his power to transfer a workman from one establishment of his at one place to another at a different place (e.g., when the transfer of a workman is ordered with a view to victimise him) can always be the subject of an industrial dispute, and can be the subject-matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Act, if made without the previous permission of the Tribunal. Clearly, the order of transfer was passed with a view to punish the workman concerned for his trade union activities. There is nothing to show that the trade union activities in the matter of collecting subscriptions or otherwise was illegal. The action of the employer by transferring the employee for such activities and then dismissing the man for not carrying out such wrongful order cannot therefore be supported It is, therefore, directed that Razak Khan be re-instated to his old post at Jamgram Works and he be paid half of the total wages for the period of his unemployment.

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd., Chusury, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdur Union, 7 Dayaram Naskar Lane, Chusury, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-41 of 1960.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. R. GHOSH, Judge,
Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Khagen Adhikari, President, Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union.

For the Company: Shri Bhagwat Prosad Mishra.

AWARD

By order No. 498-IR/IR/8L-9/60, dated the 9th February 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd., Ghusury, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdur Union, 7 Dayaram Naskar Lane, Ghusury, Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

To what gratuity, if any, is Shri Surendranath Singh entitled for the period of his services not covered by the Contributory Provident Fund Scheme?

The reference was received by this tribunal on 18th February 1960 It relates to a dispute between the company Messrs. Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd., and its workmen represented by Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdur Union regarding gratuity payable to one of the workmen Shri Surendranath Singh. Notices were duly served upon the parties. The union filed its written statement on 16th March 1960. The company filed its written statement on 20th May 1960. After some adjournments the reference was fixed for hearing on 12th October 1960. On the latter date the parties informed this tribunal that Shri Surendranath Singh, the workman concerned in the dispute, was dead. The company intimated that it was willing to settle the dispute by paying some amount of money to the widow towards gratuity payable to her deceased husband as an ex-gratia payment on purely compassionate grounds After certain negotiations and at the suggestion of the tribunal, the company ultimately agreed to pay a sum of Rs. 300 to the widow on this account and to settle the dispute thereby. The date was finally fixed on 28th November 1960 for payment of this sum of Rs. 300 to Sjkta. Krishna Bhamini Dasi the widow of the deceased workman Surendra nath Singh.

Today (28-11-60) the President of the Union along with the widow Sjkta Krishna Bhamini Das and Shri Bhagwat Prosad Mishra on behalf of the company, appeared before this tribunal. On behal of the company a sum of Rs. 300 is paid in cash to the widow Sjkta. Krishna Bhamini Dasi, who accepts this payment and acknowledges receip which is signed by the widow with her thumb impression and by Shri Khagen Adhikari, President of the Union, in token of payment of this amount to this widow in presence of this tribunal. The receipt is handed over to Shri Mishra appearing on behalf of the company. The parties filed a joint petition setting forth all the material facts regarding payment of this amount to this widow and pray that an award may be passed in terms of the joint petition filed.

I have carefully gone through this joint petition and I allow the prayer of the parties in view of the fact that the agreed amount of Rs. 300 has been paid in cash to the widow of deceased Surendranath Singh in my presence in full settlement of the dispute under reference. I accordingly pass this award of "no dispute" in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties today and the said petition be made a part of the award as Annexure 'A'.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd.,

And

Their workmen, represented by Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdur Union. (Case No. VIII-41/60.)

The humble petition of the parties in the abovementioned dispute

Most Respectfully Sheweth:

1. That the workman concerned Shri Surendra Singh is dead.

2. That the company, at the suggestion of the Tribunal, has agreed to pay to the widow of the deceased a sum of Rupees Three hundred only towards gratuity and ex-gratia payment on purely compassionate ground.

3. That the union in the above circumstances does not want to proceed with the matter.

4. That the widow of the deceased has agreed to accept the relief as mentioned above.

5. That the payment of the sum of Rupees Three hundred only has been accepted by the widow of the deceased and a receipt is granted to the company in token of the payment.

The parties therefore pray that the case may be disposed of and an award may be passed.

AWARD

The above industrial dispute relating particularly to the alleged termination of employment of

Shewdulal Pandey by the Company, its justifiability and the relief, if any, to which he is entitled was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1341-I.R./IR/11L-230/60, dated the 28th March 1960, but the dispute was subsequently referred to this Tribunal for adjudication after the abolition of the said First Labour Court and in supersession of the said previous order of reference by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3685-I.R./IR/11L-230/60, dated the 20th July 1960. The only issue formulated for decision in the schedule to the order of reference stands thus:—

(1) Whether the termination of employment of Shri Shewdulal Pandey is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The relevant case of the Union as stated in the written statement is as follows:—

The workman referred to in the schedule was in the employ of the firm Messrs. Mahadeolal Nathmall, for a long time since his boyhood and his salary was gradually raised to Rs. 65 per month. He was a permanent employee and was discharging his duties honestly, diligently and faithfully. In the last week of May 1959, the workman got two months' leave from the Company in order to perform the marriage ceremony of his daughter and he went home on this leave It was the practice of the Company to grant him leave for two months after every two or three years whenever he used to go to his native country to see his family members. His home is in U.P. After performing the marriage ceremony of his daughter the workman returned to Calcutta on 15th July 1959 before the expiry of the period of leave and on 16th July 1959 he went to his work at the office of the Company but he was not allowed to join his duties and was told by the proprietor that his service was no longer required. His service was thus terminated without even paying him some back wages then due. No reason for such termination of his service was communicated to him and no charge-sheet was submitted and no enquiry was held. No written order of dismissal was also given. After this the workman informed his Union and Union took up his cause and tried for effecting an amicable settlement and then conciliation through the office of the Labour Commissioner, but all attempts in these directions failed. The Union claims reinstatement of the workman concerned with all back wages due up to the date of his reinstatement.

In reply to the above case of the Union, the Company pleaded in its written statement that in May 1959 the workman concerned asked for one month's leave which was sanctioned with effect from 29th May 1959 with full pay and at that time he was also given Rs. 200 as loan at his request on the condition that this amount would be deducted subsequently from his salary but the workman concerned did not join his service after the expiry of the leave nor did he give any intimation to the Company and subsequently in October 1959 the Company came to know that this workman was working in another commercial firm situated in the same building with this Company and in view of this position the Company decided to terminate his service as the worker concerned left his job voluntarily and without giving any intimation to the Company. The advance of Rs. 200 made to the workman when he went on leave was said to be still due and unpaid.

The case was finally heard ex-parte on 11th November 1960, the date to which it was adjourned for hearing from 16th September 1960, the first date fixed for hearing after the Company filed its written statement, on the Company's prayer, because on the last adjourned date, no appearance was made on behalf of the Company and no step was taken though the Union was ready for the hearing of the case with its lawyer and witnesses. The Tribunal waited till 12 noon for appearance, if any, on behalf of the Company but still no appearance was made on its behalf and then the case was taken up for ex-parte hearing.

At the ex-parte hearing the Union examined P.W. 1 Shri Ram Chandra Pandey, the office Secretary of the Union, and P.W. 2 Shri Shewdulal Pandey, the workman concerned. It was proved by the unchallenged testimony of P.W. 1 Shri Ram Chandra Pandey, the office Secretary, that the workman concerned, Shew Dulal Pandey, was an employee of the Company as Jamadar for collection of bills on a monthly pay of Rs. 65 and in the middle of July he complained to the Union that he went home on leave in the last week of May but after return from the leave he was not allowed to join his service and some back wages were due to him at that time and upon his complaint the Union took up his cause and made attempts for amicable settlement and then conciliation through the Labour Commissioner's Office, but all these attempts failed. P.W. 2 Shri Shewdulal Pandey, the workman concerned, proved by his unchallenged testimony that he was an old employee of the Company for about 30 years and starting on a monthly pay of Rs. 5 he rose to the monthly pay of Rs. 65 per month and was working as Jamadar on this pay and in May 1959 he was granted 1½ months' leave for performing his daughter's marriage at home in U.P. and so he went home and after coming back on the 15th July 1959 when he went to join his duties under the Company he was not allowed to do so and was refused employment verbally and he was not told why he was being dismissed and no charge of any offence was made against him and there was also no enquiry regarding any charge against him. He also proved that he then approached the Union which took up his cause and all efforts of amicable settlement and conciliation made by the Union failed. He further testified that he was granted leave on full pay according to the practice of the Company. There is no reason why the aforesaid evidence of the workman concerned regarding the circumstances under which he was not permitted to rejoin his duties after coming back from leave granted by the Company, which practically amounted to his summary dismissal without assigning any reason and without any charge and enquiry, should not be believed and accepted. The manner of his dismissal, according to his evidence, was certainly unjustified and upon the evidence it cannot but be said that the Company acted quite arbitrarily and in a highhanded manner and also with a mala fide motive in so terminating his service by refusing to allow him to rejoin his duties after the expiry of his sanctioned leave. Accordingly I accept the Union's case and hold that the termination of employment of the workman concerned by the Company was absolutely unjustified.

As to the reliefs, his prayers are for reinstatement and full back wages for the period commencing from the unjustified termination of his employment up-to-date. I do not see any reason why he should not be reinstated to his service on the terms on which he held it before the unjustified dismissal. So I would allow this prayer. But with regard to back wages, in view of his admission that he is doing some temporary work from time to time after dismissal by this Company, which shows that he is not absolutely without employment after the dismissal and he is actually earning something after the dismissal, I think that a lump sum compensation of Rs. 50 in lieu of full back wages would be quite sufficient to meet the ends of justice in the present case. I would allow such back wages to him.

In the result I decide the issue in favour of the Union in the manner indicated above and award that the workman concerned be reinstated to his service under the Company on the same terms and conditions on which he was holding it at the time of unjustified termination of his employment, within a month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette" on his reporting for rejoining his duties under the Company within the said period, and he do also get a compensation of Rs. 50 in lieu of back wages from the Company within the said period of one month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

The award is made ex-parte and this case is disposed of accordingly.

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Hanuman Foundries Ltd. and their workmen was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 2672-I.R., dated 22nd June 1959. During the pendency of that reference the above complainants filed complaints under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act against the above Company before that Tribunal. That Tribunal, as authorised by Government of West Bengal notification No. 1916-I.R., dated 13th May 1958, transferred the above complaints to the Second Labour Court on 10th February 1960 for disposal.

Decision

All the above cases arising out of the above complaints were fixed on 31st August 1960 for fixing a date of hearing. On that date the complainants filed petitions to the effect that they would not proceed with the cases. So I hold that there are no complaints under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act in the above cases.

Hindusthan Motors Ltd., Hind Motors, P.O. Uttarpara, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Hind Motor Employees' Union, P.O. Uttarpara, district Hooghly, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an inudstrial dispute existing between Messrs. Hindusthan Motors Ltd., Hind Motors, P.O. Uttarpara, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Hind Motor Employees' Union, P.O. Uttar para, district Hooghly. (Case No. VIII-161 of 1959.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri S. K. Bose, Counsel, and Shri K. P. Mukherji, Solicitor of Messrs. Khaitan & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the Union: Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate.

By Government order No. 4441-I.R./IR/10L-149/58, dated the 12th September 1959, the above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of only issue, viz., "House rent allowance". The Union filed written statement on 19th January 1960 and Messrs. Hindusthan Motors Ltd., to be hereafter referred to as the Company, filed their written statement on 5th April 1960. The case was heard on 29th November 1960 and both parties examined one witness each and the argument was concluded on that date.

The Company is an automobile industry started in 1942, but it actually commenced manufacture in 1949. At present it employs about 4,000 workmen in its automobile division besides several casual workers. The dispute relates to these 4,000 workers. The Company has its factory at Uttarpara in the district of Hooghly, and it has built certain quarters for the accommodation of its workmen. These quarters are let out to workmen on certain rates of rent per month. There is some difference in the evidence as to how many of its 4,000 permanent workmen have been accommodated in these quarters, the evidence of the Company's Personnel Officer being that between 1,800 and 2,000 permanent workmen have been so accomodated. The witness for the Union, however, stated that not more than 700 people had been allotted quarters. He is not, however, expected to know the real position, and he admitted that the Personnel Officer of the Company who was in charge of allotment of quarters was in a position to give the correct figure. In the circumstances I accept the Company's evidence on the point. The Company is also building new quarters and it is admitted on both sides that 96 new quarters are almost ready and would soon be allotted to workmen of the Company. I have also been assured by Shri S. K. Bose, Counsel, on behalf of the Company that the Company has an intention to build more quarters so as to eventually accommodate all the wormen.

Though the issue referred for adjudication relates to house rent allowance only, the written statement of the Union does not really contain any demand for such allowance. The Union's grievances are that the workers are suffering badly for want of accommodation, that the rents charged by the Company are high, that the Company does not keep the quarters under proper repair and that the sanitary and water-supply arrangements require improvement. The prayer in the written statement is that the Company should provide for free quarters for low paid workmen and should be directed to reduce the existing rates of rent by 50 per cent. or grant suitable house rent allowance. It is also stated that the Company has been financially assisted by the Central Government for the betterment of housing conditions and for building 800 rooms which it has not yet done, and a prayer has been made that the Company should be directed to build more quarters. In his evidence the Assistant Secretary of the Union made further grievances that there was no fixed procedure for allotment of accommodation and that the management indulges in favouritism in the matter of allotment of quarters.

The above allegations and grievances of the Union have been denied by the Company and it has also been denied that the Company has received any aid from the Central Government for providnig housing accommodation to the workmen or for building 800 rooms. Actually none of the grievances detailed above falls for consideration within the ambit of the issue referred for adjudication. The issue simply is whether any house rent allowance should be provided and as to that, as already stated, the Union has submitted nothing in its written statement and no case for house rent allowance has been made out by the evidence. The Company does not provide free quarters for any of its workmen so that a claim for house rent allowance may be advanced on behalf of the workmen who are not so provided. The Company provides quarters and charges rent therefor. In the circumstances provision of quarters for some cannot be made a ground for claiming house rent allowance on behalf of the rest so long as they are not provided with quarters. According to the prayer in the Union's written statement, the Company should be directed to reduce the existing rates of rent or grant suitable house rent allowance. this means that the claim for house rent allowance has actually been made for those who have been provided with quarters on the alleged ground of high rates of rent charged from them. But the Union's witness did not refer to the rates of rent at all and did not even suggest that they were high. so this ground also fails. No indication has also been given as to the kind of allowance claimed and no amount or standard has been mentioned either in the written statement of the Union or in the evidence of its witness. In the circumstances, the Uunion's claim must naturally fail.

In the case of Patna Electricity Supply Company, reported in 16 F.J.R. 210 the Supreme Court observed that housing accommodation of industrial labour is the primary responsibility of the State and that in the present economic condition of our industries it would be inexpedient to impose on the employers the obligation to provide housing accommodation for their employees. It was further observed that a scheme of wages properly fixed necessarily takes into account house rent amongst other relevant facts and that under a proper scheme of dearness allowance adjustments can be made when necessary from time to time so as to take into account an appreciable rise in the rents which industrial labour may have to pay. So far as the present industry is concerned, there has recently been an award by the present Tribunal to which the present Union was also a party. By that award which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of June 23, 1960, it was found that the Company was an engineering industry and the award of the Third Major Engineering Industries Tribunal was enforced on it in fixing certain wage scales and dearness allowance. The said award of the Third Major Engineering Industries Tribual which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated November 5, 1958, shows that in fixing the minimum wages the cost of housing accommodation was also taken into consideration. So when the workmen of this industry have been awarded the minimum wages and dearness allowance as fixed by the aforesaid award house rent should also be deemed to have been taken into account in arriving at such rates of wages and dearness allowance. There is no evidence that any engineering industry pays house rent allowance in addition to the rates of wages and dearness allowance, awarded by the Third Major Engineering Industries Tribunal, to apart from the fact that the grievances mentioned in the written statement of the Union and in the evidence of the Union's witness are not relevant to the issue under reference, on the authority of the above decision of the Supreme Court the Tribunal cannot impose on the Company an obligation to provide housing accommodation for all the employees. The Company has however, provided, as already stated, housing accommodation for nearly half of the employees and intends to extend accommodation further in future. That ought to have satisfied the grievances of the Union. The procedure for providing housing accommodation according to the length of service and priority of application for such accommodation which is followed by the Company, as stated by its Personnel Officer, cannot also be taken exception to. Besides, a large number of workmen are local people living in their homes nearby, and there is no suggestion that housing accommodation is not available to others who are not local people. The industry is not situated in Calcutta and there cannot be any difficulty of housing accommodation in the region where the factory is situated. At least no evidence has been given to that effect. In the cirrumstances the claim of the Union must be and is hereby rejected.

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Electro Plastic Manufacturing Corporation, 278 G. T. Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, 182 Belilious Road, Howrah. (Case No. VIII—372/60.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

An industrial disputes between Messrs. Electro Plastic Manufacturing Corporation, 278 G. T. Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, 182 Belilious Road, Howrah, over the following issues, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3908-I.R./IR/10L-9/59, dated the 26th July 1960.

Issues

(1) Whether the retrenchment of the following workmen is justified?

(a) Shri Dwipen Kumar Ghose.

(b) Shri Biswanath Bagchi.

(c) Shri Arun Bhattacharjee.

(d) Shri Ram Agyan Singh.

(2) What relief including reinstatement are they entitled to?

AWARD

After service of usual notices for appearance and for filing written statements by the parties on 14th September 1960, the Company appeared through their Manager, Shri N. C. Das, who authorised some official by name to represent the Company before the Tribunal. Neither the Union nor the workmen did turn up. On 22nd November 1960 an application was filed by Shri Anadi Das, described as the President of the Union, wherein it is stated that the matter has been amicably compromised between the parties and for this the workmen do not like to proceed with the case any further. Be that as it is, the position is that the Union does not want to proceed with the dispute for which I take it that the dispute does not exist at the moment. An award of "no dispute" is therefore passed.

No. 6452-I.R./IR/4L-65/60. - 8th December 1960.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4722-I.R./IR/4L-65/60, dated the 7th September 1960, the industrial dispute between Shri Bhutnath Mandal, village Chaitanyapur, P.O. Barabasudevpur, district Midnapore, and his workmen represented by Tamluk Motor Workers' Union, Tamluk, Midnapore, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

Shri P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: None.

Present for the Union: Shri Lakshmi Narayan Maity, Secretary of the Union.

By Government order No. 4722-I.R./IR/4L-65/60, dated the 7th September 1960, the above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of only one issue, viz., Whether the termination of employment of Shri Nandalal Maity is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Notices were issued to the Union and the Company, and on 18th November 1960 the Secretary of the Union appeared and filed a petition stating that the dispute had been amicably settled between the parties. A copy of the terms of settlement was also filed. The employer, Shri Bhutnath Mandal has not, however, appeared, and the original agreement has not also been filed. So no award can be passed on the basis of the alleged settlement. Since, however, the Union states that the dispute has been settled it should be taken that the dispute is in existence. An award is made accordingly.

By Government order No. 2326-I.R./IR/10L-106/60, dated the 12th May 1960, the above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of two issues, viz.:—

(1) What should be the cadre of permanent, temporary and casual workmen and apprentices in the factory?

(2) Whether periodical break in the continuity of employment in the name of renewal of employment contract is justified? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

Notices were served on the parties and the Union appeared on 22nd June 1960 and took time for filing written statement. No written statement was, however, filed and there was no further appearance on behalf of the Union. Special notice was sent to the Union but without any effect. The employer Company also did not appear. In the circumstances it must be taken that the disputes referred for adjudication is no longer in existence, and I make an award accordingly.

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by their order No. 43-I.R., dated 5th January 1960, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ganesh Talkies and their workmen to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. During the pendency of that dispute Sarbasri Asit Lahiri and Karmadeo Singh filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act against the above company before the above Tribunal on 23rd July 1960. That very day, that Tribunal, as authorised under Government notification No. 1916-I.R., dated 13th May 1958, transferred the complaint to this Court for disposal.

Findings

The case was fixed on 11th October 1960, for filing of written statement by the Company. On that day both the parties filed a joint petition of settlement. The terms of settlement are fair. So I accept them. The petition of settlement, annexed herewith, will form a part of the award.

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri K K. Maitra, Labour Adviser.

For the Union: Shri Hrishikesh Banerjee.

By order No. 4168-I.R./IR/11L-326/58, dated Calcutta, the 1st October 1958, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Butto Kristo Paul and Co. (Private) Ltd. and their workmen represented by Butto Kristo Paul and Co. Ltd., Employees' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue mentioned in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the laying-off followed by termination of services of the employees named below is justified?—

(1) Shri Benoy Krishna Das.

(2) Shri Sailendra Nath Bose.

Shri Benoy Krishna Das, one of the two employees mentioned in the issue in the order of reference, did not appear before me, nor did the Union adduce any evidence about his laying off or the termination of his service. So I hold that there is no industrial dispute so far as he is concerned. So the present dispute relates to Shri Sailendra Nath Bose, the other employee mentioned in the issue. The case of the Union in relation to Shri Sailendra Nath Bose is as follows:

Messrs. Butto Kristo Paul and Co. (Private) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the company) were originally a partnership firm; in the year 1935 this partnership firm was transformed into a private limited company. Shri Sailendra Nath Bose was appointed by the Partnership Firm in 1922. In 1935 his services were taken over by the private limited company without any break in his service. He was an employee in the Optical Department of the company. For a long time the employees in the Optical Department of the company were not being paid their wages regularly. In the month of March 1958, Shri Sailendra Nath Bose whose salary was in arrear for 7 months then demanded payment of his salary; but the company instead of paying up his dues issued a letter, dated 15th March 1958, pretending to lay him off. The company asked him to sign the attendance register every day during the period of such lay-off. He pointed out to the company that such lay-off was unjustified; but the company remained silent over the matter. He however continued to sign the attendance register regularly from the time of lay-off. One day towards the end of the month of Ashar following he was asked not to sign the attendance register. During this period of lay-off he requested the management to pay up his arrear salary and lay-off compensation. But he was told that as the Union had referred the matter to the Labour Directorate the matter would be decided there. He was not allowed to resume work since the lay-off. The Union therefore contends that the lay-off of Shri Sailendra Nath Bose and the subsequent termination of his service are unjustified.

The case of the company, on the other hand, as stated in its written statement, in brief, is as follows:

The company has fallen into extremely bad days and is now carrying on its business with utmost difficulty. So it had to retrench some staff. There were three mechanics including Shri Sailendra Nath Bose in the Optical Department of the company. As there was not sufficient work in the Optical Department, the company decided to retrench two of the mechanics. It selected Shri Benoy Krishna Das on account of superannuation and Shri Sailendra Nath Bose as being the juniormost in the category of mechanics. Shri Sailendra Nath Bose however approached the management and requested them to lay him off for the time being so that he could resume work when the condition of the business of the company allowed this. Accordingly, the management laid him off, i.e., put him on leave without pay; but the management made it a condition that he must sign the attendance register daily so that he could be informed immediately whenever there was any necessity for his service. Shri Sailendra Nath Bose accordingly signed the attendance register for about 3 months and thereafter stopped coming to the office. So the company contends that the laying-off of Shri Sailendra Nath Bose is justified and that his service automatically came to an end due to his failure to attend the office.

On the eve of the hearing of the case the company filed an affidavit stating that the Union which has raised the present industrial dispute, viz., Butto Kristo Paul and Co. Ltd. Employees' Union is no longer in existence and contending that as such this is not an industrial dispute. At the time of argument Shri K. K. Maitra appearing for the company has argued that this is a case of retrenchment and as such is a matter specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act. So he has argued that this Court has no jurisdiction to adjudicate on this dispute.

Findings

I take up first the two preliminary objections raised by the company. As to whether this is a case of retrenchment, the order of reference does not say that this is a case of retrenchment. Neither the Union nor the company in their respective written statements or in the evidence adduced by them respectively have said that this a case of retrenchment. Shri K. K. Maitra has drawn my attention to paragraph 12 of an affidavit, dated 17th June 1960 of the Secretary of the Union. Therein the Secretary says; "Further I say the lay-off and subsequent retrenchment are void as the company failed to pay the lay-off compensation as well as retrenchment compensation". The reading of the entire affidavit will make it clear that the Secretary of the Union does not admit this to be a case of retrenchment. As no charge-sheet was issued to Shri Sailendra Nath Bose nor was any cause shown for the termination of his service, the Secretary of the Union guessed that this might be a case of retrenchment. So the sentence quoted by me above cannot be taken to be an admission on the part of the Union of this case being a case of retrenchment. Moreover, there can be no admission leading to estoppel on point of law. As to whether this is a case of retrenchment or not will depend on the evidence adduced before me about the merits of this case. As will appear when I discussed the evidence about the merits of the case, this is not a case of retrenchment.

As to the objection whether is is an industrial dispute, the company has produced a letter to the management purported to have been signed by 90 employees of the company; therein they have stated that they are no longer members of the Union. Even if this letter is taken to represent the true state of affair, it does not say that the signatories were not members of the Union at the crucial time, i.e., at the time when the dispute was raised. Even as to the present state of affair, O.P.W. 3 states even in his examination-in-chief that there are about 200 employees at the Head Office building of the company. So even now a majority of the employees of the company are members of the Union. So I reject the objection of the company that this is not an industrial dispute.

I now enter into the merits of the case. The main point in the case of the company is that the management laid-off Shri Sailendra Nath Bose at his request; but this suggestion was not put to him when he was before me at the witness box. It is admitted that the company is not an industrial establishment but a commercial establishment. So there is no provision for lay-off in such an establishment. So lay-off of employees in such an establishment is mala fide and even illegal. Hence even it be admitted that Shri Sailendra Nath Bose requested the management to lay him off, such a request cannot validate an illegal action. Further it is on evidence that Shri Sailendra Nath Bose was complaining to the Shops and Establishments Directorate against the company for non-payment of his salary. Obviously the company could not take this in good grace. So I hold that the laying-off of Shri Sailendra Nath Bose is only a trick played by the company on a helpless employee ignorant of the implications of law. There is also no evidence to show that Shri Sailendra Nath Bose stopped signing the attendance register during the period of so-called lay-off. If it is believed that he was laid off at his own request, it is not understood why he should stop signing the attendance register during the period of lay-off. So I believe the statement that one day towards the end of Ashar he was asked not to sign the attendance register. This is virtually termination of his service. The company has not tried to show any reason why his service has been terminated.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that the lay-off followed by the termination of the service of Shri Sailendra Nath Bose is unjustified. In view of what has transpired in evidence, specially, in view of the bad financial position of the company I do not order his reinstatement. I order that the company shall pay him a compensation of Rs. 500 and all his arrear salary up to 14th March 1958. This order shall take effect within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the same form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(3) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 (for each category of posts) in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(4) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(5) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(6) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or statutory body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fees should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

B. K. SINHA, Secretary.
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

PART V—Acts of the Parliament of India assented to by the President and Ordinance promulgated by the President

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

(Legislative Department)

The following Act of Parliament received the assent of the President on the 27th February 1960, and is hereby published for general information:—

ACT 2 OF 1960

THE DISPLACED PERSONS (COMPENSATION AND REHABILITATION) AMENDMENT ACT, 1960

[27th February 1960.]

An Act further to amend the Displaced Persons (Compensation and Rehabilitation) Act, 1954.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Eleventh Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Displaced Persons (Compensation and Rehabilitation) Amendment Act, 1960.

Amendment of section 2.

2. In section 2 of the Displaced Persons (Compensation and Rehabilitation) Act, 1954 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act),—

(i) in clause (d), after sub-clause (iii), the following sub-clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(iiia) any dues payable, whether in one lump sum or in instalments, to a co-operative society, registered as such under any law for the time being in force, by the displaced person on account of loans granted to him by the co-operative society, where such loans have been granted out of funds placed at the disposal of the co-operative society by the Central Government or a State Government and such dues have been declared by the Central Government, by notification in the Official Gazette, to be public dues;";

(ii) in clause (e), for the words, brackets and figures "East Punjab Refugees (Registration of Claims) Act, 1948" the words, brackets and figures "East Punjab Refugees (Registration of Land Claims) Act, 1948" shall be, and shall be deemed always to have been, substituted.

Amendment of section 3.

3. In section 3 of the principal Act,—

(i) in sub-section (1), for the words "a Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioner and as many Settlement Commissioners", the words "and as many Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioners, Settlement Commissioners" shall be substituted;

(ii) in sub-section (2), for the words, "the Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioner and all Settlement Commissioners", the words "all Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioners, Settlement Commissioners", shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 19.

4. In section 19 of the principal Act, after sub-section (3), the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4) Where a managing officer or a managing corporation is satisfied that any person, whether by way of allotment or lease, is, or has at any time been, in possession of any evacuee property acquired under this Act to which he was not entitled, or which was in excess of that to which he was entitled, under the law under which such allotment or lease was made or granted, then, without prejudice to any other action which may be taken against that person, the managing officer or the managing corporation may, having regard to such principles of assessment of rent as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government, by order, assess the rent payable in respect of such property and that person shall be liable to pay the rent so assessed for the period for which the property remains or has remained in his possession:

Provided that no such order shall be made without giving to the person concerned a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(5) Where any person is, or has at any time been, in unauthorised possession of any evacuee property acquired under this Act, the managing officer or the managing corporation may, having regard to such principles of assessment of damages as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government, assess the damages on account of the use and occupation of such property and may, by order, require that person to pay the damages within such time and in such instalments as may be specified in the order:

Provided that no such order shall be made without giving to the person concerned a reasonable opportunity of being heard.".

Amendment of section 20.

5. In section 20 of the principal Act, after sub-section (1), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1A) For the purpose of transferring any property out of the compensation pool under sub-section (1), it shall be lawful for the managing officer or the managing corporation to transfer the same to a displaced person jointly with any other person or an association of displaced persons or otherwise."

Insertion of new section 20B.

6. After section 20A of the principal Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Restrictions on restoration of certain property.

"20B. (1) Where any person is entitled to the restoration of any property by virtue of an order made by the Custodian-General under section 27 of the Administration of Evacuee Property Act, 1950, or by the competent officer or the appellate officer under the Evacuee Interest Separation Act, 1951, and the Central Government is of opinion that it is not expedient or practicable to restore the whole or any part of such property to that person by reason of the property or part thereof being in occupation of a displaced person or otherwise, then, notwithstanding anything contained in the said Acts or this Act, it shall be lawful for the Central Government—

(a) to transfer to that person in lieu of the property to be restored or any part thereof, any immovable property in the compensation pool or any part thereof, being in the opinion of the Central Government as nearly as may be of the same value as the property to be restored or, as the case may be, any part thereof, or

(b) to pay to that person such amount in cash from the compensation pool in lieu of the property to be restored or part thereof, as the Central Government having regard to the value of the property to be restored or part thereof, may in the circumstances deem fit.

(2) Where in pursuance of sub-section (1) any person has been granted any immovable property from the compensation pool or has been paid any amount in cash from the compensation pool, his right, title and interest in the property to be restored shall be deemed to have been extinguished.".

Amendment of section 26.

7. In section 26 of the principal Act, after sub-section (1), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1A) Every officer appointed under this Act may, for the purpose of making an inquiry under this Act and generally for the purpose of enabling him satisfactorily to discharge any of the duties imposed on him by or under this Act, require any person to submit to him such accounts, books or other documents or to furnish to him such information relating to any evacuee property acquired under this Act as he may reasonably think necessary.".

Amendment of section 31.

8. In section 31 of the principal Act, after sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5) If at any time the Central Government is of opinion that the continued existence of the Board is unnecessary, it may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that the Board shall be dissolved with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification and the Board shall be deemed to be dissolved accordingly.".

Amendment of section 34.

9. In section 34 of the principal Act, in sub-section (2), for the words "the Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioner", the words "a Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioner" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 40.

10. In section 40 of the principal Act,—

(a) in sub-section (2),—

(i) after clause (h), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(hh) the manner in which any dispute as to who are the successors-in-interest of any deceased claimant to a rehabilitation grant or other grant, and as to the apportionment of such grant among persons entitled thereto, may be determined";

(ii) after clause (n), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(nn) the fees payable in respect of appeals, revisions or other applications made under this Act;";

(b) for sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(3) Every rule made under this section shall be laid as soon as may be after it is made before each House of Parliament while it is in session for a period of thirty days which may be comprised in one session or in two successive sessions and if, before the expiry of the session in which it is so laid or the session immediately following, both Houses agree in making any modification in the rule, or both Houses agree that the rule should not be made, the rule shall thereafter have effect only in such modified form or be of no affect, as the case may be, so however, that any such modification or annulment shall be without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done under that rule.".

Validation of certain action taken.

11. (1) Any fees in respect of appeals, revisions or other applications which, before the commencement of this Act, have been levied under the Displaced Persons (Compensation and Rehabilitation) Act, 1954, shall be deemed to have been validly levied, as if this Act and the amendments made thereby were in force when such fees had been levied. 44 of 1954.

(2) No order made, no action taken and nothing done before the commencement of this Act by any person exercising the powers of a Deputy Chief Settlement Commissioner shall be invalid or shall be deemed ever to have been invalid merely by reason of any defect in, or invalidity of, the appointment of such person and such appointment shall be deemed to have been validly made, as if this Act and the amendments made thereby were in force on the date of such appointment.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

(Legislative Department)

The following Act of Parliament received the assent of the President on the 12th March 1960, and is hereby published for general information:—

THE GENEVA CONVENTIONS ACT, 1960

[12th March 1960.]

An Act to enable effect to be given to certain international Conventions done at Geneva on the twelfth day of August 1949, to which India is a party, and for purposes connected therewith.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Eleventh Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

CHAPTER I

PRELIMINARY

1. (1) This Act may be called the Geneva Conventions Act, 1960. Short title, extent and commencement.

(2) It extends to the whole of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,— Definitions.

(a) "Conventions" means the Conventions set out in the Schedules; and the First Convention, the Second Convention, the Third Convention and the Fourth Convention mean the Conventions set out in the first, Second, Third and the Fourth Schedules, respectively;

(b) "court" does not include a court-martial or military court;

(c) "protected internee" means a person protected by the Fourth Convention and interned in India;

(d) "protecting power", in relation to a protected internee or a protected prisoner of war, means the power or organisation which is carrying out, in the interest of the power of which he is a national or of whose forces he is or was at any material time a member, the duties assigned to protecting powers under the Third Convention or, as the case may be, the Fourth Convention;

(e) "protected prisoner of war" means a person protected by the Third Convention.

CHAPTER II

PUNISHMENT OF OFFENDERS AGAINST CONVENTIONS

3. (1) If any person within or without India commits or attempts to commit, or abets or procures the commission by any other person of, a grave breach of any of the Conventions he shall be punished— Punishment of grave breaches of conventions.

(a) where the offence involves the wilful killing of a person protected by any of the Conventions, with death or with imprisonment for life; and

(b) in any other case, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years.

(2) Sub-section (1) applies to persons regardless of their nationality or citizenship.

(3) For the purposes of this section,—

(a) a grave breach of the First Convention is a breach of that Convention involving an act referred to in article 50 of that Convention committed against persons or property protected by that Convention;

(b) a grave breach of the Second Convention is a breach of that Convention involving an act referred to in article 51 of that Convention committed against persons or property protected by that Convention;

(c) a grave breach of the Third Convention is a breach of that Convention involving an act referred to in article 130 of that Convention committed against persons or property protected by that Convention; and

(d) a grave breach of the Fourth Convention is a breach of that Convention involving an act referred to in article 147 of that Convention committed against persons or property protected by that Convention.

Liability of persons for offences committed outside India.

4. When an offence under this Chapter is committed by any person outside India, he may be dealt with in respect of such offence as if it had been committed at any place within India at which he may be found.

Jurisdiction of court.

5. No court inferior to that of a chief presidency magistrate or a Court of Session shall try any offence punishable under this Chapter.

Proof of application of Convention.

6. If in any proceeding under this Chapter in respect of a grave breach of any of the Conventions a question arises under article 2 of that Convention (which relates to the circumstances in which the Convention applies), a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to the Government of India certifying to any matter relevant to that question shall be conclusive evidence of the matter so certified.

Jurisdiction of courts-martial.

7. The Army Act, 1950, the Air Force Act, 1950, or the Navy Act, 1957, relating to trial by court-martial of persons who commit civil offences shall have effect for the purposes of the jurisdiction of courts-martial as if this Chapter had not been passed. 46 of 1950. 45 of 1950. 62 of 1957.

CHAPTER III

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS IN RESPECT OF PROTECTED PERSONS

Notice of trial of protected persons to be served on protecting power, etc.

8. (1) The court before which—

(a) a protected prisoner of war is brought up for trial for any offence; or

(b) a protected internee is brought up for trial for an offence for which that court has power to sentence him to death or to imprisonment for a term of two years or more, shall not proceed with the trial until it is proved to the satisfaction of the court that a notice containing the particulars mentioned in the next following sub-section, so far as they are known to the prosecutor, has been served not less than three weeks previously on the protecting power (if there is a protecting power) and, if the accused is a protected prisoner of war, on the accused and the prisoners' representative.

(2) The particulars referred to in the foregoing sub-section are—

(a) the full name and description of the accused, including the date of his birth and his profession or trade, if any, and, if the accused is a protected prisoner of war, his rank and arm, regimental, personal or serial number;

(b) his place of detention, internment or residence;

(c) the offence with which he is charged; and

(d) the court before which the trial is to take place and the time and place appointed for the trial.

(3) For the purposes of this section a document purporting—

(a) to be signed on behalf of the protecting power or by the prisoners' representative or by the person accused, as the case may be; and

(b) to be an acknowledgment of the receipt by that power, representative or person on a specified day of a notice described therein as a notice under this section, shall, unless the contrary is shown, be sufficient evidence that the notice required by sub-section (1) was served on that power, representative or person on that day.

(4) In this section, the expression "prisoners' representative" in relation to a particular protected prisoner of war at a particular time means the person by whom the functions of prisoners' representative within the meaning of article 79 of the Third Convention were exercisable in relation to that prisoner at the camp of place at which that prisoner was, at or last before that time, detained as a protected prisoner of war.

(5) Any court which adjourns a trial for the purpose of enabling the requirements of this section to be complied with may, notwithstanding anything in any other law, authorise the detention of the accused in such custody as it may think fit for the period of the adjournment.

Legal representation of certain persons.

9. (1) The court before which—

(a) any person is brought up for trial for an offence under section 3 of this Act; or

(b) a protected prisoner of war is brought up for trial for any offence, shall not proceed with the trial unless—

(i) the accused is represented by a legal practitioner; and

(ii) it is proved to the satisfaction of the court that a period of not less than fourteen days has elapsed since instructions for the representation of the accused at the trial were first given to the legal practitioner, and if the court adjourns the trial for the purpose of enabling the requirements of this sub-section to be complied with, then, notwithstanding anything in any other law, the Court may authorise the detention of the accused in such custody as it may think fit for the period of the adjournment.

(2) Where the accused is a protected prisoner of war in the absence of a legal practitioner accepted by the accused as representing him, the legal practitioner instructed by the purpose on behalf of the protecting power shall, without prejudice to the requirements of clause (ii) of the foregoing sub-section, be regarded for the purposes of that sub-section as representing the accused,

(3) If the court adjourns the trial in pursuance of sub-section (1) by reason that the accused is not represented by a legal practitioner, the court shall direct that a legal practitioner be assigned to watch over the interests of the accused at any further proceedings in connection with the offence, and at any such further proceedings, in the absence of a legal practitioner either accepted by the accused as representing him or instructed as mentioned in the last foregoing sub-section, the legal practitioner assigned in pursuance of this sub-section shall, without prejudice to the requirements of clause (ii) of sub-section (1), be regarded for the purposes of that sub-section as representing the accused.

(4) A legal practitioner shall be assigned in pursuance of sub-section (3) in such manner as may be provided in the rules made under this Act or, in the absence of provisions in the rules, as the court directs, and the legal practitioner so assigned shall be entitled to such fees as may be provided in the rules made under this Act.

Appeals by protected prisoners of war and internees.

10. (1) Where a protected prisoner of war or a protected internee has been sentenced by a court to death or to imprisonment for a term of two years or more, any time allowed in relation to the institution of an appeal against the conviction or sentence shall be deemed to continue to run until the day on which the convicted person receives a notice given,—

(a) in the case of a protected prisoner of war—by an officer in the Armed Forces; or

(b) in the case of a protected internee—by or on behalf of the governor or other person in charge of the prison or place in which he is confined, that the protecting power has been notified of his conviction and sentence, and for such further time as would have been within the time allowed if the conviction or sentence had taken place or been pronounced on that day.

(2) Where, after an appeal against the conviction or sentence by a court of a protected prisoner of war or a protected internee has been decided, the sentence remains a sentence of death, or remains or has become a sentence of imprisonment for a term of two years or more, any time allowed in relation to a further appeal in respect of the conviction or sentence as confirmed or varied upon the previous appeal shall be deemed to continue to run until the day on which the convicted person receives a notice given by a person referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) of the last preceding sub-section, as the case may require, that the protecting power has been notified of the decision of the court upon the previous appeal, and for such further time as would have been within the time allowed if that decision had been pronounced on that day.

(3) Where sub-section (1) applies in relation to a convicted person, then, unless the court otherwise orders, an order of the court relating to the restitution of property or the payment of compensataion to an aggrieved person shall not take effect, and a provision of any law relating to the revesting of property on conviction shall not take effect in relation to the conviction, while an appeal by the convicted person against his conviction or sentence is possible without an extension of time other than the extension provided by the last preceding sub-section.

(4) Sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) shall not apply in relation to an appeal against a conviction or sentence, or against the decision of a court upon a previous appeal, if, at the time of the conviction or sentence, or of the decision of the court upon the previous appeal, as the case may be, there is no protecting power.

Reduction of sentence and custody of protected prisoners of war and internees.

11. (1) When a protected prisoner of war or a protected internee is convicted of an offence, the court shall,—

(a) in fixing a term of imprisonment in respect of the offence, deduct from the term which it would otherwise have fixed any period during which the convicted person has been in custody in connection with that offence before the trial; and

(b) in fixing any penalty other than imprisonment in respect of the offence, take that period of custody into account.

(2) Where the Central Government is satisfied that a protected prisoner of war accused of an offence has been in custody in connection with that offence, while awaiting trial, in a place other than a camp or place in which protected prisoners of war are detained, for an aggregate period of not less than three months, the Central Government may direct that the prisoner shall be transferred from that custody to the custody of an officer of the Armed Forces of the Union and thereafter remain in military custody at a camp or place in which protected prisoners of war are detained, and be brought before the court at the time appointed for his trial.

CHAPTER IV

ABUSE OF THE RED CROSS AND OTHER EMBLEMS

Prohibition of use of Red Cross and other emblems.

12. No person shall, without the approval of the Central Government, use for any purpose whatsoever—

(a) the emblem of a red cross with vertical and horizontal arms of the same length on, and completely surrounded by, a white ground, or the designation "Red Cross" or "Geneva Cross";

(b) the emblem of a red crescent moon on, and completely surrounded by, a white ground, or the designation "Red Crescent";

(d) the emblem of a white or silver cross with vertical and horizontal arms of the same length on, and completely surrounded by, a red ground, being the heraldic emblem of the Swiss Confederation; or

(e) any design or wording so nearly resembling any of the emblems or designations specified in the preceding clauses of this section as to be capable of being mistaken for, or, as the case may be, understood as referring to, one of those emblems.

Penalty.

13. If any person contravenes any of the provisions of section 12, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and be liable to forfeit any goods upon or in connection with which the emblem, designation, design or wording was used by that person.

Offences by companies.

14. (1) If the person committing an offence under this Chapter is a company, the company as well as every person in charge of, and responsible to, the company for the conduct of its business at the time of the commission of the offence shall be deemed to be guilty of the offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly:

Provided that, nothing contained in this sub-section shall render any such person liable to any punishment if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of such offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an offence under this Chapter has been committed by a company and it is proved that the offence has been committed with the consent or connivance of, or that the commission of the offence is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of the company, such director, manager, secretary or other officer shall also be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section,—

(a) "company" means any body corporate and includes a firm or other association of individuals, and

(b) "director" in relation to a firm means a partner in the firm.

Saving.

15. In the case of a trade mark registered before the coming into force of this Act, the foregoing provisions of this Chapter shall not apply by reason only of its consisting of or containing a design or wording which reproduces or resembles an emblem or designation specified in clause (b) or clause (c) of section 12; and where a person is charged with using such a design or wording for any purpose and it is proved that he used it otherwise than as, or as part of, a trade mark so registered, it shall be a defence for him to prove—

(a) that he lawfully used that design or wording for that purpose before the coming into force of this Act; or

(b) in a case where he is charged with using the design or wording upon goods, that the design or wording had been applied to the goods before he acquires them by some other person who had manufactured or dealt with the goods in the course of trade and who lawfully used the design or wording upon similar goods before the coming into force of this Act.

Use of 'Red Cross' and other emblems on Indian ship or aircraft.

16. The provisions of this Chapter extend to the use in or outside India of any emblem, designation, design or wording as is referred to in section 12 on any Indian ship or aircraft.

CHAPTER V

MISCELLANEOUS

Cognizance of offences.

17. No court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act except on complaint by the Government or of such officer of the Government as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify.

Power to make rules.

18. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

Rules to be laid before Parliament.

19. Every rule made by the Central Government under this Act shall be laid as soon as may be after it is made or issued before each House of Parliament while it is in session for a total period of thirty days which may be comprised in one session or in two successive sessions, and if before the expiry of the session in which it is so laid or the session immediately following, both Houses agree in making any modification in the rule or both Houses agree that the rule should not be made, the rule shall thereafter have effect only in such modified form or be of no effect, as the case may be, so however that any such modification or annulment shall be without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done under that rule.

Repeal.

20. (1) The Geneva Convention Implementing Act, 1936, is hereby repealed.

1 and 2 Geo. 5, C. 20.

(2) The Geneva Convention Act, 1911, shall cease to have effect as part of the law of India.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE

(See section 2)

GENEVA CONVENTION FOR THE AMELIORATION OF THE CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED AND SICK ARMED FORCES IN THE FIELD OF AUGUST 12, 1949.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries of the Governments represented at the Diplomatic Conference held at Geneva from April 21 to August 12, 1949, for the purpose of revising the Geneva Convention for the Relief of the Wounded and Sick in Armies in the Field of July 27, 1929, have agreed as follows:—

CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

Respect for the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to respect and to ensure respect for the present Convention in all circumstances.

Article 2

Application of the Convention.

In addition to the provisions which shall be implemented in peacetime, the present Convention shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting Parties, even if the state of war is not recognized by one of them.

The Convention shall also apply to all cases of partial or total occupation of the territory of a High Contracting Party, even if the said occupation meets with no armed resistance.

Although one of the Powers in conflict may not be a party to the present Convention, the Powers who are parties thereto shall remain bound by it in their mutual relations. They shall furthermore be bound by the Convention in relation to the said Power, if the latter accepts and applies the provisions thereof.

Conflicts not of an international character.

In the case of armed conflict not of an international character occuring in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties, each Party to the conflict shall be bound to apply, as a minimum, the following provisions:—

(1) Persons taking no active part in the hostilities, including members of armed forces who have laid down their arms and those placed hors de combat by sickness, wounds, detention, or any other cause, shall in all circumstances be treated humanely, without any adverse distinction founded on race, colour, religion or faith, sex, birth or wealth, or any other similar criteria.

To this end, the following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever with respect to the abovementioned persons:—

(a) violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture;

(b) taking of hostages;

(c) outrages upon personal dignity, in particular humiliating and degrading treatment;

(d) the passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all the judicial guarantees which are recognized as indispensable by civilized peoples.

(2) The wounded and sick shall be collected and cared for.

An impartial humanitarian body, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, may offer its services to the Parties to the conflict.

The Parties to the conflict should further endeavour to bring into force, by means of special agreements, all or part of the other provisions of the present Convention.

The application of the preceding provisions shall not affect the legal status of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 4

Application by neutral Powers.

Neutral Powers shall apply by analogy the provisions of the present Convention to the wounded and sick, and to members of the medical personnel and to chaplains of the armed forces of the Parties to the conflict, received or interned in their territory, as well as to dead persons found.

Article 5

Duration of application.

For the protected persons who have fallen into the hands of the enemy, the present Convention shall apply until their final repatriation.

Article 6

Special agreements.

In addition to the agreements expressly provided for in Articles 10, 15, 23, 28, 31, 36, 37 and 52, the High Contracting Parties may conclude other special agreements for all matters concerning which they may deem it suitable to make separate provision. No special agreement shall adversely affect the situation of the wounded and sick, of members of the medical personnel or of chaplains, as defined by the present Convention, nor restrict the rights which it confers upon them.

Wounded and sick, as well as medical personnel and chaplains, shall continue to have the benefit of such agreements as long as the Convention is applicable to them, except where express provisions to the contrary are contained in the aforesaid or in subsequent agreements, or where more favourable measures have been taken with regard to them by one or other of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 7

Non-renunciation of rights.

Wounded and sick, as well as members of the medical personnel and chaplains, may in no circumstances renounce in part or in entirety the rights secured to them by the present Convention, and by the special agreements referred to in the foregoing Article, if such there be.

Article 8

Protecting Powers.

The present Convention shall be applied with the co-operation and under the scrutiny of the Protecting Powers whose duty it is to safeguard the interests of the Parties to the conflict. For this purpose, the Protecting Powers may appoint, apart from their diplomatic or consular staff, delegates from amongst their own nationals or the nationals of other neutral Powers. The said delegates shall be subject to the aproval of the Powers with which they are to carry out their duties.

The Parties to the conflict shall facilitate to the greatest extent possible, the task of the representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers.

The representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall not in any case exeed their mission under the present Convention. They shall, in particular, take account of the imperative necessities of security of the State wherein they carry out their duties. Their activities shall only be restricted as an exceptional and temporary measure when this is rendered necessary by imperative military necessities.

Article 9

Activities of the international Committee of the Red Cross.

The provisions of the present Convention constitute no obstacle to the humanitarian activities which the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other impartial humanitarian organization may, subject to the consent of the Parties to the conflict concerned, undertake for the protection of wounded and sick, medical personnel and chaplains, and for their relief.

Article 10

Substitute for Protecting Powers.

The High Contracting Parties may at any time agree to entrust to an organization which offers all guarantees of impartiality and efficacy the duties incumbent on the Protecting Powers by virtue of the present Convention.

When wounded and sick, or medical personnel and chaplains do not benefit or cease to benefit, no matter for what reason, by the activities of a Protecting Power or of an organization provided for in the first paragraph above, the Detaining Power shall request a neutral State, or such an organization, to undertake the functions performed under the present Convention by a Protecting Power designated by the Parties to a conflict.

If protection cannot be arranged accordingly, the Detaining Power shall request or shall accept, subject to the provisions of this Article, the offer of the services of a humanitarian organization, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, to assume the humanitarian functions performed by Protecting Powers under the present Convention.

Any neutral Power, or any organization invited by the Power concerned or offering itself for these purposes, shall be required to act with a sense of responsibility towards the Party to the conflict on which persons protected by the present Convention depend, and shall be required to furnish sufficient assurances that it is in a position to undertake the appropriate functions and to discharge them impartially.

No derogation from the preceding provisions shall be made by special agreements between Powers one of which is restricted, even temporarily, in its freedom to negotiate with the other Power or its allies by reason of military events, more particularly where the whole, or a substantial part, of the territory of the said Power is occupied.

Whenever in the present Convention mention is made of a Protecting Power, such mention also applies to substitute organizations in the sense of present Article.

Article 11

Conciliation procedure.

In cases where they deem it advisable in the interest of protected persons, particularly in cases of disagreement between the Parties to the conflict as to the application or interpretation of the provisions of the present Convention, the Protecting Powers shall lend their good offices with a a view to settling the disagreement.

For this purpose, each of the Protecting Powers may, either at the invitation of one party or on its own initiative, propose to the Parties to the conflict a meeting of their representatives, in particular of the authorities responsible for the wounded and sick, members of medical personnel and chaplains, possibly on neutral territory suitably chosen. The Parties to the conflict shall be bound to give effect to the proposals made to them for this purpose. The Protecting Powers may, if necessary, propose for approval by the Parties to the conflict a person belonging to a neutral Power or delegated by the International Committee of the Red Cross, who shall be invited to take part in such a meeting.

CHAPTER II

WOUNDED AND SICK

Article 12

Protection and care.

Members of the armed forces and other persons mentioned in the following Article, who are wounded or sick, shall be respected and protected in all circumstances.

They shall be treated humanely and cared for by the party to the conflict in whose power they may be, without any adverse distinction founded on sex, race, nationality, religion, political opinions, or any other similar criteria. Any attempts upon their lives, or violence to their person, shall be strictly prohibited; in particular, they shall not be murdered or exterminated, subjected to torture or to biolgical experiments; they shall not wilfully be left without medical assistance and care, nor shall conditions exposing them to contagion or infection be created.

Only urgent medical reasons will authorise priority in the order of treatment to be administered.

Women shall be treated with all consideration due to their sex.

The Party to the conflict which is compelled to abandon wounded or sick to the enemy shall, as far as military consideration permits, leave with them a part of its medical personnel and material to assist in their care.

Article 13

Protected persons.

The present Convention shall apply to the wounded and sick belonging to the following categories:—

(1) Members of the armed forces of a Party to the conflict as well as members of militias or volunteer corps forming part of such armed forces;

(2) Members of other militias and members of other volunteer corps, including those of organized resistance movements, belonging to a Party to the conflict and operating in or outside their own territory, even if this territory is occupied, provided that such militias or volunter corps, including such organized resistance movements, fulfil the following conditions:—

(a) that of being commanded by a person responsible for his subordinates;

(b) that of having a fixed distinctive sign recognizable at a distance;

(c) that of carrying arms openly;

(d) that of conducting their operations in accordance with the laws and customs of war;

(3) Members of regular armed forces who profess allegiance to a Government or an authority not recognized by the Detaining Power;

(4) Persons who accompany the armed forces without actually being members thereof, such as civil members of military aircraft crews, war correspondents, supply contractors, members of labour units or of services responsible for the welfare of the armed forces, provided that they have received authorization from the armed forces which they accompany;

(5) Members of crews, including masters, pilots and apprentices, of the merchant marine and the crews of civil aircraft of the Parties to the conflict, who do not benefit by more favourable treatment under any other provisions in international law;

(6) Inhabitants of a non-occupied territory who on the approach of the enemy spontaneously take up arms to resist the invading forces, without having had time to form themselves into regular armed units, provided they carry arms openly and respect the laws and customs of war.

Article 14

Status.

Subject to the provisions of Article 12, the wounded and sick of a belligerent who fall into enemy hands shall be prisoners of war, and the provisions of international law concerning prisoners of war shall apply to them.

Article 15

Search for casualties. Evacuations.

At all times, and particularly after an engagement, Partis to the conflict shall, without delay, take all possible measures to search for and collect the wounded and sick, to protect them against pillage and ill-treatment, to ensure their adequate care, and to search for the dead and prevent their being despoiled.

Whenever circumstances permit, an armistice ar a suspension of fire shall be arranged, or local arrangements made, to permit the removal, exchange and transport of the wounded left on the battlefield.

Likewise, local arrangements may be concluded between Parties to the conflict for the removal or exchange of wounded and sick from a besieged or encircled area, and for the passage of medical and religious personnel and equipment on their way to that area.

Article 16

Recording and forwarding of information.

Parties to the conflict shall record as soon as possible, in respect of each wounded, sick or dead person of the adverse Party falling into their hands any particulars which may assist in his identification.

These records should if possible include—

(a) designation of the Power on which he depends;

(b) army, regimental, personal or serial number;

(c) surname;

(d) first name or names;

(e) date of birth;

(f) any other particular shown on his identy card or disc;

(g) date and place of capture or death;

(h) particulars concerning wounds or illness, or cause of death.

As soon as possible the abovementioned information shall be forwarded to the Information Bureau described in Article 122 of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949, which shall transmit this informaion to the Power on which these persons depend through the intermediary of the Protecting Power and of the Central Prisoners of War Agency.

Parties to the conflict shall prepare and forward to each other through the same bureau, certificates of death or duly authenticated lists of the dead. They shall likewise collect and forward through the same bureau one-half of a double identity disc, last wills or other documents of importance to the next of kin, money and in general all articles of an intrinsic or sentimental value, which are found on the dead. These articles, together with unidentified articles, shall be sent in sealed packets, accompanied by statements giving all particulars necessary for the identification of the deceased owners, as well as by a complete list of the contents of the parcel.

Article 17

Prescriptions regarding the dead.

Graves Registration Service.

Parties to the conflict shall ensure that burial or cremation of the dead, carried out individually as far as circumstances permit, is preceded by a careful examination, if possible by a medical examination, of the bodies, with a view to confirming death, establishing identity and enabling a report to be made. One-half of the double identity disc, or the identity disc itself if it is a single disc, should remain on the body.

Bodies shall not be cremated except for imperative reasons of hygiene or for motives based on the religion of the deceased. In case of cremation, the circumstances and reasons for cremation shall be stated in detail in the death certificate or on the authenticated list of the dead.

They shall further ensure that the dead are honourably interred, if possible according to the rites of the religion to which they belonged, that their graves are respected, grouped if possible according to the nationality of the deceased, properly maintained and marked so that they may always be found. For this purpose, they shall organise at the commencement of hostilities an Official Graves Registraion Service, to allow subsequent exhumations and to ensure the identification of bodies, whatever the site of the graves, and the possible transportation to the home country. These provisions shall likewise apply to the ashes, which shall be kept by the Graves Registration Service until proper disposal thereof in accordance with the wishes of the home country.

As soon as circumstances permit, and at latest at the end of hostilities, these Services shall exchange, through the Information Bureau mentioned in the second paragraph of Artical 16, lists showing the exact location and markings of the graves together with particulars of the dead interred therein.

Article 18

Role of the population.

The military authorities may appeal to the charity of the inhabitants voluntarily to collect and care for, under their direction, the wounded and sick, granting persons who have responded to this appeal the necessary protection and facilities. Should the adverse party take or retake control of the area, he shall likewise grant these persons the same protection and the same facilities.

The military authorities shall permit the inhabitants and relief societies, even in invaded or occupied areas, spontaneously to collect and care for wounded or sick of whatever nationality. The civilian population shall respect these wounded and sick, and in particular abstain from offering them violance.

No one may ever be molested or convicted for having nursed the wounded or sick.

The provisions of the present Article do not relieve the occupying Power of its obligation to give both physical and moral care to the wounded and sick.

CHAPTER III

MEDICAL UNITS AND ESTABLISHMENTS

Article 19

Protection.

Fixed establishments and mobile medical units of the Medical Service may in no circumstances be attacked, but shall at all times be respected and protected by the Parties to the conflict. Should they fall into the hands of the adverse Party, their personnel shall be free to pursue their duties, as long as the capturing Power has not itself ensured the necessary care of the wounded and sick found in such establishments and units.

The responsible authorities shall ensure that the said medical establishments and units are, as far as possible, situated in such a manner that attacks against military objectives cannot imperil their safety.

Article 20

Protection of hospital ships.

Hospital ships entitled to the protection of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of Wounded, Sick and Shipwrecked Members of Armed Forces at Sea of August 12, 1949, shall not be attacked from the land.

Article 21

Discontinuance of protection of medical establishments and units.

The protection to which fixed establishments and mobile medical units of the Medical Service are entitled shall not cease unless they are used to commit, outside their humanitarian duties, acts harmful to the enemy. Protection may, however, cease only after a due warning has been given, naming, in all appropriate cases, a reasonable time-limit and after such warning has remained unheeded.

Article 22

Conditions not depriving medical units and establishments of protection.

The following conditions shall not be considered as depriving a medical unit or establishment of the protection guaranteed by Article 19:—

(1) That the personnel of the unit or establishment are armed, and that they use the arms in their own defence, or in that of the wounded and sick in their charge.

(2) That in the absence of armed orderlies, the unit or establishment is protected by a picket or by sentries or by an escort.

(3) That small arms and ammunition taken from the wounded and sick and no yet handed to the proper service, are found in the unit or establishment.

(4) That personnel and material of the veterinary service are found in the unit or establishment, without forming an integral part thereof.

(5) That the humanitarian activities of medical units and establishments or of their personnel extend to the care of civilian wounded or sick.

Article 23

Hospital zones and localities.

In time of peace, the High Contracting Parties and, after the outbreak of hostilities, the Parties to the conflict, may establish in their own territory and, if the need arises, in occupied areas, hospital zones and localities so organized as to protect the wounded and sick from the effects of war, as well as the personnel entrusted with the organisation and administration of the these zones and localities and with the care of the persons therein assembled.

Upon the outbreak and during the course of hostilities, the Parties concerned may conclude agreements on mutual recognition of the hospital zones and localities they have created. They may for this purpose implement the provisions of the Draft Agreement annexed to the present Convention, with such amendments as they may consider necessary.

The Protecting Powers and the International Committee of the Red Cross are invited to lend their good offices in order to facilitate the institution and recognition of these hospital zones and localities.

CHAPTER IV

PERSONNEL

Article 24

Protection of permanent personnel.

Medical personnel exclusively engaged in the search for, or the collection, transport or treatment of, the wounded or sick, or in the prevention of disease, staff exclusively engaged in the administration of medical units and establishments, as well as chaplains attached to the armed forces, shall be respected and protected in all circumstances.

Article 25

Protection of auxiliary personnel.

Members of the armed forces specially trained for employment, should the need arise, as hospital orderlies, nurses or auxiliary stretcher-bearers, in the search for or the collection, transport or treatment of the wounded and sick shall likewise be respected and protected if they are carrying out these duties at the time when they come into contact with the enmy or fall into his hands.

Article 26

Personnel of aid societies.

The staff of National Red Cross Societies and that of other Voluntary Aid Societies, duly recognised and auhorised by their Governments, who may be employed on the same duties as the personnel named in Article 24, are placed on the same footing as the personnel named in the said Article, provided that the staff of such societies are subject to military laws and regulations.

Each High Contracting Party shall notify to the other, either in time of peace or at the commencement of or during hostilities, but in any case before actually employing them, the names of the societies which it has authorized, under its responsibility, to rende assistance to the regular medical service of its armed forces.

Article 27

Societies of neutral countries.

A recognized Society of a neutral country can only lend the assistance of its medical personnel and units to a Party to the conflict with the previous consent of its own Government and the authorisation of the Party to the conflict concerned. That personnel and those units shall be placed under the control of that Party to the conflict.

The neutral Government shall notify this consent to the adversary of the State which accepts such assistance. The Party to the conflict who accepts such assistance is bound to notify the adverse Party thereof before making any use of it.

In no circumstances shall this assistance be considered as interference in the conflict.

The members of the personnel named in the first paragraph shall be duly furnished with the identity cards provided for in Article 40 before leaving the neutral country to which they belong.

Article 28

Retained personnel.

Personnel designated in Articles 24 and 26 who fall into the hands of the adverse Party, shall be retained only in so far as the state of health, the spiritual needs and the number of prisoners of war require.

Personnel thus retained shall not be deemed prisoners of war. Nevertheless they shall at least benefit by all the provisions of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949. Within the framework of the military laws and regulations of the Detaining Power, and under the authority of its competent service, they shall continue to carry out, in accordance with their professional ethics, their medical and spiritual duties on behalf of prisoners of war, preferably those of the armed forces to which they themselves belong. They shall further enjoy the following facilities for carrying out their medical or spiritual duties:—

(a) They shall be authorised to visit periodically the prisoners of war in labour units or hospitals outside the camp. The Detaining Power shall put at their disposal the means of transport required.

(b) In each camp the senior medical officer of the highest rank shall be responsible to the military authorities of the camp for the professional activity of the retained medical personnel. For this purpose, from the outbreak of hostilities, the Parties to the conflict shall agree regarding the corresponding seniority of the ranks of their medical personnel, including those of the societies designated in Article 26. In all questions arising out of their duties, this medical officer, and the chaplains, shall have direct access to the military and medical authorities of the camp who shall grant them the facilities they may require for correspondence relating to these questions.

(c) Although retained personnel in a camp shall be subject to its internal discipline, they shall not, however, be required to perform any work outside their medical or religious duties.

During hostilities the parties to the conflict shall make arrangements for relieving where possible retained personnel, and shall settle the procedure of such relief.

None of the preceding provisions shall relieve the Detaining Power of the obligations imposed upon it with regard to the medical and spiritual welfare of the prisoners of war.

Article 29

Status of auxiliary personnel.

Members of the personnel designated in Article 25 who have fallen into the hands of the enemy, shall be prisoners of war, but shall be employed on their medical duties in so far as the need arises.

Article 30

Return of medical and religious personnel.

Personnel whose retention is not indispensable by virtue of the provisions of Article 28 shall be returned to the Party to the conflict to whom they belong, as soon as a road is open for their return and military requirements permit.

Pending their return, they shall not be deemed prisoners of war. Nevertheless they shall at least benefit by all the provisions of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949. They shall continue to fulfil their duties under the orders of the adverse Party and shall preferably be engaged in the care of the wounded and sick of the Party to the conflict to which they themselves belong.

On their departure, they shall take with them the effects, personal belongings, valuables and instruments belonging to them.

Article 31

Selection of personnel for return.

The selection of personnel for return under Article 30 shall be made irrespective of any consideration of race, religion or political opinion, but preferably according to the chronological order of their capture and their state of health.

As from the outbreak of hostilities, parties to the conflict may determine by special agreement the percentage of personnel to be retained, in proportion to the number of prisoners and the distribution of the said personnel in the camps.

Article 32

Return of personnel belonging to neutral countries.

Persons designated in Article 27 who have fallen into the hands of the adverse Party may not be detained.

Unless otherwise agreed, they shall have permission to return to their country, or if this is not possible, to the territory of the Party to the conflict in whose service they were, as soon as a route for their return is open and military considerations permit.

Pending their release, they shall continue their work under the direction of the adverse Party; they shall preferably be engaged in the care of the wounded and sick of the Party to the conflict in whose service they were.

On their departure, they shall take with them their effects, personal articles and valuables and the instruments, arms and if possible the means of transport belonging to them.

The Parties to the conflict shall secure to these personnel, while in their power, the same food, lodging, allowances and pay as are granted to the corresponding personnel of their armed forces. The food shall in any case be sufficient as regards quantity, quality and variety to keep the said personnel in a normal state of health.

CHAPTER V

BUILDINGS AND MATERIALS

Article 33

Buildings and stores.

The material of mobile medical units of the armed forces which fall into the hands of the enemy, shall be reserved for the care of wounded and sick.

The buildings, material and stores of fixed medical establishments of the armed forces shall remain subject to the laws of war, but may not be diverted from that purpose as long as they are required for the care of wounded and sick. Nevertheless, the commanders of forces in the field may make use of them, in case of urgent military necessity, provided that they make previous arrangements for the welfare of the wounded and sick who are nursed in them.

The material and stores defined in the present Article shall not be intentionally destroyed.

Article 34

Property of aid societies.

The real and personal property of aid societies which are admitted to the privileges of the Convention shall be regarded as private property.

The right of requisition recognised for belligerents by the laws and customs of war shall not be exercised except in case of urgent necessity, and only after the welfare of the wounded and sick has been ensured.

CHAPTER VI

MEDICAL TRANSPORTS

Protection

Transports of wounded and sick or of medical equipment shall be respected and protected in the same way as mobile medical units.

Should such transport or vehicles fall into the hands of the adverse Party, they shall be subject to the laws of war, on condition that the Party to the conflict who captures them shall in all cases ensure the care of the wounded and sick they contain.

The civilian personnel and all means of transport obtained by requisition shall be subject to the general rules of international law.

Article 36

Medical aircraft.

Medical aircraft, that is to say, aircraft exclusively employed for the removal of wounded and sick and for the transport of medical personnel and equipment, shall not be attacked, but shall be respected by the billigerents, while flying at heights, times and on routes specfically agreed upon between the belligerents concerned.

They shall bear, clearly marked, the distinctive emblem prescribed in Article 38, together with their national colours, on their lower, upper and lateral surfaces. They shall be provided with any other markings or means of identification that may be agreed upon between the belligerents upon the outbreak or during the course of hostilities.

Unless agreed otherwise, flights over enemy or enemy-occupied territory are prohibited.

Medical aircraft shall obey every summons to land. In the event of a landing thus imposed, the aircraft with its occupants may continue its flight after examination, if any.

In the event of an involuntary landing in enemy or enemy-occupied territory, the wounded and sick, as well as the crew of the aircraft shall be prisoners of war. The medical personnel shall be treated according to Article 24 and the Articles following.

Article 37

Flight over neutral countries. Landing of woinded.

Subject to the provisions of the second paragraph, medical aircraft of Parties to the conflict may fly over the territory of neutral Powers, land on it in case of necessity, or use it as a port of call. They shall give the neutral Powers previous notice of their passage over the said territory and obey all summons to alight, on land or water. They will be immune from attack only when flying on routes, at heights and at times specifically agreed upon between the Parties to the conflict and the neutral Power concerned.

The neutral Powers may, however, place conditions or restrictions on the passage or landing of medical aircraft on their territory. Such possible conditions or restrictions shall be applied equally to all Parties to the conflict.

Unless agreed otherwise between neutral Power and the Parties to the conflict, the wounded and sick who are disembarked, with the consent of the local authorties, on neutral territory by medical aircraft, shall be detained by the neutral Power, where so required by international law, in such a manner that they cannot again take part in operations of war. The cost of their accommodation and internment shall be borne by the Power on which they depend.

CHAPTER VII

THE DISTINCTIVE EMBLEM

Article 38

Emblem of the Convention.

As a compliment to Switzerland, the heraldic emblem of the red cross on a white ground, formed by reversing the Federal colours, is retained as the emblem and distinctive sign of the Medical Service of armed forces.

Nevertheless, in the case of countries which already use as emblem, in place of the red cross, the red cresent or the red lion and sun on a white ground, those emblems are also recognized by the terms of the present Convention.

Article 39

Use of the emblem.

Under the direction of the competent military authority, the emblem shall be displayed on the flags, armlets and on all equipment employed in the Medical Service.

Article 40

Identification of medical and religious personnel.

The personnel designated in Article 24 and in Articles 26 and 27 shall wear, affixed to the left arm, a water-resistant armlet bearing the distinctive emblem, issued and stamped by the military authority.

Such personnel, in addition to wearing the identity disc mentioned in Article 16, shall also carry a special identity card bearing the distinctive emblem. This card shall be water-resistant and of such size that it can be carried in the pocket. It shall be worded in the national language, shall mention at least the surname and first names, the date of birth, the rank and the service number of the bearer, and shall state in what capacity he is entitled to the protection of the present Convention. The card shall bear the photograph of the owner and also either his signature or his fingerprints or both. It shall be embossed with the samp of the military authority.

The identity card shall be uniform throughout the same armed forces and, as far as possible, of a similar type in the armed forces of the High Contracting Parties. The Parties to the conflict may be guided by the model which is annexed, by way of example, to the present Convention. They shall inform each other, at the outbreak of hostilities, of the model they are using. Identity cards should be made out, if possible, at least in duplicate, one copy being kept by the home country.

In no circumstances may the said personnel be deprived of their insignia or identity cards nor of the right to wear the armlet. In case of loss, they shall be entitled to receive duplicates of the cards and to have the insignia replaced.

Article 41

Identification of auxiliary personnel

The personnel designated in Article 25 shall wear, but only while carrying out medical duties, a white armlet bearing in its centre the distinctive sign in miniature; the armlet shall be issued and stamped by the military authority.

Military identity documents to be carried by this type of personnel shall specify what special training they have received, the temporary character of the duties they are engaged upon, and their authority for wearing the armlet.

Article 42

Marking of medical units and establishments.

The distinctive flag of the Convention shall be hoisted only over such medical units and establishments as are entitled to be respected under the Convention, and only with the consent of the military authorities.

In mobile units, as in fixed establishments, it may be accompanied by the national flag of the Party to the conflict to which the unit or establishment belongs.

Nevertheless, medical units which have fallen into the hands of the enemy shall not fly any flag other than that of the Convention.

Parties to the conflict shall take the necessary steps, in so far as military considerations permit, to make the distinctive emblems indicating medical units and establishments clearly visible to the enemy land, air or naval forces, in order to obviate the possibility of any hostile action.

Article 43

Marking of units of neutral countries.

The medical units belonging to neutral countries, which may have been authorized to lend their services to a belligerent under the conditions laid down in Article 27, shall fly, along with the flag of the Convention, the national flag of that belligerent, wherever the latter makes use of the faculty conferred on him by Article 42.

Subject to orders to the contrary by the responsible military authorities, they may on all occasions, fly their national flag, even if they fall into the hands of the adverse Party.

Article 44

Restrictions in the use of the emblem. Exceptions.

With the exception of the cases mentioned in the following paragraphs of the present Article, the emblem of the Red Cross on a white ground and the words "Red Cross", or "Geneva Cross" may not be employed, either in time of peace or in time of war, except to indicate or to protect the medical units and establishments, the personnel and material protected by the present Convention and other Conventions dealing with similar matters. The same shall apply to the emblems mentioned in Article 38 second paragraph, in respect of the countries which use them. The National Red Cross Societies and other Societies designated in Article 26 shall have the right to use the distinctive emblem conferring the protection of the Convention only within the framework of the present paragraph.

Furthermore, National Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Societies may, in time of peace, in accordance with their national legislation, make use of the name and emblem of the Red Cross for their other activities which are in conformity with the principles laid down by the International Red Cross Conferences. When those activities are carried out in time of war, the conditions for the use of the emblem shall be such that it cannot be considered as conferring the protection of the Convention; the emblem shall be comparatively small in size and may not be placed on armlets or on the roofs of buildings.

The international Red Cross organizations and their duly authorized personnel shall be permitted to make use, at all times, of the emblem of the Red Cross on a white ground.

As an exceptional measure, in conformity with national legislation and with the express permission of one of the National Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Societies, the emblem of the Convention may be employed in time of peace to identify vehicles used as ambulances and to mark the position of aid stations exclusively assigned to the purpose of giving free treatment to the wounded or sick.

CHAPTER VIII

EXECUTION OF THE CONVENTION

Article 45

Detailed execution. Unforeseen cases.

Each Party to the conflict, acting through its commanders-in-chief, shall ensure the detailed execution of the preceding Article, and provide for unforeseen cases, in conformity with the general principles of the present Convention.

Article 46

Prohibition of reprisals.

Reprisals against the wounded, sick, personnel, buildings or equipment protected by the Convention are prohibited.

Article 47

Dissemination of the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake, in time of peace as in time of war, to disseminate the text of the present Convention as widely as possible in their respective countries, and, in particular, to include the study thereof in their programmes of military and, if possible, civil instruction, so that the principles thereof may become known to the entire population, in particular to the armed fighting forces, the medical personnel and the chaplains.

Article 48

Translations. Rules if application.

The High Contracting Parties shall communicate to one another through the Swiss Federal Council and, during hostilities, through the Protecting Powers, the official translations of the present Convention, as well as the laws and regulations which they may adopt to ensure the application thereof.

CHAPTER IX

REPRESSION OF ABUSES AND INFRACTIONS

Penal sanctions I. General observations.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to enact any legislation necessary to provide effective penal sanctions for persons committing, or ordering to be committed, any of the grave breaches of the present Convention defined in the following Article.

Each High Contracting Party shall be under the obligation to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before its own courts. It may also, if it prefers, and in accordance with the provisions of its own legislation, hand such persons over for trial to another High Contracting Party concerned, provided such High Contracting Party has made out a prima facie case.

Each High Contracting Part shall take measures necessary for the suppression of all acts contrary to the provisions of the present Convention other than the grave breaches defined in the following Article.

In all circumstances, the accused persons shall benefit by safeguards of proper trial and defence, which shall not be less favourable than those provided by Article 105 and those following of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949.

Article 50

II. Grave breaches.

Grave breaches to which the preceding Article relates shall be those involving any of the following acts, if committed against persons or property protected by the Convention: wilful killing, torture or inhuman treatment, including biological experiments, wilfully causing great suffering or serious injury to body or health, and extensive destruction and appropriation of property, not justified by military necessity and carried out unlawfully and wantonly.

Article 51

III. Responsibilities of the Contracting parties.

No High Contracting Party shall be allowed to absolve itself or any other High Contracting Party of any liability incurred by itself or by another High Contracting Party in respect of breaches referred to in the preceding Article.

Article 52

Enquiry procedure.

At the request of a Party to the conflict, an enquiry shall be instituted, in a manner to be decided between the interested Parties, concerning any alleged violation of the Convention.

If agreement has not been reached concerning the procedure for the enquiry, the Parties should agree on the choice of an umpire who will decide upon the procedure to be followed.

Once the violation has been established, the Parties to the conflict shall put an end to it and shall repress it with the least possible delay.

Article 53

Misuse of the emblem.

The use by individuals, societies, firms or companies either public or private, other than those entitled thereto under the present Convention, of the emblem or the designation "Red Cross" or "Geneva Cross", or any sign or designation constituting an imitation thereof, whatever the object of such use, and irrespective of the date of its adoption, shall be prohibited at all times.

By reason of the tribute paid to Switzerland by the adoption of the reversed Federal colours, and of the confusion which may arise between the arms of Switzerland and the distinctive emblem of the Convention, the use of private individuals, societies or firms, of the arms of the Swiss Confederation, or of marks constituting an imitation thereof, whether as trade marks or commercial marks, or as parts of such marks or for a purpose contrary to commercial honesty, or in circumstances capable of wounding Swiss national sentiment, shall be prohibited at all times.

Nevertheless, such High Contracting Parties as were not party to the Geneva Convention of July 27, 1929, may grant to prior users of the emblems, designations, signs or marks designated in the first paragraph, a time limit not to exceed three years from the coming into force of the present Convention to discontinue such use, provided that the said use shall not be such as would appear, in time of war, to confer the protection of the Convention.

The prohibition laid down in the first paragraph of the present Article shall also apply, without effect on any rights acquired through prior use, to the emblems and marks mentioned in the second paragraph of Article 38.

Article 54

Prevention of misuse.

The High Contracting Parties shall, if their legislation is not already adequate, take measures necessary for the prevention and repression, at all times, of the abuses referred to under Article 53.

FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 55

Languages.

The present Convention is established in English and in French. Both texts are equally authentic.

The Swiss Federal Council shall arrange for official translations of the Convention to be made in the Russian and Spanish languages.

Article 56

Signature. The present Convention, which bears the date of this day, is open to signature until February 12, 1950, in the name of the Powers represented at the Conference which opened at Geneva on April 21, 1949; furthermore, by Powers not represented at that Conference but which are parties to the Geneva Conventions of 1864, 1906 or 1929 for the Relief of the Wounded and Sick in Armies in the Field.

Article 57

Ratification. The present Convention shall be ratified as soon as possible and the ratifications shall be deposited at Berne.

A record shall be drawn up of the deposit of each instrument of ratification and certified copies of this record shall be transmitted by the Swiss Federal Council to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 58

Coming into force. The present Convention shall come into force six months after not less than two instruments of ratification have been deposited.

Thereafter, it shall come into force for each High Contracting Party six months after the deposit of the instrument of ratification.

Article 59

Relation to previous Conventions. The present Convention replaces the Conventions of August 22, 1864, July 6, 1906 and July 27, 1929, in relations between the High Contracting Parties.

Article 60

Accession. From the date of its coming into force, it shall be open to any Power in whose name the present Convention has not been signed, to accede to this Convention.

Article 61

Notification of accessions. Accessions shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, and shall take effect six months after the date on which they are received.

The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate the accessions to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 62

Immediate effect. The situations provided for in Articles 2 and 3 shall give immediate effect to ratifications deposited and accessions notified by the Parties to the conflict before or after the beginning of hostilities or occupation. The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate by the quickest method any ratifications or accessions received from Parties to the conflict.

Article 63

Denunciation. Each of the High Contracting Parties shall be at liberty to denounce the present Convention.

The denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, which shall transmit it to the Governments of all the High Contracting Parties.

The denunciation shall take effect one year after the notification thereof has been made to the Swiss Federal Council. However, a denunciation of which notification has been made at a time when the denouncing Power is involved in a conflict shall not take effect until peace has been concluded, and until after operations connected with relese and repatriation of the person protected by the present Convention have been terminated.

The denunciation shall have effect only in respect of the denouncing Power. It shall in no way impair the obligations which the parties to the confiict shall remain bound to fulfil by virtue of the principles of the law of nations, as they result from the usages established among civilized peoples, from the laws of humanity and the dictates of the public conscience.

Article 64

Registration with the United Nations.

The Swiss Federal Council shall register the present Convention with the Secretariat of the United Nations. The Swiss Federal Council shall also inform the Secretariat of the United Nations of all ratifications, accessions and denunciations received by it with respect to the present Convention.

In witness whereof the undersigned, having deposited their respective full powers, have signed the present Convention.

Done at Geneva this twelfth day of August 1949 in the English and French languages. The original shall be deposited in the archives of the Swiss Confederation. The Swiss Federal Council shall transmit certified copies thereof to each of the signatory and acceding States.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE

(See section 2)

GENEVA CONVENTION FOR THE AMELIORATION OF THE CONDITION OF WOUNDED, SICK AND SHIPWRECKED MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES AT SEA OF AUGUST 12, 1949.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries of the Governments represented at the Diplomatic Conference held at Geneva from April 21 to August 12, 1949, for the purpose of revising the Xth Hague Convention of October 18, 1907, for the Adaptation to Maritime Warfare of the Principles of the Geneva Convention of 1906, have agreed as follows:—

CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

The High Contracting Parties undertake to respect and to ensure respect for the present Convention in all circumstances.

Article 2

Application of the Convention.

In addition to the provisions which shall be implemented in peace time, the present Convention shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting parties, even if the state of war is not recognised by one of them.

The Convention shall also apply to all cases of partial or total occupation of the territory of a High Contracting Party, even if the said occupation meets with no armed resistance.

Although one of the Powers in conflict may not be a party to the present Convention, the Powers who are parties thereto shall remain bound by it in their mutual relations. They shall furthermore be bound by the Convention in relation to the said Power, if the latter accepts and applies the provisions thereof.

Article 3

Conflicts not of an international character.

In the case of armed conflict not of an international character occurring in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties, each Party to the conflict shall be bound to apply, as a minimum, the following provisions:—

(1) Persons taking no active part in the hostilities, including members of armed forces who have laid down their arms and those placed, hors de combat by sickness, wounds, detention, or any other cause, shall in all circumstances be treated humanely, without any adverse distinction founded on race, colour, religion or faith, sex, birth or wealth, or any other similar criteria.

To this end, the following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever with respect to the abovementioned persons:—

(a) violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture;

(b) taking of hostages;

(c) outrages upon personal dignity, in particular, humiliating and degrading treatment;

(d) the passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all the judicial guarantees which are recognised as indispensable by civilized peoples.

(2) The wounded, sick and shipwrecked shall be collected and cared for.

An impartial humanitarian body, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, may offer its services to the Parties to the conflict.

The Parties to the conflict should further endeavour to bring into force, by means of special agreements, all or part of the other provisions of the present Convention.

The application of the preceding provision shall not affect the legal status of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 4

Field of application.

In case of hostilities between land and naval forces of Parties to the conflict, the provisions of the present Convention shall apply only to forces on board ship.

Forces put ashore shall immediately become subject to the provisions of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949.

Article 5

Application by neutral Powers.

Neutral Powers shall apply by analogy the provisions of the present Convention to the wounded, sick and shipwrecked, and to members of the medical personnel and to chaplains of the armed forces of the Parties to the conflict received or interned in their territory, as well as to dead persons found.

Article 6

Special agreements.

In addition to the agreements expressly provided for in Articles 10, 18, 31, 38, 39, 40, 43 and 53, the High Contracting Parties may conclude other special agreements for all matters concerning which they may deem it suitable to make separate provision. No special agreement shall adversely affect the situation of wounded, sick and shipwrecked persons, of members of the medical personnel or of chaplains, as defined by the present Convention, nor restrict the rights which it confers upon them.

Wounded, sick and shipwrecked persons, as well as medical personnel and chaplains, shall continue to have the benefit of such agreements as long as the Convention is applicable to them, except where express provisions to the contrary are contained in the aforesaid or in subsequent agreements, or where more favourable measures have been taken with regard to them by one or other of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 7

Non-renunciation of rights.

Wounded, sick and shipwrecked persons, as well as members of the medical personnel and chaplains, may in no circumstances renounce in part or in entirety the rights secured to them by the present Convention, and by the special agreements referred to in the foregoing Article, if such there be.

Article 8

Protecting powers.

The present Convention shall be applied with the co-operation and under the scrutiny of the Protecting Powers whose duty it is to safeguard the interests of the Parties to the conflict. For this purpose, the Protecting Powers may appoint, apart from their diplomatic or consular staff, delegates from amongst their own nationals, or the nationals of other neutral Powers. The said delegates shall be subject to the approval of the Power with which they are to carry out their duties.

The Parties to the conflict shall facilitate to the greatest extent possible the task of the representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers.

The representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall not in any case exceed their mission under the present Convention. They shall, in particular, take account of the imperative necessities of security of the State wherein they carry out their duties. Their activities shall only be restricted as an exceptional and temporary measures when this is rendered necessary by imperative military necessities.

Article 9

Activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

The provisions of the present Convention constitute no obstacle to the humanitarian activities which the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other impartial humanitarian organisation may, subject to the consent of the Parties to the conflict concerned, undertake for the protection of wounded, sick and shipwrecked persons, medical personnel and chaplains, and for their relief.

Article 10

Substitutes for Protecting Powers.

The High Contracting Parties may at any time agree to entrust to an organisation which offers all guarantees of impartiality and efficacy the duties incumbent on the Protecting Powers by virtue of the present Convention. .

When wounded, sick and shipwrecked, or medical personnel and chaplains do not benefit or cease to benefit, no matter for what reason, by the activities of a Protecting Power or of an organisation provided for in the first paragraph above, the Detaining Power shall request a neutral State, or such an organisation, to undertake the functions performed under present Convention by a Protecting Power designated by the Parties to a conflict.

If protection cannot be arranged accordingly, the Detaining Power shall request or shall accept, subject to the provisions of this Article, the offer of the services of a humanitarian organisation, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, to assume the humanitarian functions performed by Protecting Powers under the present Convention.

Any neutral Power, or any organisation invited by the Power concerned or offering itself for these purposes, shall be required to act with a sense of responsibility towards the Party to the conflict on which persons protected by the present Convention depend, and shall be required to furnish sufficient assurances that it is in a position to undertake the appropriate functions and to discharge them impartially.

No derogation from the preceding provisions shall be made by special agreements between Powers, one of which is restricted, even temporarily, in its freedom to negotiate with the other Power or its allies by reason of military events, more particularly where the whole, or a substantial part, of the territory of the said Power is occupied.

Whenever, in the present Convention, mention is made of a Protecting Power, such mention also applies to substitute organisations in the sense of the present Article.

Article 11

Conciliation procedure.

In cases where they deem it advisable in the interest of protected persons, particularly in cases of disagreement between the Parties to the conflict as to the application or interpretation of the provisions of the present Convention, the Protecting Powers shall lend their good offices with a view to settling the disagreement.

For this purpose, each of the Protecting Powers may, either at the invitation of one Party or on its own initiative, propose to the Parties to the conflict a meeting of their representatives, in particular of the authorities responsible for the wounded, sick and shipwrecked, medical personnel and chaplains, possibly on neutral territory suitably chosen. The Parties to the conflict shall be bound to give effect to the proposals made to them for this purpose. The protecting Powers may, if necessary, propose for approval by the Parties to the conflict, a person belonging to a neutral Power or delegated by the International Committee of the Red Cross, who shall be invited to take part in such a meeting.

CHAPTER II

Wounded, sick and shipwrecked

Article 12

Protection and care.

Members of the armed forces and other persons mentioned in the following Article, who are at sea and who are wounded, sick or shipwrecked, shall be respected and protected in all circumstances, it being understood that the term "shipwreck" means shipwreck from any cause and includes forced landings at sea by or from aircraft.

Such persons shall be treated humanely and cared for by the Parties to the conflit in whose power they may be, without any adverse distinction founded on sex, race, nationality, religion, political opinions, or any other similar criteria. Any attempts upon their lives, or violence to their persons, shall be strictly prohibited; in particular, they shall not be murdered or exterminated, subjected to torture or to biological experiments; they shall not wilfully be left without medical assistance and care, nor shall conditions exposing them to contagion or infection be created.

Only urgent medical reasons will authorize priority in the order of treatment to be administered.

Women shall be treated with all consideration due to their sex.

Article 13

Protected persons.

The present Convention shall apply to the wounded, sick and shipwrecked at sea belonging to the following categories:—

(1) Members of the armed forces of a Party to the conflict, as well as members of militias or volunteer corps forming part of such armed forces;

(2) Members of other militias and members of other volunteer corps, including those of organized resistance movements, belonging to a Party to the conflict and operating in or outside their own territory, even if this territory is occupied, provided that such militias or volunteer corps, including such organized resistance movements, fulfil the following conditions:—

(a) that of being commanded by a person responsible for his subordinates;

(b) that of having a fixed distinctive sign recognisable at a distance;

(c) that of carrying arms openly;

(d) that of conducting their operations in accordance with the laws and customs of war;

(3) Members of regular armed forces who profess allegiance to a Government or an authority not recognised by the Detaining Power;

(4) Persons who accompany the armed forces without actually being members thereof, such as civil members of military aircraft crews, war correspondents, supply contractors, members of labour units or of services responsible for the welfare of the armed forces, provided that they have received authorization from the armed forces which they accompany;

(5) Members of crews, including masters, pilots and apprentices, of the merchant marine and the crews of civil aircraft of the Parties to the conflict who do not benefit by more favourable treatment, under any other provisions of international law;

(6) Inhabitants of a non-occupied territory who, on the approach of the enemy, spontaneously take up arms to resist the invading forces, without having had time to form themselves into regular armed units, provided they carry arms openly and respect the laws and customs of war.

Article 14

Handling over to a belligerent.

All warships of a belligerent Party shall have the right to demand that the wounded, sick or shipwrecked on board military hospital ships, and hospital ships belonging to relief societies or to private individuals, as well as merchant vessels, yachts and other craft shall be surrendered, whatever their nationality, provided that the wounded and sick are in a fit state to be moved and that the warship can provide adequate facilities for necessary medical treatment.

Article 15

Wounded taken on board a neutral warship.

If wounded, sick or shipwrecked persons are taken on board a neutral warship or a neutral military aircraft, it shall be ensured, where so required by international law, that they can take no further part in operations of war.

Article 16

Wounded falling into enemy hands.

Subject to the provisions of Article 12, the wounded, sick and shipwrecked of a belligerent who fall into enemy hands shall be prisoners of war, and the provisions of international law concerning prisoners of war shall apply to them. The captor may decide, according to circumstances, whether it is expedient to hold them, or to convey them to a port in the captor's own country, to a neutral port or even to a port in enemy territory. In the last case, prisoners of war thus returned to their home country may not serve for the duration of the war.

Article 17

Wounded landed in a neutral port.

Wounded, sick or shipwrecked persons who are landed in neutral ports with the consent of the local authorities shall, failing arrangements to the contrary between the neutral and the belligerent Powers, be so guarded by the neutral Power, where so required by international law, that the said persons cannot again take part in operations of war.

The costs of hospital accommodation and internment shall be borne by the Power on whom the wounded, sick or shipwrecked persons depend.

Article 18

Search for casualties after an engagement.

After each engagement, Parties to the conflict shall without delay take all possible measures to search for and collect the shipwrecked, wounded and sick, to protect them against pillage and ill-treatment, to ensure their adequate care, and to search for the dead and prevent their being despoiled.

Whenever circumstances permit, the Parties to the conflict shall conclude local arrangements for the removal of the wounded and sick by sea from a besieged or encircled area and for the passage of medical and religious personnel and equipment on their way to that area.

Article 19

Recording and forwarding of information.

The Parties to the conflict shall record as soon as possible in respect of each shipwrecked, wounded, sick or dead person of the adverse Party falling into their hands, any particulars which may assist in his identification. These records should if possible include—

(a) designation of the Power on which he depends;
(b) army, regimental, personnel or serial number;
(c) surname;
(d) first name or names;
(e) date of birth;
(f) any other particulars shown on his identity card or disc;
(g) date and place of capture or death;
(h) particulars concerning wounds or illness, or cause of death.

As soon as possible the abovementioned information shall be forwarded to the Information Bureau described in Article 122 of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949, which shall transmit this information to the Power on which these persons depend through the intermediary of the Protecting Power and of the Central Prisoners of War Agency.

Parties to the conflict shall prepare and forward to each other through the same Bureau, certificates of death duly authenticated lists of the dead. They shall likewise collect and forward through the same Bureau one-half of the double identity disc, or the identity disc itself if it is a single disc, last wills or other documents of importance to the next of kin, money and in general all articles of an intrinsic or sentimental value, which are found on the dead. These articles, together with unidentified articles, shall be sent in sealed packets, accompanied by statements giving all particulars necessary for the identification of the deceased owners as well as by a complete list of the contents of the parcel.

Article 20

Prescriptions regarding the dead.

Parties to the conflict shall ensure that burial at sea of the dead, carried out individually as far as circumstances permit, is preceded by a careful examination, of possible by a medical examination, of the bodies, with a view to confirming death, establishing identity and enabling a report to be made. Where a double identity disc is used, one-half of the disc should remain on the body.

If dead persons are landed, the provisions of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949, shall be applicable.

Article 21

Appeals to neutral vessels

The Parties to the conflict may appeal to the charity of commanders of neutral merchant vessels, yachts or other craft to take on board and care for wounded, sick or shipwrecked persons, and to collect the dead.

Vessels of any kind responding to this appeal, and those having of their own accord collected wounded, sick or shipwrecked persons, shall enjoy special protection and facilities to carry out such assistance.

They may, in no case, be captured on account of any such transport; but, in the absence of any promise to the contrary, they shall remain liable to capture for any violations of neutrality they may have committed.

CHAPTER III

Hospital ships

Article 22

Notification and protection of military hospital ships.

Military hospital ships, that is to say, ships built or equipped by the Powers specially and solely with a view to assisting the wounded, sick and shipwrecked, to treating them and to transporting them, may in no circumstances be attacked or captured, but shall at all times be respected and protected, on condition that their names and descriptions have been notified to the Parties to the conflict ten days before those ships are employed.

The characteristics which must appear in the notification shall include registered gross tonnage, the length from stem to stern and the number of masts and funnels.

Article 23

Protection of medical establishments ashore.

Establishments ashore entitled to the protection of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949, shall be protected from bombardment or attack from the sea.

Article 24

Hospital ships utilized by relief societies and private individuals of I. Parties to the conflict.

Hospital ships utilized by National Red Cross Societies, by officially recognized relief societies or by private persons shall have the same protection as military hospital ships and shall be exempt from capture, if the Party to the conflict on which they depend has given them an official commission and in so far as the provisions of Article 22 concerning notification have been complied with.

These ships must be provided with certificates of the responsible authorities, stating that the vessels have been under their control while fitting out and on departure.

Article 25

II. Neutral countries.

Hospital ships utilized by National Red Cross Societies, officially recognised relief societies, or private persons of neutral countries shall have the same protection as military hospital ships and shall be exempt from capture, on codition that they have placed themselves under the control of one of the Parties to the conflict, with the previous consent of their own governments and with the authorization of the Party to the conflict concerned, in so far as the provisions of Article 22 concerning notification have been complied with.

Article 26

Tonnage.

The protection mentioned in Articles 22, 24 and 25 shall apply to hospital ships of any tonnage and to their lifeboats, wherever they are operating. Nevertheless, to ensure the maximum comfort and security, the Parties to the conflict shall endeavour to utilize, for the transport of wounded, sick and shipwrecked over long distances and on the high seas, only hospital ships of over 2,000 tons gross.

Article 27

Coastal rescue craft.

Under the same conditions as those provided for in Articles 22 and 24, small craft employed by the State or by the officially recognised lifeboat institutions for coastal rescue operations, shall also be respected and protected, so far as operational requirements permit.

The same shall apply so far as possible to fixed coastal installations used exclusively by these crafts for their humanitarian missions.

Article 28

Protection of sick-bays.

Should fighting occur on board a warship, the sick-bays shall be respected and spared as far as possible. Sick-bays and their equipment shall remain subject to the laws of warfare, but may not be diverted from their purpose so long as they are required for the wounded and sick. Nevertheless, the commander into whose power they have fallen may, after ensuring the proper care of the wounded and sick who are accommodated therein, apply them to other purposes in case of urgent military necessity.

Article 29

Hospital ships in occupied ports.

Any hospital ship in a port which falls into the hands of enemy shall be authorised to leave the said port.

Article 30

Employment of Hospital ships and small craft.

The vessels described in Articles 22, 24, 25 and 27 shall afford relief and assistance to the wounded, sick and shipwrecked without distinction of nationality.

The High Contracting Parties undertake not to use these vessels for any military purpose.

Such vessels shall in no wise hamper the movements of the combatants.

During and after an engagement, they will act at their own risk.

Article 31

Right of control and search.

The Parties to the conflict shall have the right to control and search the vessels mentioned in Articles 22, 24, 25 and 27. They can refuse assistance from these vessels, order them off, make them take a certain course, control the use of their wireless and other means of communication, and even detain them for a period not exceeding seven days from the time of interception, if the gravity of the circumstances so requires.

They may put a commissioner temporarily on board whose sole task shall be to see that orders given in virtue of the provisions of the preceding paragraph are carried out.

As far as possible, the Parties to the conflict shall enter in the log of the hospital ship, in a language he can understand, the orders they have given to the captain of the vessel.

Parties to the conflict may, either unilaterally or by particular agreements, put on board their ships neutral observers who shall verify the strict observation of the provisions contained in the present Convention.

Article 32

Stay in a neutral port.

Vessels described in Articles 22, 24, 25 and 27 are not classed as warships as regards their stay in a neutral port.

Article 33

Converted merchant vessels.

Merchant vessels which have been transformed into hospital ships cannot be put to any other use throughout the duration of hostilities.

Article 34

Discontinuance of protection.

The protection to which hospital ships and sick-bays are entitled shall not cease unless they are used to commit, outside their humanitarian duties, acts harmful to the enemy. Protection may, however, cease only after due warning has been given, naming in all appropriate cases a reasonable time-limit, and after such warning has remained unheeded.

In particular, hospital ships may not possess or use a secret code for their wireless or other means of communications.

Article 35

Conditions not depriving hospital ships of protection

The following conditions shall not be considered as depriving hospital ships or sick-bays of vessels of the protection due to them:—

(1) The fact that the crews of ships or sick-bays are armed for the maintenance of order, for their own defence or that of the sick and wounded.

(2) The presence on board of apparatus exclusively intended to facilitate navigation or communication.

(3) The discovery on board hospital ships or in sick-bays of portable arms and ammunition taken from the wounded, sick and shipwrecked and not yet handed to the proper service.

(4) The fact that the humanitarian activities of hospital ships and sick-bays of vessels or of the crews extend to the care of wounded, sick or shipwrecked civilians.

(5) The transport of equipment and of personnel intended exclusively for medical duties, over and above the normal requirements.

CHAPTER IV

PERSONNEL

Article 36

Protection of the personnel of hospital ships.

The religious, medical and hospital personnel or hospital ships and their crews shall be respected and protected; they may not be captured during the time they are in the service of the hospital ship, whether or not there are wounded and sick on board.

Article 37

Medical and religious personnel of other ships.

The religious, medical and hospital personnel assigned to the medical or spiritual care of the persons designated in Articles 12 and 13 shall, if they fall into the hands of the enemy, be respected and protected; they may continue to carry out their duties as long as this is necessary for the care of the wounded and sick. They shall afterwards be sent back as soon the Commander-in-Chief, under whose authority they are, considers it practicable. They may take with them, on leaving the ship, their personal property.

If, however, it proves necessary to retain some of this personnel owing to the medical or spiritual needs of prisoners of war, everything possible shall be done for their earliest possible landing.

Retained personnel shall be subject on landing, to the provisions of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949.

CHAPTER V

MEDICAL TRANSPORTS

Article 38

Ships used for the conveyance of medical equipment.

Ships chartered for that purpose shall be authorised to transport equipment exclusively intended for the treatment of wounded and sick members of armed forces or for the prevention of disease, provided that the particulars regarding their voyage have been notified to the adverse Power and approved by the latter. The adverse Power shall preserve the right to board the carrier ships, but not to capture them or seize the equipment carried.

By agreement amongst the Parties to the conflict, neutral observers may be placed on board such ships to verify the equipment carried. For this purpose, free access to the equipment shall be given.

Article 39

Medical aircrafts.

Medical aircraft, that is to say, aircraft exclusively employed for the removal of wounded, sick and shipwrecked, and for the transport of medical personnel and equipment, may not be the object of attack, but shall be respected by the Parties to the conflict, while flying at heights, at times and on routes specially agreed upon between the Parties to the conflict concerned.

They shall be clearly marked with the distinctive emblem prescribed in Article 41, together with their national colours, on their lower, upper and lateral surfaces. They shall be provided with any other markings or means of identification which may be agreed upon between the Parties to the conflict upon the outbreak or during the course of hostilities.

Unless agreed otherwise, flights over enemy or enemy-occupied territory are prohibited.

Medical aircraft shall obey every summons to alight on land or water. In the event of having thus to alight, the aircraft with its occupants may continue its flight after examination, if any.

In the event of alighting involuntarily on land or water in enemy or enemy-occupied territory, the wounded, sick and shipwrecked, as well as the crew of the aircraft shall be prisoners of war. The medical personnel shall be treated according to Articles 36 and 37.

Article 40

Flight over neutral countries. Landing of wounded.

Subject to the provisions of the second paragraph, medical aircraft of Parties to the conflict may fly over the territory of neutral Powers, land thereon in case of necessity, or use it as a port of call. They shall give neutral Powers prior notice of their passage over the said territory, and obey every summons to alight, on land or water. They will be immune from attack only when flying on routes, at heights and at times specifically agreed upon between the Parties to the conflict and the neutral Power concerned.

The neutral Powers may, however, place conditions or restrictions on the passage or landing of medical aircraft on their territory. Such possible conditions or restrictions shall be applied equally to all Parties to the conflict.

Unless otherwise agreed between the neutral Powers and the Parites to the conflict, the wounded, sick or shipwrecked who are disembarked with the consent of the local authorities on neutral territory by medical aircraft shall be detained by the neutral Power, where so required by international law, in such a manner that they cannot again take part in operations of war. The cost of their accommodation and internment shall be borne by the Power on which they depend.

CHAPTER VI

THE DISTINCTIVE EMBLEM

Article 41

Use of the emblem.

Under the direction of the competent military authority, the emblem of the red cross on a white ground shall be displayed on the flags, armlets and on all equipments employed in the Medical Service.

Nevertheless, in the case of countries which already use as emblem, in place of the red cross, the red crescent or the red lion and sun on a white ground, these emblems are also recognized by the terms of the present Convention

Article 42

Identification of medical and religious personnel.

The personnel designated in Articles 36 and 37 shall wear, affixed to the left arm, a water-resistant armlet bearing the distinctive emblem, issued and stamped by the military authority.

Such personnel, in addition to wearing the identity disc mentioned in Article 19, shall also carry a special identity card, bearing the distinctive emblem. This card shall be water-resistant and of such size that it can be carried in the pocket. It shall be worded in the national language, shall mention at least the surname and first names, the date of birth, the rank and the service number of the bearer, and shall state in what capacity he is entitled to the protection of the present Convention. The card shall bear the photograph of the owner and also either his signature or his finger-prints or both. It shall be embossed with the stamp of the military authority.

The identity card shall be uniform throughout the same armed forces and, as far as possible, of a similar type in the armed forces of the High Contracting Parties. The Parties to the conflict may be guided by the model which is annexed, by way of example, to the present Convention. They shall inform each other, at the outbreak of hostilities, of the model they are using. Identity cards should be made out, if possible, at least in duplicate, one copy being kept by the home country.

In no circumstances may the said personnel be deprived of their insignia or identity cards nor of the right to wear the armlet. In cases of loss they shall be entitled to receive duplicates of the cards and to have the insignia replaced.

Article 43

Marking of hospital ships and small craft.

The ships designated in Articles 22, 24, 25 and 27 shall be distinctively marked as follows:—

(a) All exterior surfaces shall be white.

(b) One or more dark red crosses, as large as possible, shall be painted and displayed on each side of the hull and on the horizontal surfaces, so placed as to afford the greatest possible visibility from the sea and from the air.

All hospital ships shall make themselves known by hoisting their national flag and further, if they belong to a neutral State, the flag of the Party to the conflict whose direction they have accepted. A white flag with a red cross shall be flown at the main mast as high as possible.

Lifeboats of hospital ships, coastal lifeboats and all small crafts used by the Medical Service shall be painted white with dark red crosses prominently displayed and shall, in general, comply with the identification system prescribed above for hospital ships.

The abovementioned ships and carfts, which may wish to ensure by night and in times of reduced visibility the protection to which they are entitled, must, subject to the assent of the Party to the conflict under whose power they are, take the necessary measures to render their painting and distinctive emblems sufficiently apparent

Hospital ships which, in accordance with Article 31 are provisionally detained by the enemy, must haul down the flag of the Party to the conflict in whose service they are or whose diretcion they have accepted.

Coastal lifeboats, if they continue to operate with the consent of the Occupying Power from a base which is occupied, may be allowed, when away from their base to continue to fly their own national colours along with a flag carrying a red cross on a white ground, subject to prior notification to all the Parties to the conflict concerned

All the provisions in this Article relating to the red cross shall apply equally to the other emblems mentioned in Article 41.

Parties to the conflict shall at all times endeavour to conclude mutual agreements in order to use the most modern methods available to facilitate the identification of hospital ships.

Article 44

Limitation in the use of markings.

The distinguishing signs referred to in Article 43 can only be used, whether in time of peace or war, for indicating or protecting the ships therein mentioned, except as may be provided in any other International Convention or by agreement between all the Parties to the conflict concerned

Article 45

Prevention of misuse.

The High Contracting Parties shall, if their legislation is not already adequate, take the measures necessary for the prevention and repression, at all times, of any abuse of the distinctive signs provided for under Article 43.

CHAPTER VII

EXECUTION OF THE CONVENTION

Article 46

Detailed execution. Unforeseen cases.

Each Party to the conflict, acting through its Commanders-in-Chief shall ensure the detailed execution of the preceding Articles and provide for unforeseen cases, in conformity with the general principles of the present Convention.

Article 47

Prohibition of reprisals.

Reprisals against the wounded, sick and shipwrecked persons, the personnel, the vessels or the equipment protected by the Convention are prohibited.

Article 48

Dissemination of the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake, in time of peace as in time of war, to disseminate the text of the present Convention as widely as possible in their respective countries, and, in particular, to include the study thereof in their programmes of military and, if possible, civil instruction, so that the principles thereof may become known to the entire population, in particular to the armed fighting forces, the medical personnel and the chaplains.

Article 49

Translations. Rules of application.

The High Contracting Parties shall communicate to one another through the Swiss Federal Council and, during hostilities, through the Protecting Powers, the official translations of the present Convention, as well as the laws and regualtions which they may adopt to ensure the application thereof.

CHAPTER VIII

REPRESSION OF ABUSES AND INFRACTIONS

Penal sanctions. I. General observations.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to enact any legislation necessary to provide effective penal sanctions for persons committing, or ordering to be committed, any of the grave breaches of the present Convention defined in the following Article.

Each High Contracting Party shall be under the obligation to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before its own courts. It may also, if it prefers, and in accordance with the provisions of its own legislation, hand such persons over for trial to another High Contracting Party concerned, provided such High Contracting Party has made out a prima facie case.

Each High Contracting Party shall take measures necessary for the suppression of all acts contrary to the provisions of the present Convention other than the grave breaches defined in the following Article.

In all circumstances, the accused persons shall benefit by safeguards of proper trial and defence, which shall not be less favourable than those provided by Article 105 and those following of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949.

Article 51

II. Grave breaches.

Grave breaches to which the preceding Article relates shall be those involving any of the following acts, if committed against persons or property protected by the Convention: wilful killing, torture or inhuman treatment, including biological experiments, wilfully causing great suffering or serious injury to body or health, and extensive destruction and appropriation of property, not justified by military necessity and carried out unlawfully and want only.

Article 52

III. Responsibilities of the Contracting Parties.

No High Contracting Party shall be allowed to absolve itself or any other High Contracting Party of any liability incurred by itself or by another High Contracting Party in respect of breaches referred to in the preceding Article.

Article 53

Enquiry procedure.

At the request of a Party to the conflict, an enquiry shall be instituted, in a manner to be decided between the interested Parties, concerning any alleged violation of the Convention.

If agreement has not been reached concerning the procedure for the enquiry, the Parties should agree on the choice of an umpire, who will decide upon the procedure to be followed.

Once the violation has been established, the Parties to the conflict shall put an end to it and shall repress it with the least possible delay.

FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 54

Languages.

The present Convention is established in English and in French. Both texts are equally authentic.

The Swiss Federal Council shall arrange for official translations of the Convention to be made in the Russian and Spanish languages.

Article 55

Signature.

The present Convention, which bears the date of this day, is open to signature until February 12, 1950, in the name of the Powers represented at the Conference which opened at Geneva on April 21, 1949; furthermore, by Powers not represented at that Conference, but which are parties to the Xth Hague Convention of October 18, 1907, for the adaptation to Maritime Warfare of the principles of the Geneva Convention of 1906, or to the Geneva Conventions of 1864, 1906 or 1929 for the Relief of the Wounded and Sick in Armies in the Field.

Article 56

Ratification.

The present Convention shall be ratified as soon as possible and the ratifications shall be deposited at Berne.

A record shall be drawn up of the deposit of each instrument of ratification and certified copies of this record shall be transmitted by the Swiss Federal Council to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 57

Coming into force.

The present Convention shall come into force six months after not less than two instruments of ratification have been deposited.

Thereafter, it shall come into force for each High Contracting Party six months after the deposit of the instruments of ratification.

Article 58

Relation to the 1907 Convention.

The present Convention replaces the Xth Hague Convention of October 18, 1907, for the adaptation to Maritime Warfare of the principles of the Geneva Convention of 1906, in relations between the High Contracting Parties.

Article 59

Accession.

From the date of its coming into force, it shall be open to any Power in whose name the present Convention has not been signed, to accede to this Convention.

Article 60

Notification of accessions.

Accessions shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, and shall take effect six months after the date on which they are received.

The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate the accessions to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Immediate effect.

The situations provided for in Articles 2 and 3 shall give immediate effect to ratifications deposited and accessions notified by the Parties to the conflict before or after the beginning of hostilities or occupation. The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate by the quickest method any ratifications or accessions received from Parties to the conflict.

Article 62

Denunciation.

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall be at liberty to denounce the present Convention.

The denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, which shall transmit it to the Governments of all the High Contracting Parties.

The denunciation shall take effect one year after the notification thereof has been made to the Swiss Federal Council. However, a denunciation of which notification has been made at a time when the denouncing Power is involved in a conflict shall not take effect until peace has been concluded, and until after operations connected with release and repatriation of the persons protected by the present Convention have been terminated.

The denunciation shall have effect only in respect of the denouncing Power. It shall in no way impair the obligations which the Parties to the conflict shall remain bound to fulfil by virtue of the principles of the law of nations, as they result from the usages established among civilized peoples, from the laws of humanity and the dictates of the public conscience.

Article 63

Registration with the United Nations.

The Swiss Federal Council shall register the present Convention with the Secretariat of the United Nations. The Swiss Federal Council shall also inform the Secretariat of the United Nations of all ratifications, accessions and denunciations received by it with respect to the present Convention.

In witness whereof the undersigned, having deposited their respective full powers, have signed the present Convention.

Done at Geneva this twelfth day of August, 1949, in the English and French languages. The original shall be deposited in the Archives of the Swiss Confederation. The Swiss Federal Council shall transmit certified copies thereof to each of the signatory and acceding States.

THE THIRD SCHEDULE

(See section 2)

GENEVA CONVENTION RELATIVE TO THE TREATMENT OF PRISONERS OF WAR OF AUGUST 12, 1949

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries of the Governments represented at the Diplomatic Conference held at Geneva from April 21 to August 12, 1949, for the purpose of revising the Convention concluded at Geneva on July 27, 1929, relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War, have agreed as follows:—

PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

Respect for the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to respect and to ensure respect for the present Convention in all circumstances.

Article 2

Application of the Convention.

In addition to the provisions which shall be implemented in peace time, the present Convention shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting Parties, even if the state of war is not recognised by one of them.

The Convention shall also apply to all cases of partial or total occupation of the territory of a High Contracting Party, even if the said occupation meets with no armed resistance.

Although one of the Powers in conflict may not be a party to the present Convention, the Powers who are parties thereto shall remain bound by it in their mutual relations. They shall furthermore be bound by the Convention in relation to the said Power, if the latter accepts and applies the provisions thereof.

Article 3

Conflicts not of an international character.

In the case of armed conflict not of an international character occurring in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties, each Party to the conflict shall be bound to apply, as a minimum, the following provisions:—

(1) Persons taking no active part in the hostilities, including members of armed forces who have laid down their arms and those placed hors de combat by sickness, wounds, detention, or any other cause, shall in all circumstances be treated humanely, without any adverse distinction founded on race, colour, religion or faith, sex, birth or wealth, or any other similar criteria.

To this end, the following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever with respect to the abovementioned persons:—

(a) violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture;

(b) taking of hostages;

(c) outrages upon personal dignity, in particular, humiliating and degrading treatment;

(d) the passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court affording all the judicial guarantees which are recognised as indispensable by civilised peoples.

(2) The wounded and sick shall be collected and cared for.

An impartial humanitarian body, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, may offer its services to the Parties to the conflict.

The Parties to the conflict should further endeavour to bring into force, by means of special agreements, all or part of the other provisions of the present Convention.

The application of the preceding provisions shall not affect the legal status of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 4

Prisoners of war.

A. Prisoners of war, in the sense of the present Convention, are persons belonging to one of the following categories, who have fallen into the power of the enemy:—

(1) Members of the armed forces of a Party to the conflict as well as members of militias or volunteer corps forming part of such armed forces.

(2) Members of other militias and members of other volunteer corps, including those of organized resistance movements, belonging to a Party to the conflict and operating in or outside their own territory, even if this territory is occupied, provided that such militias or volunteer corps, including such organized resistance movements, fulfil the following conditions:—

(a) that of being commanded by a person responsible for his subordinates;

(b) that of having a fixed distinctive sign recognizable at a distance;

(c) that of carrying arms openly;

(d) that of conducting their operations in accordance with the laws and customs of war.

(3) Members of regular armed forces who profess allegiance to a government or an authority not recognised by the Detaining Power.

(4) Persons who accompany the armed forces without actually being members thereof, such as civilian members of military aircraft crews, war correspondents, supply contractors, members of labour units or of services responsible for the welfare of the armed forces, provided that they have received authorization from the armed forces which they accompany, who shall provide them for that purpose with an identity card similar to the annexed model.

(5) Members of crews, including masters, pilots and apprentices, of the merchant marine and the crews of civil aircraft of the Parties to the conflict, who do not benefit by more favourable treatment under any other provisions of international law.

(6) Inhabitants of a non-occupied territory, who on the approach of the enemy spontaneously take up arms to resist the invading forces, without having had time to form themselves into regular armed units, provided they carry arms openly and respect the laws and customs of war.

B. The following shall likewise be treated as prisoners of war under the present Convention:—

(1) Persons belonging, or having belonged, to the armed forces of the occupied country, if the occupying Power considers it necessary by reason of such allegiance to intern them, even though it has originally liberated them while hostilities were going on outside the territory it occupies, in particular where such persons have made an unsuccessful attempt to rejoin the armed forces to which they belong and which are engaged in combat, or where they fail to comply with a summons made to them with a view to internment.

(2) The persons belonging to one of the categories enumerated in the present Article, who have been received by neutral or non-belligerent Powers on their territory and whom these Powers are required to intern under international law, without prejudice to any more favourable treatment which these Powers may choose to give and with the exception of Articles 8, 10, 15, 30, fifth paragraph, 58-67, 92, 126 and, where diplomatic relations exist between the Parties to the conflict and the neutral or non-belligerent Power concerned, those Articles concerning the Protecting Power. Where such diplomatic relations exist, the Parties to a conflict on whom these persons depend shall be allowed to perform towards them the functions of a Protecting Power as provided in the present Convention, without prejudice to the functions which these Parties normally exercise in conformity with diplomatic and consular usage and treaties.

C. This Article shall in no way affect the status of medical personnel and chaplains as provided for in Article 33 of the present Convention.

Article 5

Beginning and end of application.

The present Convention shall apply to the persons referred to in Article 4 from the time they fall into the power of the enemy and until their final release and repatriation.

Should any doubt arise as to whether persons, having committed a belligerent act and having fallen into the hands of the enemy, belong to any of the categories enumerated in Article 4, such persons shall enjoy the protection of the present Convention until such time as their status has been determined by a competent tribunal.

Article 6

Special agreements.

In addition to the agreements expressly provided for in Articles 10, 23, 28, 33, 60, 65, 66, 67, 72, 73, 75, 109, 110, 118, 119, 122 and 132, the High Contracting Parties may conclude other special agreements for all matters concerning which they may deem it suitable to make separate provision. No special agreement shall adversely affect the situation of prisoners of war as defined by the present Convention, nor restrict the rights which it confers upon them.

Prisoners of war shall continue to have the benefit of such agreements as long as the Convention is applicable to them, except where express provisions to the contrary are contained in the aforesaid or in subsequent agreements, or where more favourable measures have been taken with regard to them by one or other of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 7

Non-renunciation of rights.

Prisoners of war may in no circumstances renounce in part or in entirety the rights secured to them by the present Convention, and by the special agreements referred to in the foregoing Article, if such there be.

Article 8

Protecting Powers.

The present Convention shall be applied with the co-operation and under the scrutiny of the Protecting Powers whose duty it is to safeguard the interests of the Parties to the conflict. For this purpose, the Protecting Powers may appoint, apart from their diplomatic or consular staff, delegates from amongst their own nationals or the nationals of other neutral Powers. The said delegates shall be subject to the approval of the Power with which they are to carry out their duties.

The Parties to the conflict shall facilitate to the greatest extent possible the task of the representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers.

The representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall not in any case exceed their mission under the present Convention. They shall, in particular, take account of the imperative necessities of security of the State wherein they carry out their duties.

Article 9

Activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

The provisions of the present Convention constitute no obstacle to the humanitarian activities which the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other impartial humanitarian organization may, subject to the consent of the Parties to the conflict concerned, undertake for the protection of prisoners of war and for their relief.

Article 10

Substitutes for Protecting Powers.

The High Contracting Parties may at any time agree to entrust to an organization which offers all guarantees of impartiality and efficacy the duties incumbent on the Protecting Powers by virtue of the present Convention.

When prisoners of war do not benefit or cease to benefit, no matter for what reason, by the activities of a Protecting Power or of an organization provided for in the first paragraph above, the Detaining Power shall request a neutral State, or such an organization, to undertake the functions performed under the present Convention by a Protecting Power designated by the Parties to a conflict.

If protection cannot be arranged accordingly, the Detaining Power shall request or shall accept, subject to the provisions of this Article, the offer of the services of a humanitarian organization, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, to assume the humanitarian functions performed by Protecting Powers under the present Convention.

Any neutral power or any organization invited by the Power concerned or offering itself for these purposes, shall be required to act with a sense of responsibility towards the Party to the conflict on which persons protected by the present Convention depend, and shall be required to furnish sufficient assurances that it is in a position to undertake the appropriate functions and to discharge them impartially.

No derogation from the preceding provisions shall be made by special agreements between Powers one of which is restricted, even temporarily, in its freedom to negotiate with the other Power or its allies by reason of military events, more particularly where the whole, or a substantial part, of the territory of the said Power is occupied.

Whenever in the present Convention mention is made of a Protecting Power, such mention applies to substitute organizations in the sense of the present Article.

Article 11

Conciliation procedure.

In cases where they deem it advisable in the interest of protected persons, particularly in cases of disagreement between the Parties to the conflict as to the application or interpretation of the provisions of the present Convention, the Protecting Powers shall lend their good offices with a view to settling the disagreement.

For this purpose, each of the Protecting Powers may, either at the invitation of one Party or on its own initiative, propose to the Parties to the conflict a meeting of their representatives, and in particular of the authorities responsible for prisoners of war, possibly on neutral territory suitably chosen. The Parties to the conflict shall be bound to give effect to the proposals made to them for this purpose. The Protecting Powers may, if necessary, propose for approval by the Parties to the conflict a person belonging to a neutral Power, or delegated by the International Committee of the Red Cross, who shall be invited to take part in such a meeting.

PART II

GENERAL PROTECTION OF PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 12

Responsibility for the treatment of prisoners.

Prisoners of war are in the hands of the enemy Power, but not of the individuals or military units who have captured them. Irrespective of the individual responsibilities that may exist, the Detaining Power is responsible for the treatment given them.

Prisoners of war may only be transferred by the Detaining Power to a Power which is a party to the Convention and after the Detaining Power has satisfied itself of the willingness and ability of such transferee Power to apply the Convention. When prisoners of war are transferred under such circumstances, responsibility for the application of the Convention rests on the Power accepting them while they are in its custody.

Nevertheless, if that Power fails to carry out the provisions of the Convention in any important respect, the Power by whom the prisoners of war were transferred shall upon being notified by the Protecting Power, take effective measures to correct the situation or shall request the return of the prisoners of war. Such requests must be complied with.

Article 13

Humane treatment of prisoners.

Prisoners of war must at all times be humanely treated. Any unlawful act or omission by the Detaining Power causing death or seriously endangering the health of a prisoner of war in its custody is prohibited and will be regarded as a serious breach of the present Convention. In particular, no prisoner of war may be subjected to physical mutilation or to medical or scientific experiments of any kind which are not justified by the medical, dental or hospital treatment of the prisoner concerned and carried out in his interest.

Likewise, prisoners of war must at all times be protected, particularly against acts of violence or intimidation and against insults and public curiosity.

Measures of reprisal against prisoners of war are prohibited.

Article 14

Respect for the person of prisoners.

Prisoners of war are entitled in all circumstances to respect for their persons and their honour

Women shall be treated with all the regard due to their sex and shall in all cases benefit by treatment as favourable as that granted to men.

Prisoners of war shall retain the full civil capacity which they enjoyed at the time of their capture. The Detaining Power may not restrict the exercise, either within or without its own territory, of the rights such capacity confers except in so far as the captivity requires.

Article 15

Maintenance of prisoners.

The Power detaining prisoners of war shall be bound to provide free of charge for their maintenance and for the medical attention required by their state of health.

Article 16

Equality of treatment.

Taking into consideration the provisions of the present Convention relating to rank and sex, and subject to any privileged treatment which may be accorded to them by reason of their state of health, age or professional qualifications, all prisoners of war shall be treated alike by the Detaining Power, without any adverse distinction based on race, nationality, religious belief or political opinions, or any other distinction founded on similar criteria.

PART III

Captivity

SECTION I

Beginning of captivity

Article 17

Questioning of prisoners.

Every prisoner of war, when questioned on the subject, is bound to give only his surname, first names and rank, date of birth, and army, regimental, personal or serial number, or failing this, equivalent information.

If he wilfully infringes this rule he may render himself liable to a restriction of the privileges accorded to his rank or status.

Each Party to a conflict is required to furnish the persons under its jurisdiction who are liable to become prisoners of war, with an identity card showing the owner's surname, first names, rank, army, regimental, personal or serial number or equivalent information, and date of birth. The identity card may, furthermore, bear the signature or the fingerprints, or both, of the owner, and may bear, as well, any other information the Party to the conflict may wish to add concerning persons belonging to its armed forces. As far as possible the card shall measure 6.5×10cm. and shall be issued in duplicate. The identity card shall be shown by the prisoner of war upon demand, but may in no case be taken away from him.

No physical or mental torture, nor any other form of coercion may be inflicted on prisoners of war to secure from them information of any kind whatever. Prisoners of war who refuse to answer may not be threatened, insulted, or exposed to any unpleasant or disadvantageous treatment of any kind.

Prisoners of war who, owing to their physical or mental condition, are unable to state their identity shall be handed over to the medical service. The identity of such prisoners shall be established by all possible means, subject to the provisions of the preceding paragraph.

The questioning of prisoners of war shall be carried out in a language which they understand.

Article 18

Property of prisoners.

All effects and articles of personal use, except arms, horses, military equipment and military documents, shall remain in the possession of prisoners of war, likewise their metal helmets and gas masks and like articles issued for personal protection. Effects and articles used for their clothing or feeding shall likewise remain in their possession, even if such effects and articles belong to their regulation military equipment.

At no time should prisoners of war be without identity documents. The Detaining Power shall supply such documents to prisoners of war who possess none.

Badges of rank and nationality, decorations and articles having above all a personal or sentimental value may not be taken from prisoners of war.

Sums of money carried by prisoners of war may not be taken away from them except by order of an officer, and after the amount and particulars of the owner have been recorded in a special register and an itemized receipt has been given, legibly inscribed with the name, rank and unit of the person issuing the said receipt. Sums in the currency of the Detaining Power, or which are changed to such currency at the prisoner's request, shall be placed to the credit of the prisoner's account as provided in Article 64.

The Detaining Power may withdraw articles of value from prisoners of war only for reasons of security; when such articles are withdrawn, the procedure laid down for sums of money impounded shall apply.

Such objects likewise the sums taken away in any currency other than that of the Detaining Power, and the conversion of which has not been asked for by the owners, shall be kept in the custody of the Detaining Power and shall be returned in their initial shape to prisoners of war at the end of their captivity.

Article 19

Evacuation of prisoners.

Prisoners of war shall be evacuated as soon as possible after their capture, to camps situated in an area far enough from the combat zone for them to be out of danger.

Only those prisoners of war who, owing to wounds or sickness, would run greater risks by being evacuated than by remaining where they are, may be temporarily kept back in a danger zone.

Prisoners of war shall not be unnecessarily exposed to danger while awaiting evacuation from a fighting zone.

Article 20

Conditions of evacuation.

The evacuation of prisoners of war shall always be effected humanely and in conditions similar to those for the forces of the Detaining Power in their changes of station.

The Detaining Power shall supply prisoners of war who are being evacuated with sufficient food and potable water, and with the necessary clothing and medical attention. The Detaining Power shall take all suitable precautions to ensure their safety during evacuation, and shall establish as soon as possible a list of the prisoners of war who are evacuated.

If prisoners of war must, during evacuation, pass through transit camps, their stay in such camps shall be as brief as possible.

SECTION II

INTERNMENT OF PRISONERS OF WAR

CHAPTER I

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

Article 21

Restriction of liberty of movement.

The Detaining Power may subject prisoners of war to internment. It may impose on them the obligation of not leaving, beyond certain limits, the camp where they are interned, or if the said camp is fenced in, of not going outside its perimeter. Subject to the provisions of the present Convention relative to penal and disciplinary sanctions, prisoners of war may not be held in close confinement except where necessary to safeguard their health and then only during the continuation of the circumstances which make such confinement necessary.

Prisoners of war may be partially or wholly released on parole or promise, in so far as is allowed by the laws of the Power on which they depend. Such measures shall be taken particularly in cases where this may contribute to the improvement of their state of health. No prisoner of war shall be compelled to accept liberty on parole or promise.

Upon the outbreak of hostilities, each Party to the conflict shall notify the adverse Party of the laws and regulations allowing or forbidding its own nationals to accept liberty on parole or promise. Prisoners of war who are paroled or who have given their promise in conformity with the laws and regulations so notified, are bound on their personal honour scrupulously to fulfil, both towards the Power on which they depend and towards the Power which has captured them, the engagements of their paroles of promises In such cases, the Power on which they depend is bound neither to require nor to accept from them any service incompatible with the parole or promise given.

Article 22

Places and conditions of internment.

Prisoners of war may be interned only in premises located on land and affording every guarantee of hygiene and healthfulness. Except in particular cases which are justified by the interest of the prisoners themselves, they shall not be interned in penitentiaries.

Prisoners of war interned in unhealthy areas, or where the climate is injurious for them, shall be removed as soon as possible to a more favourable climate.

The Detaining Power shall assemble prisoners of war in camps or camp compounds according to their nationality, language and customs, provided that such prisoners shall not be separated from prisoners of war belonging to the armed forces with which they were serving at the time of their capture, except with their consent.

Article 23

Security of prisoners.

No prisoner of war may at any time be sent to, or detained in areas where he may be exposed to the fire of the combat zone, nor may his presence be used to render certain points or areas immune from military operations.

Prisners of war shall have shelters against air bombardment and other hazards of war, to the same extent as the local civilian population. With the exception of those engaged in the protection of their quarters against the aforesaid hazards, they may enter such shelters as soon as possible after the giving of the alarm. Any other protective measure taken in favour of the population shall also apply to them.

Detaining Powers shall give the Power concerned, through the intermediary of the Protecting Powers, all useful information regarding the geographical location of prisoner of war camps.

Whenever military considerations permit, prisoner of war camps shall be indicated in the day-time by the letters PW or PG, placed so as to be clearly visible from the air. The Powers concrened may, however, agree upon any other system of marking. Only prisoner of war camps shall be marked as such.

Article 24

Permanent transit camps.

Transit or screening camps of a permanent kind shall be fitted out under conditions similar to those described in the present Section, and the prisoners therein shall have the same treatment as in other camps.

CHAPTER II

QUARTERS, FOOD AND CLOTHING OF PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 25

Quarters.

Prisoners of war shall be quartered under conditions as favourable as those for the forces of the Detaining Power who are billeted in the same area. The said conditions shall make allowance for the habits and customs of the prisoners and shall in no case be prejudicial to their health.

The foregoing provisions shall apply in particular to the dormitories of prisoners of war as regards both total surface and minimum cubic space, and the general installations, bedding and blankets.

The premises provided for the use of prisoners of war individually or collectively, shall be entirely protected from dampness and adequately heated and lighted, in particular between dusk and lights out. All precautions must be taken against the danger of fire.

In any camps in which women prisoners of war, as well as men, are accommodated, separate dormitories shall be provided for them.

Food.

The basic daily food rations shall be sufficient in quantity, quality and variety to keep prisoners of war in good health and to prevent loss of weight or the development of nutritional deficiencies. Account shall also be taken of the habitual diet of the prisoners.

The Detaining Power shall supply prisoners of war who work with such additional rations as are necessary for the labour on which they are employed.

Sufficient drinking water shall be supplied to prisoners of war. The use of tobacco shall be permitted.

Prisoners of war shall, as far as possible, be associated with the preparation of their meals; they may be employed for that purpose in the kitchens. Furthermore, they shall be given the means of preparing, themselves, the additional food in their possession.

Adequate premises shall be provided for messing.

Collective disciplinary measures affecting food are prohibited.

Article 27

Clothing, underwear and footwear shall be supplied to prisoners of war in sufficient quantities by the Detaining Power, which shall make allowance for the climate of the region where the prisoners are detained. Uniforms of enemy armed forces captured by the Detaining Power should, if suitable for the climate, be made available to clothe prisoners of war. Clothing.

The regular replacement and repair of the above articles shall be assumed by the Detaining Power. In addition, prisoners of war who work shall receive appropriate clothing, wherever the nature of the work demands.

Article 28

Canteens shall be installed in all camps, where prisoners of war may procure foodstuffs, soap and tobacco and ordinary articles in daily use. The tariff shall never be in excess of local market prices. Canteens.

The profits made by camp canteens shall be used for the benefit of the prisoners; a special fund shall be created for this purpose. The prisoner's representative shall have the right to collaborate in the management of the canteen and of this fund.

When a camp is closed down, the credit balance of the special fund shall be handed to an international welfare organization, to be employed for the benefit of prisoners of war of the same nationality as those who have contributed to the fund. In case of a general repatriation, such profits shall be kept by the Detaining Power, subject to any agreement to the contrary between the Powers concerned.

CHAPTER III

HYGIENE AND MEDICAL ATTENTION

Article 29

The Detaining Power shall be bound to take all sanitary measures necessary to ensure the cleanliness and healthfulness of camps and to prevent epidemics. Hygiene.

Prisoners of war shall have for their use, day and night, conveniences which conform to the rules of hygiene and are maintained in a constant state of cleanliness. In any camps in which women prisoners of war are accommodated, separate conveniences shall be provided for them.

Also, apart from the baths and showers with which the camps shall be furnished, prisoners of war shall be provided with sufficient water and soap for their personal toilet and for washing their personal laundry; the necessary installations, facilities and time shall be granted them for that purpose.

Article 30

Every camp shall have an adequate infirmary where prisoners of war may have the attention they require as well as appropriate diet. Isolation wards shall, if necessary, be set aside for cases of contagious or mental disease. Medical attention.

Prisoners of war suffering from serious disease, or whose condition necessitates special treatment, a surgical operation or hospital care, must be admitted to any military or civilian medical unit where such treatment can be given, even if their repatriation is contemplated in the near future. Special facilities shall be afforded for the care to be given to the disabled, in particular to the blind, and for their rehabilitation, pending repatriation.

Prisoners of war shall have the attention, preferably, of medical personnel of the Power on which they depend and, if possible, of their nationality.

Prisoners of war may not be prevented from presenting themselves to the medical authorities for examination. The detaining authorities shall, upon request, issue to every prisoner who has undergone treatment, an official certificate indicating the nature of his illness or injury, and the duration and kind of treatment received. A duplicate of this certificate shall be forwarded to the Central Prisoners of War Agency.

The costs of treatment, including those of any apparatus necessary for the maintenance of prisoners of war in good health, particularly dentures and other artificial appliances, and spectacles, shall be borne by the Detaining Power.

Article 31

Medical inspections.

Medical inspections of prisoners of war shall be made at least once a month. They shall include the checking and the recording of the weight of each prisoner of war. Their purpose shall be, in particular, to supervise the general state of health, nutrition and cleanliness of prisoners and to detect contagious diseases, especially tuberculosis, malaria and venereal disease. For this purpose, the most efficient methods available shall be employed, e.g. periodic mass miniature radiography for the early detection of tuberculosis.

Article 32

Prisoners engaged on medical duties.

Prisoners of war who, though not attached to the medical service of their armed forces, are physicians, surgeons, dentists, nurses or medical orderlies, may be required by the Detaining Power to exercise their medical functions in the interests of prisoners of war dependent on the same Power. In that case they shall continue to be prisoners of war, but shall receive the same treatment as corresponding medical personnel retained by the Detaining Power. They shall be exempted from any other work under Article 49.

CHAPTER IV

MEDICAL PERSONNEL AND CHAPLAINS RETAINED TO ASSIST PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 33

Rights and privileges of retained personnel.

Members of the medical personnel and chaplains while retained by the Detaining Power with a view to assisting prisoners of war, shall not be considered as prisoners of war. They shall, however, receive as a minimum the benefits and protection of the present Convention, and shall also be granted all facilities necessary to provide for the medical care of, and religious ministration to prisoners of war.

They shall continue to exercise their medical and spiritual functions for the benefit of prisoners of war, preferably those belonging to the armed forces upon which they depend, within the scope of the military laws and regulations of the Detaining Power and under the control of its competent services, in accordance with their professional etiquette. They shall also benefit by the following facilities in the exercise of their medical or spiritual functions:—

(a) They shall be authorised to visit periodically prisoners of war situated in working detachments or in hospitals outside the camp. For this purpose, the Detaining Power shall place at their disposal the necessary means of transport.

(b) The senior medical officer in each camp shall be responsible to the camp military authorities for everything connected with the activities of retained medical personnel. For this purpose, Parties to the conflict shall agree at the outbreak of hostilities on the subject of the corresponding ranks of the medical personnel, including that of societies mentioned in Article 26 of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949. This senior medical officer, as well as chaplains, shall have the right to deal with the competent authorities of the camp on all questions relating to their duties. Such authorities shall afford them all necessary facilities for correspondence relating to these questions.

(c) Although they shall be subject to the internal discipline of the camp in which they are retained, such personnel may not be compelled to carry out any work other than that concerned with their medical or religious duties.

During hostilities, the Parties to the conflict shall agree concerning the possible relief of retained personnel and shall settle the procedure to be followed.

None of the preceding provisions shall relieve the Detaining Power of its obligations with regard to prisoners of war from the medical or spiritual point of view.

CHAPTER V

RELIGIOUS, INTELLECTUAL AND PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES

Article 34

Religious duties.

Prisoners of war shall enjoy complete latitude in the exercise of their religious duties, including attendance at the service of their faith, on condition that they comply with the disciplinary routine prescribed by the military authorities.

Adequate premises shall be provided where religious services may be held.

Article 35

Retained chaplains.

Chaplains who fall into the hands of the enemy Power and who remain or are retained with a view to assisting prisoners of war, shall be allowed to minister to them and to exercise freely their ministry amongst prisoners of war of the same religion, in accordance with their religious conscience. They shall be allocated among the various camps and labour detachments containing prisoners of war belonging to the same forces, speaking the same language or practising the same religion. They shall enjoy the necessary facilities, including the means of transport provided for in Article 33, for visiting the prisoners of war outside their camp. They shall be free to correspond, subject to censorship, on matters concerning their religious duties with the ecclesiastical authorities in the country of detention and with the international religious organizations. Letters and cards which they may send for this purpose shall be in addition to the quota provided for in Article 71.

Article 36

Prisoners who are ministers of religion.

Prisoners of war who are ministers of religion, without having officiated as chaplains to their own forces, shall be at liberty, whatever their denomination, to minister freely to the members of their community. For this purpose, they shall receive the same treatment as the chaplains retained by the Detaining Power. They shall not be obliged to do any other work.

Article 37

Prisoners without a minister of their religion.

When prisoners of war have not the assistance of a retained chaplain or of a prisoner of war minister of their faith, a minister belonging to the prisoners' or a similar denomination, or in his absence a qualified layman, if such a course is feasible from a confessional point of view, shall be appointed at the request of the prisoners concerned to fill this office. This appointment, subject to the approval of the Detaining Power, shall take place with the agreement of the community of prisoners concerned and, wherever necessary, with the approval of the local religious authorities of the same faith. The person thus appointed shall comply with all regulations established by the Detaining Power in the interests of discipline and military security.

Article 38

Recreation, study sports and games.

While respecting the individual preferences of every prisoner, the Detaining Power shall encourage the practice of intellectual, educational, and recreational pursuits, sports and games amongst prisoners, and shall take the measures necessary to ensure the exercise thereof by providing them with adequate premises and necessary equipment.

Prisoners shall have opportunities for taking physical exercise including sports and games and for being out of doors. Sufficient open spaces shall be provided for this purpose in all camps.

CHAPTER VI

DISCIPLINE

Article 39

Administration

Every prisoner of war camp shall be put under the immediate authority of a responsible commissioned officer belonging to the regular armed forces of the Detaining Power. Such officer shall have in his possession a copy of the present Convention; he shall ensure that its provisions are known to the camp staff and the guard and shall be responsible, under the direction of his government, for its application.

Saluting.

Prisoners of war, with the exception of officers, must salute and show to all officers of the Detaining Power the external marks of respect provided for by the regulations applying in their own forces.

Officer prisoners of war are bound to salute only officers of a higher rank of the Detaining Power; they must, however, salute the camp commander regardless of his rank.

Article 40

Badges and decorations.

The wearing of badges of rank and nationality, as well as of decorations shall be permitted.

Article 41

Posting of the Convention, and of regulations and orders concerning prisoners.

In every camp the text of the present Convention and its Annexes and the contents of any special agreement provided for in Article 6, shall be posted, in the prisoners' own language, at places where all may read them. Copies shall be supplied, on request, to the prisoners who cannot have access to the copy which has been posted.

Regulations, orders, notices and publications of every kind relating to the conduct of prisoners of war shall be issued to them in a language which they understand. Such regulations, orders and publications shall be posted in the manner described above and copies shall be handed to the prisoners' representative. Every order and command addressed to prisoners of war individually must likewise be given in a language which they understand.

Article 42

Use of weapons

The use of weapons against prisoners of war, especially against those who are escaping or attempting to escape, shall constitute an extreme measure, which shall always be preceded by warnings appropriate to the circumstances.

CHAPTER VII

Rank of prisoners of war

Article 43

Notification of ranks.

Upon the outbreak of hostilities, the Parties to the conflict shall communicate to one another the titles and ranks of all the persons mentioned in Article 4 of the present Convention, in order to ensure equality of treatment between prisoners of equivalent rank. Titles and ranks which are subsequently created shall form the subject of similar communications

The Detaining Power shall recognize promotions in rank which have been accorded to prisoners of war and which have been duly notified by the Power on which these prisoners depend.

Article 44

Treatment of officers.

Officers and prisoners of equivalent status shall be treated with the regard due to their rank and age.

In order to ensure service in officers' camps, other ranks of the same armed forces who, as far as possible, speak the same language, shall be assigned in sufficinet numbers, account being taken of the rank of officers and prisoners of equivalent status. Such orderlies shall not be required to perform any other work.

Supervision of the mess by the officers themselves shall be facilitated in every way.

Article 45

Treatment of other prisoners.

Prisoners of war other than officers and prisoners of equivalent status shall be treated with the regard due to their rank and age.

Supervision of the mess of the prisoners themselves shall be facilitated in every way.

CHAPTER VIII

TRANSFER OF PRISONERS OF WAR AFTER THEIR ARRIVAL IN CAMP

Article 46

Conditions.

The Detaining Power, when deciding upon the transfer of prisoners of war, shall take into account the interests of the prisoners themselves, more especially so as not to increase the difficulty of their repatriation.

The transfer of prisoners of war shall always be effected humanely and in conditions not less favourable than those under which the forces of the Detaining Power are transferred. Account shall always be taken of the climatic conditions to which the prisoners of war are accustomed and the conditions of transfer shall in no case be prejudicial to their health.

The Detaining Power shall supply prisoners of war during transfer with sufficient food and drinking water to keep them in good health, likewise with the necessary clothing, shelter and medical attention. The Detaining Power shall take adequate precautions especially in case of transport by sea or by air, to ensure their safety during transfer, and shall draw up a complete list of all transferred prisoners before their departure.

Article 47

Circumstances precluding transfer.

Sick or wounded prisoners of war shall not be transferred as long as their recovery may be endangered by the journey, unless their safety imperatively demands it.

If the combat zone draws closer to a camp, the prisoners of war in the said camp shall not be transfered unless their transfer can be carried out in adequate conditions of safety, or unless they are exposed to greater risks by remaining on the spot than by being transferred.

Article 48

Procedure for transfer.

In the event of transfer, prisoners of war shall be officially advised of their departure and of their new postal address. Such notifications shall be given in time for them to pack their luggage and inform their next of kin.

They shall be allowed to take with them their personal effects, and the correspondence and parcels which have arrived for them. The weight of such baggage may be limited, if the conditions of transfer so require, to what each prisoner can reasonably carry, which shall in no case be more than twenty-five kilograms per head.

Mail and parcels addressed to their former camp shall be forwarded to them without delay. The camp commander shall take, in agreement with the prisoners' representative, any measures needed to ensure the transport of the prisoners' community property and of the luggage they are unable to take with them in consequence of restrictions imposed by virtue of the second paragraph of this Article.

The costs of transfers shall be borne by the Detaining Power

LABOUR OF PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 49

General observations.

The Detaining Power may utilize the labour of prisoners of war who are physically fit, taking into account their age, sex, rank and physical aptitude, and with a view particularly to maintaining them in a good state of physical and mental health.

Non-commissioned officers who are prisoners of war shall only be required to do supervisory work. Those not so required may ask for other suitable work which shall, so far as possible, be found for them.

If officers or persons of equivalent status ask for suitable work, it shall be found for them, so far as possible, but they may in no circumstances be compelled to work.

Article 50

Authorized work.

Besides work connected with camp administration, installation or maintenance, prisoners of war may be compelled to do only such work as is included in the following classes:—

(a) agriculture;

(b) industries connected with the production or the extraction of raw materials, and manufacturing industries, with the exception of metallurgical, machinery and chemical industries; public works and building operations which have no military character or purpose;

(c) transport and handling of stores which are not military in character or purpose;

(d) commercial business, and arts and crafts;

(e) domestic service;

(f) public utility services having no military character or purpose.

Should the above provisions be infringed, prisoners of war shall be allowed to exercise their right of complaint, in conformity with Article 78.

Article 51

Working conditions.

Prisoners of war must be granted suitable working conditions, especially as regards accommodation, food, clothing and equipment; such conditions shall not be inferior to those enjoyed by nationals of the Detaining Power employed in similar work; account shall also be taken of climatic conditions.

The Detaining Power, in utilizing the labour of prisoners of war, shall ensure that in areas in which prisoners are employed, the national legislation concerning the protection of labour, and, more particularly, the regulations for the safety of workers, are duly applied.

Prisoners of war shall receive training and be provided with the means of protection suitable to the work they will have to do and similar to those accorded to the nationals of the Detaining Power. Subject to the provisions of Article 52, prisoners may be submitted to the normal risks run by these civilian workers.

Conditions of labour shall in no case be rendered more arduous by disciplinary measures.

Article 52

Dangerous or humiliating labour.

Unless he be a volunteer, no prisoner of war may be employed on labour which is of an unhealthy or dangerous nature.

No prisoner of war shall be assigned to labour which would be looked upon as humiliating for a member of the Detaining Power's own forces.

The removal of mines or similar devices shall be considered as dangerous labour.

Article 53

Duration of labour.

The duration of the daily labour of prisoners of war, including the time of the journey to and fro, shall not be excessive, and must in no case exceed that permitted for civilian workers in the district, who are nationals of the Detaining Power and employed on the same work.

Prisoners of war must be allowed, in the middle of the day's work, a rest of not less than one hour. This rest will be the same as that to which workers of the Detaining Power are entitled, if the latter is of longer duration. They shall be allowed in addition a rest of twenty-four consecutive hours every week, preferably on Sunday or the day of rest in their country of origin. Furthermore, every prisoner who has worked for one year shall be granted a rest of eight consecutive days, during which his working pay shall be paid to him.

If methods of labour such as piece work are employed, the length of the working period shall not be rendered excessive thereby.

Article 54

Working pay, occupational accidents and diseases.

The working pay due to prisoners of war shall be fixed in accordance with the provisions of Article 62 of the present Convention.

Prisoners of war who sustain accidents in connection with work, or who contract a disease in the course, or in consequence of their work, shall receive all the care their condition may require. The Detaining Power shall furthermore deliver to such prisoners of war a medical certificate enabling them to submit their claims to the Power on which they depend, and shall send a duplicate to the Central Prisoners of War Agency provided for in Article 123.

Article 55

Medical supervision.

The fitness of prisoners of war for work shall be periodically verified by medical examinations, at least once a month. The examinations shall have particular regard to the nature of the work which prisoners of war are required to do.

If any prisoner of war considers himself incapable of working, he shall be permitted to appear before the medical authorities of his camp; Physicians or surgeons may recommend that the prisoners who are, in their opinion, unfit for work, be exempted therefrom.

Article 56

Labour detachments.

The organization and administration of labour detachments shall be similar to those of prisoner of war camps.

Every labour detachment shall remain under the control of and administratively part of a prisoner of war camp. The military authorities and the commander of the said camp shall be responsible, under the direction of their government, for the observance of the provisions of the present Convention in labour detachments.

The camp commander shall keep an up-to-date record of the labour detachments dependent on his camp, and shall communicate it to the delegates of the Protecting Power of the International Committee of the Red Cross, or of other agencies giving relief to prisoners of war, who may visit the camp.

Article 57

Prisoners working for private employers.

The treatment of prisoners of war who work for private persons, even if the latter are responsible for guarding and protecting them, shall not be inferior to that which is provided for by the present Convention. The Detaining Power, the military authorities and the commander of the camp to which such prisoners belong shall be entirely responsible for the maintenance, care, treatment, and payment of the working pay of such prisoners of war.

Such prisoners of war shall have the right to remain in communication with the prisoners' representatives in the camps on which they depend.

SECTION IV

FINANCIAL RESOURCES OF PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 58

Ready money.

Upon the outbreak of hostilities, and pending an arrangement on this matter which the Protecting Power, the Deatining Power may determine the maximum amount of money in cash or in any similar form, that prisoners may have in their possession. Any amount in excess, which was properly in their possession and which has been taken or withheld from them, shall be placed to their account, together with any monies deposited by them, and shall not be converted into any other currency without their consent.

If prisoners of war are permitted to purchase services or commodities outside the camp against payment in cash, such payments shall be made by the prisoner himself or the camp administration who will charge them to the accounts of the prisoners concerned. The Detaining Power will establish the necessary rules in this respect.

Article 59

Amounts in cash taken from prisoners.

Cash which was taken from prisoners of war, in accordance with Article 18, at the time of their capture, and which is in the currency of the Detaining Power, shall be placed to their separate accounts in accordance with the provisions of Article 64 of the present Section.

The amounts, in the currency of the Detaining Power, due to the conversion of sums in other currencies that are taken from the prisoners of war at the same time, shall also be credited to their separate accounts.

Article 60

Advances of pay.

The Detaining Power shall grant all prisoners of war a monthly advance of pay, the amount of which shall be fixed by conversion, into the currency of the said Power, of the following amounts:—

Category I: Prisoners ranking below sergeants: eight Swiss francs.

Category II: Sergeants and other non-commissioned officers, or prisoners of equivalent rank: twelve Swiss francs.

Category III: Warant officers and commissioned officers below the rank of major or prisoners of equivalent rank: fifty Swiss francs.

Category IV: Majors, lieutenant-colonels, colonels or prisoners of equivalent rank: sixty Swiss francs.

Category V: General officers or prisoners of war of equivalent rank: seventy-five Swiss francs.

However, the Parties to the conflict concerned may by special agreement modify the amount of advances of pay due to prisoners of the preceding categories.

Furthermore, if the amounts indicated in the first paragraph above would be unduly high compared with the pay of the Detaining Power's armed forces or would, for any reason, seriously embarrass the Detaining Power, then, pending the conclusion of a special agreement with the Power on which the prisoners depend to vary the amounts indicated above, the Detaining Power—

(a) shall continue to credit the accounts of the prisoners with the amounts indicated in the first paragraph above;

(b) may temporarily limit the amount made available from these advances of pay to prisoners of war for their own use, to sums which are reasonable, but which, for Category I, shall never be inferior to the amount that the Detaining Power gives to the members of its own armed forces.

The reasons for any limitations will be given without delay to the Protecting Power.

Article 61

Supplementary pay.

The Detaining Power shall accept for distribution as supplementary pay to prisoners of war sums which the Power on which the prisoners depend may forward to them, on condition that the sums to be paid shall be the same for each prisoner of the same category, shall be payable to all prisoners of that category depending on that Power, and shall be placed in their separate accounts, at the earliest opportunity, in accordance with the provisions of Article 64. Such supplementary pay shall not relieve the Detaining Power of any obligation under this Convention.

Article 62

Working pay.

Prisoners of war shall be paid a fair working rate of pay by the detaining authorities direct. The rate shall be fixed by the said authorities, but shall at no time be less than one-fourth of one Swiss franc for a full working day. The Detaining Power shall inform prisoners of war, as well as the Power on which they depend, through the intermediary of the Protecting Power, of the rate of daily working pay that it has fixed.

Working pay shall likewise be paid by the detaining authorities to prisoners of war permanently detailed to duties or to a skilled or semi-skilled occupation in connection with the administration, installation or maintenance of camps, and to the prisoners who are required to carry out spiritual or medical duties on behalf of their comrades.

The working pay of the prisoners' representative, of his advisers, if any, and of his assistants, shall be paid out of the fund maintained by canteen profits. The scale of this working pay shall be fixed by the prisoners' representative and approved by the camp commander. If there is no such fund, the detaining authorities shall pay these prisoners a fair working rate of pay.

Article 63

Transfer of funds.

Prisoners of war shall be permitted to receive remittances of money addressed to them individually or collectively.

Every prisoner of war shall have at his disposal the credit balance of his account as provided for in the following Article, within the limits fixed by the Detaining Power, which shall make such payments as are requested. Subject to financial or monetary restrictions which the Detaining Power regards as essential, prisoners of war may also have payments made abroad. In this case payments addressed by prisoners of war to dependents shall be given priority.

In any event, and subject to the consent of the Power on which they depend, prisoners may have payments made in their own country, as follows: the Detaining Power shall send to the aforesaid Power through the Protecting Power, a notification giving all the necessary particulars concerning the prisoners of war, the beneficiaries of the payments, and the amount of the sums to be paid, expressed in the Detaining Power's currency. The said notification shall be signed by the prisoners and countersigned by the camp commander. The Detaining Power shall debit the prisoners' account by a corresponding amount; the sums thus debited shall be placed by it to the credit of the Power on which the prisoners depend.

To apply the foregoing provisions, the Detaining Power may usefully consult the Model Regulations in Annex V of the present Convention.

Article 64

Prisoners' accounts.

The Detaining Power shall hold an account for each prisoner of war, showing at least the following:—

(1) The amounts due to the prisoner or received by him as advances of pay, as working pay or derived from any other source; the sums in the currency of the Detaining Power which were taken from him, the sums taken from him and converted at his request into the currency of the said Power.

(2) The payments made to the prisoner in cash, or in any other similar form; the payments made on his behalf and at his request; the sums transferred under Article 63, third paragraph.

Article 65

Management of prisoners' accounts.

Every item entered in the account of a prisoner of war shall be countersigned or initialled by him, or by the prisoners' representative acting on his behalf.

Prisoners of war shall at all times be afforded reasonable facilities for consulting and obtaining copies of their accounts, which may likewise be inspected by the representatives of the Protecting Powers at the time of visits to the camp.

When prisoners of war are transferred from one camp to another, their personal accounts will follow them. In case of transfer from one Detaining Power to another, the monies which are their property and are not in the currency of the Detaining Power will follow them. They shall be given certificates for any other monies standing to the credit of their accounts.

The Parties to the conflict concerned may agree to notify to each other at specific intervals through the Protecting Power, the amount of the accounts of the prisoners of war.

Article 66

Winding up of accounts.

On the termination of captivity, through the release of a prisoner of war or his repatriation, the Detaining Power shall give him a statement, signed by an authorized officer of that Power, showing the credit balance then due to him. The Detaining Power shall also send through the Protecting Power to the government upon which the prisoner of war depends, lists giving all appropriate particulars of all prisoners of war whose captivity has been terminated by repatriation, release, escape, death or any other means, and showing the amount of their credit balances. Such lists shall be certified on each sheet by an authorized representative of the Detaining Power.

Any of the above provisions of this Article may be varied by mutual agreement between any two Parties to the conflict.

The Power on which the prisoner of war depends shall be responsible for settling with him any credit balance due to him from the Detaining Power on the termination of his captivity.

Article 67

Adjustments between Parties to the conflict.

Advances of pay, issued to prisoners of war in conformity with Article 60, shall be considered as made on behalf of the power on which they depend. Such advances of pay, as well as all payments made by the said Power under Article 63, third paragraph, and Article 68, shall form the subject of arrangements between the Powers concerned, at the close of hostilities.

Article 68

Claims for compensation.

Any claim by a prisoner of war for compensation in respect of any injury or other disability arising out of work shall be referred to the Power on which he depends, through the Protecting Power. In accordance with Article 54, the Detaining Power will, in all cases, provide the prisoner of war concerned with a statement showing the nature of the injury or disability, the circumstances in which it arose and particulars of medical or hospital treatment given for it. This statement will be signed by a responsible officer of the Detaining Power and the medical particulars certified by a medical officer.

Any claim by a prisoner of war for compensation in respect of personal effects, monies or valuables impounded by the Detaining Power under Article 18 and not forthcoming on his repatriation, or in respect of loss alleged to be due to the fault of the Detaining Power or any of its servants, shall likewise be referred to the Power on which he depends. Nevertheless, any such personal effects required for use by the prisoners of war whilst in captivity shall be replaced at the expense of the Detaining Power. The Detaining Power will, in all cases, provide the prisoner of war with a statement, signed by a responsible officer, showing all available information regarding the reasons why such effects, monies or valuables have not been restored to him. A copy of this statement will be forwarded to the Power on which he depends through the Central Agency for Prisoners of War provided for in Article 123.

SECTION V

RELATIONS OF PRISONERS OF WAR WITH THE EXTERIOR

Article 69

Notification of measures taken.

Immediately upon prisoners of war falling into its power, the Detaining Power shall inform them and the Powers on which they depend, through the Protecting Power, of the measures taken to carry out the provisions of the present Section. They shall likewise inform the parties concerned of any subsequent modifications of such measures.

Article 70

Capture card.

Immediately upon capture, or not more than one week after arrival at a camp, even if it is a transit camp, likewise in case of sickness or transfer to hospital or another camp, every prisoner of war shall be enabled to write direct to his family, on the one hand, and to the Central Prisoners of War Agency provided for in Article 123, on the other hand, a card similar, if possible, to the model annexed to the present Convention, informing his relatives of his capture, address and state of health. The said cards shall be forwarded as rapidly as possible and may not be delayed in any manner.

Article 71

Correspondence.

Prisoners of war shall be allowed to send and receive letters and cards. If the Detaining Power deems it necessary to limit the number of letters and cards sent by each prisoner of war, the said number shall not be less than two letters and four cards monthly exclusive of the capture cards provided for in Article 70, and conforming as closely as possible to the models annexed to the present Convention. Further limitations may be imposed only if the Protecting Power is satisfied that it would be in the interests of the prisoners of war concerned to do so owing to difficulties of translation caused by the Detaining Power's inability to find sufficient qualified linguists to carry out the necessary censorship. If limitations must be placed on the correspondence addressed to prisoners of war, they may be ordered only by the Power on which the prisoners depend, possibly at the request of the Detaining Power. Such letters and cards must be conveyed by the most rapid method at the disposal of the Detaining Power; they may not be delayed or retained for disciplinary reasons.

Prisoners of war who have been without news for a long period, or who are unable to receive news from their next of kin or to give them news by the ordinary postal route, as well as those who are at a great distance from their homes, shall be permitted to send telegrams, the fees being charged against the prisoners of war's accounts with the Detaining Power or paid in the currency at their disposal. They shall likewise benefit by this measure in cases of urgency.

As a general rule, the correspondence of prisoners of war shall be written in their native language. The Parties to the conflict may allow correspondence in other languages.

Sacks containing prisoner of war mail must be securely sealed and labelled so as clearly to indicate their contents and must be addressed to offices of destination.

Article 72

Relief shipments.

I. General Principles.

Prisoners of war shall be allowed to receive by post or by any other means individual parcels or collective shipments containing, in particular, foodstuffs, clothing, medical supplies and articles of a religious, educational or recreational character which may meet their needs, including books, devotional articles, scientific equipment, examination papers, musical instruments, sports outfits and materials allowing prisoners of war to pursue their studies or their cultural activities.

Such shipments shall in no way free the Detaining Power from the obligations imposed upon it by virtue of the present Convention.

The only limits which may be placed on these shipments shall be those proposed by the Protecting Power in the interest of the prisoners themselves, or by the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other organization giving assistance to the prisoners, in respect of their own shipments only, on account of exceptional strain on transport or communications.

The conditions for the sending of individual parcels and collective relief shall, if necessary, be the subject of special agreements between the Powers concerned, which may in no case delay the receipt by the prisoners of relief supplies. Books may not be included in parcels of clothing and foodstuffs. Medical supplies shall, as a rule, be sent in collective parcels.

Article 73

II. Collective relief.

In the absence of special agreements between the Powers concerned on the conditions for the receipt and distribution of collective relief shipments, the rules and regulations concerning collective shipments, which are annexed to the present Convention, shall be applied.

The special agreements referred to above shall in no case restrict the right of prisoners' representatives to take possession of collective relief shipments intended for prisoners of war, to proceed to their distribution or to dispose of them in the interest of the prisoners.

Nor shall such agreements restrict the right of representatives of the Protecting Power, the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other organisation giving assistance to prisoners of war and responsible for the forwarding of collective shipments, to supervise their distribution to the recipients.

Article 74

Exemption from postal and transport charges.

All relief shipments for prisoners of war shall be exempt from import, customs and other dues.

Correspondence, relief shipments and authorized remittances of money addressed to prisoners of war or despatched by them through the post office, either direct or through the Information Bureaux provided for in Article 122 and the Central Prisoners of War Agency provided for in Article 123, shall be exempt from any postal dues, both in the countries of origin and destination, and in intermediate countries.

If relief shipments intended for prisoners of war cannot be sent through the post office by reason of weight or for any other cause, the cost of transportation shall be borne by the Detaining Power in all the territories under its control. The other Powers party to the Convention, shall bear the cost transport in their respective territories.

In the absence of special agreements between the Parties concerned, the costs connected with transport of such shipments, other than costs covered by the above exemption, shall be charged to the senders.

The High Contracting Parties shall endeavour to reduce, as far as possible, the rates charged for telegrams sent by prisoners of war, or addressed to them.

Article 75

Special means of transport.

Should military operations prevent the Powers concerned from fulfilling their obligation to assure the transport of the shipments referred to in Articles 70, 71, 72 and 77, the Protecting Powers concerned, the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other organization duly approved by the Parties to the conflict may undertake to ensure the conveyance of such shipments by suitable means (railway wagons, motor vehicles, vessels or aircraft, etc.). For this purpose, the High Contracting Parties shall endeavour to supply them with such transport and to allow its circulation, especially by granting the necessary safe-conducts.

Such transport may also be used to convey—

(a) correspondence, lists and reports exchanged between the Central Information Agency referred to in Article 123 and the National Bureaux referred to in Article 122;

(b) correspondence and reports relating to prisoners of war which the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other body assisting the prisoners, exchange either with their own delegates or with the Parties to the conflict.

These provisions in no way detract from the right of any Party to the conflict to arrange other means of transport, if it should so prefer, nor preclude the granting of safe-conducts, under mutually agreed conditions, to such means of transport.

In the absence of special agreements, the costs occasioned by the use of such means of transport shall be borne proportionally by the Parties to the conflict whose nationals are benefited thereby.

Article 76

Censorship and examination.

The censoring of correspondence addressed to prisoners of war or despatched by them shall be done as quickly as possible. Mail shall be censored only by the despatching State and the receiving State, and once only by each.

The examination of consignments intended for prisoners of war shall not be carried out under conditions that will expose the goods contained in them to deterioration; except in the case of written or printed matter, it shall be done in the presence of the addressee, or of a fellow-prisoner duly delegated by him. The delivery to prisoners of individual or collective consignments shall not be delayed under the pretext of difficulties of censorship.

Any prohibition of correspondence ordered by Parties to the conflict, either for military or political reasons, shall be only temporary and its duration shall be as short as possible.

Article 77

Preparation, execution and transmission of legal documents.

The Detaining Powers shall provide all facilities for the transmission, through the Protecting Power or the Central Prisoners of War Agency provided for in Article 123, of instruments, papers or documents intended for prisoners of war or despatched by them, especially powers of attorney and wills.

In all cases they shall facilitate the preparation and execution of such documents on behalf of prisoners of war; in particular, they shall allow them to consult a lawyer and shall take what measures are necessary for the authentication of their signatures.

SECTION VI

RELATIONS BETWEEN PRISONERS OF WAR AND THE AUTHORITIES

CHAPTER I

COMPLAINTS OF PRISONERS OF WAR RESPECTING THE CONDITIONS OF CAPTIVITY

Article 78

Complaints and requests.

Prisoners of war shall have the right to make known to the military authorities in whose power they are, their requests regarding the conditions of captivity to which they are subjected.

They shall also have the unrestricted right to apply to the representatives of the Protecting Powers either through their prisoners' representative or, if they consider it necessary, direct, in order to draw their attention to any points on which they may have complaints to make regarding their conditions of captivity.

These requests and complaints shall not be limited nor considered to be a part of the correspondence quota referred to in Article 71. They must be transmitted immediately. Even if they are recognized to be unfounded, they may not give rise to any punishment.

Prisoners' representatives may send periodic reports on the situation in the camps and the needs of the prisoners of war to the representatives of the Protecting Powers.

CHAPTER II

PRISONERS OF WAR REPRESENTATIVES

Election.

In all places where there are prisoners of war, except in those where there are officers, the prisoners shall freely elect by secret ballot, every six months, and also in case of vacancies, prisoners' representatives entrusted with representing them before the military authorities, the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross and any other organization which may assist them. These prisoners' representatives shall be eligible for re-election.

In camps for officers and persons of equivalent status or in mixed camps, the senior officer among the prisoners of war shall be recognised as the camp prisoners' representatives. In camps for officers, he shall be assisted by one or more advisers chosen by the officers; in mixed camps, his assistants shall be chosen from among the prisoners of war who are not officers and shall be elected by them.

Officer prisoners of war of the same nationality shall be stationed in labour camps for prisoners of war, for the purpose of carrying out the camp administration duties for which the prisoners of war are responsible. These officers may be elected as prisoners' representatives under the first paragraph of this Article. In such a case the assistants to the prisoners' representatives shall be chosen from among those prisoners of war who are not officers.

Every representative elected must be approved by the Detaining Power before he has the right to commence his duties. Where the Detaining Power refuses to approve a prisoner of war elected by his fellow prisoners of war, it must inform the Protecting Power of the reason for such refusal.

In all cases the prisoners' representative must have the same nationality, language and customs as the prisoners of war whom he represents. Thus prisoners of war distributed in different sections of a camp, according to their nationality, language or customs, shall have for each section their own prisoners' representative, in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs.

Article 80

Duties.

Prisoners' representatives shall further the physical, spiritual and intellectual well-being of prisoners of war.

In particular, where the prisoners decide to organize amongst themselves a system of mutual assistance, this organization will be within the province of the prisoners' representatives, in addition to the special duties entrusted to him by other provisions of the present Convention

Prisoners' representatives shall not be held responsible, simply by reason of their duties, for any offences committed by prisoners of war.

Prerogatives.

Prisoners' representatives shall not be required to perform any other work, if the accomplishment of their duties is thereby made more difficult.

Prisoners' representatives may appoint from amongst the prisoners such assistants as they may require. All material facilities shall be granted them, particularly a certain freedom of movement necessary for the accomplishment of their duties (inspection of labour detachments, receipt of supplies, etc.).

Prisoners' representatives shall be permitted to visit premises where prisoners of war are detained, and every prisoner of war shall have the right to consult freely his prisoners' representatives.

All facilities shall likewise be accorded to the prisoners' representatives for communication by post and telegraph with the detaining authorities, the Protecting Powers, the International Committe of the Red Cross and their delegates, the Mixed Medical Commissions and with the bodies which give assistance to prisoners of war. Prisoners' representatives of labour detachments shall enjoy the same facilities for communication with the prisoners' representatives of the principal camp. Such communications shall not be restricted, nor considered as forming a part of the quota mentioned in Article 71.

Prisoners' representatives who are transferred shall be allowed a reasonable time to acquaint their successors with current affairs.

In case of dismissal the reasons therefor shall be communicated to the Protecting Power.

CHAPTER III

PENAL AND DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS

I. Central Provisions

Article 82

Applicable legislation.

A prisoner of war shall be subject to the laws, regulations and orders in force in the armed forces of the Detaining Power; the Detaining Power shall be justified in taking judicial or disciplinary measures in respect of any offence committed by a prisoner of war against such laws, regulations or orders. However, no proceedings or punishments contrary to the provisions of this Chapter shall be allowed.

If any law, regulation or order of the Detaining Power shall declare acts committed by a prisoner of war to be punishable, whereas the same acts would not be punishable if committed by a member of the forces of the Detaining Power, such acts shall entail disciplinary punishments only.

Article 83

Choice of disciplinary or judicial proceeding.

In deciding whether proceedings in respect of an offence alleged to have been committed by a prisoner of war shall be judicial or disciplinary, the Detaining Power shall ensure that the competent authorities exercise the greatest leniency and adopt, wherever possible, disciplinary rather than judicial measures.

Article 84

Courts.

A prisoner of war shall be tried only by a military court unless the existing laws of the Detaining Power expressly permit the civil courts to try a member of the armed forces of the Detaining Power in respect of the particular offence alleged to have been committed by the prisoner of war.

In no circumstances whatever shall a prisoner of war be tried by a court of any kind which dose not offer the essential guarantees of independence and impartiality as generally recognized, and, in particular, the procedure of which does not afford the accused the rights and means of defence provided for in Article 105.

Article 85

Offences committed before capture.

Prisoners of war prosecuted under the law of the Detaining Power for acts committed prior to capture shall retain, even if convicted, the benefits of the present Convention.

Article 86

"Non bis in idem."

No prisoner of war may be punished more than once for the same act or on the same charge.

Article 87

Penalties.

Prisoners of war may not be sentenced by the military authorities and courts of the Detaining Power to any penalties except those provided for in respect of members of the armed forces of the said Power who have committed the same acts.

When fixing the penalty, the courts or authorities of the Detaining Power shall take into consideration, to the widest extent possible, the fact that the accused, not being a national of the Detaining Power, is not bound to it by any duty of allegiance, and that he is in its power as the result of circumstances independent of his own will. The said courts or authorities shall be at liberty to reduce the penalty provided for the violation of which the prisoner of war is accused, and shall therefore not be bound to apply the minimum penalty prescribed.

Collective punishment for individual acts, corporal punishments, imprisonment in premises without daylight and, in general, any form of torture or cruelty, are forbidden.

No prisoner of war may be deprived of his rank by the Detaining Power or prevented from wearing his badges.

Article 88

Execution of penalties

Officers, non-commissioned officers and men who are prisoners of war undergoing a disciplinary or judicial punishment, shall not be subjected to more severe treatment than that applied in respect of the same punishment to members of the armed forces of the Detaining Power of equivalent rank.

A woman prisoner of war shall not be awarded or sentenced to a punishment more severe, or treated whilst undergoing punishment more severely, than a woman member of the armed forces of the Detaining Power dealt with for a similar offence.

In no case may a woman prisoner of war be awarded or sentenced to a punishment more severe, or treated whilst undergoing punishment more severely, than a male member of the armed forces of the Detaining Power dealt with for a similar offence.

Prisoners of war who have served disciplinary or judicial sentences may not be treated differently from other prisoners of war.

II. Disciplinary sanctions

Article 89

The disciplinary punishments applicable to prisoners of war are the following:— General observations.

(1) A fine which shall not exceed 50 per cent. of the advances of pay and working pay which the prisoners of war would otherwise receive under the provisions of Articles 60 and 62 during a period of not more than thirty days. I. Forms of Punishment.

(2) Discontinuance of privileges granted over and above the treatment provided for by the present Convention.

(3) Fatigue duties not exceeding two hours daily.

(4) Confinement.

The punishment referred to under (3) shall not be applied to officers.

In no case shall disciplinary punishments be inhuman, brutal or dangerous to the health of prisoners of war.

Article 90

The duration of any single punishment shall in no case exceed thirty days. Any period of confinement awaiting the hearing of a disciplinary offence or the award of disciplinary punishment shall be deducted from an award pronounced against a prisoner of war. II. Duration of punishments.

The maximum of thirty days provided above may not be exceeded, even if the prisoner of war is answerable for several acts at the same time when he is awarded punishment, whether such acts are related or not.

The period between the pronouncing of an award of disciplinary punishment and its execution shall not exceed one month.

When a prisoner of war is awarded a further disciplinary punishment, a period of at least three days shall elapse between the execution of any two of the punishments, if the duration of one of these is ten days or more.

Article 91

The escape of a prisoner of war shall be deemed to have succeeded when— Escapes. I. Successful escape.

(1) he has joined the armed forces of the power on which he depends, or those of an allied power;

(2) he has left the territory under the control of the Detaining Power, or of an ally of the said power;

(3) he has joined a ship flying the flag of a power on which he depends, or of an allied Power, in the territorial waters of the Detaining Power, the said ship not being under the control of the last named Power.

Prisoners of war who have made good their escape in the sense of this Article and who are recaptured, shall not be liable to any punishment in respect of their previous escape.

Article 92

II. Unsuccessful escape.

A prisoner of war who attempts to escape and is recaptured before having made good his escape in the sense of Article 91 shall be liable only to a disciplinary punishment, in respect of this act, even if it is a repeated offence.

A prisoner of war who is recaptured shall be handed over without delay to the competent military authority.

Article 88, fourth paragraph, notwithstanding, prisoners of war punished as a result of an unsuccessful escape may be subjected to special surveillance. Such surveillance must not affect the state of their health, must be undergone in a prisoner of war camp, and must not entail the suppression of any of the safeguards granted them by the present Convention.

Article 93

III. Connected offences.

Escape or attempt to escape, even if it is a repeated offence, shall not be deemed an aggravating circumstance if the prisoner of war is subjected to trial by judicial proceedings in respect of an offence committed during his escape or attempt to escape.

In conformity with the principle stated in Article 83, offences committed by prisoners of war with the sole intention of facilitating their escape and which do not entail any violence against life or limb, such as offences against public property, theft without intention of self-enrichment, the drawing up or use of false papers, or the wearing of civilian clothing, shall occasion disciplinary punishment only.

Prisoners of war who aid or abet an escape or an attempt to escape shall be liable on this count to disciplinary punishment only.

Article 94

IV. Notification of recapture.

If an escaped prisoner of war is recaptured, the Power on which he depends shall be notified thereof in the manner defined in Article 122, provided notification of his escape has been made.

Article 95

Procedure I. Confinement awaiting hearing.

A prisoner of war accused of an offence against discipline shall not be kept in confinement pending the hearing unless a member of the armed forces of the Detaining Power would be so kept if he were accused of a similar offence, or if it is essential in the interests of camp order and discipline.

Any period spent by a prisoner of war in confinement awaiting the disposal of an offence against discipline shall be reduced to an absolute minimum and shall not exceed fourteen days.

The provisions of Articles 97 and 98 of this Chapter shall apply to prisoners of war who are in confinement awaiting the disposal of offences against discipline.

Article 96

II. Competent authorities and right of defence.

Acts which constitute offences against discipline shall be investigated immediately.

Without prejudice to the competence of courts and superior military authorities, disciplinary punishment may be ordered only by an officer having disciplinary powers in his capacity as camp commander, or by a responsible officer who replaces him or to whom he has delegated his disciplinary powers.

In no case may such powers be delegated to a prisoner of war or be exercised by a prisoner of war.

Before any disciplinary award is pronounced, the accused shall be given precise information regarding the offences of which he is accused, and given an opportunity of explaining his conduct and of defending himself. He shall be permitted, in particular, to call witnesses and to have recourse, if necessary, to the services of a qualified interpreter. The decision shall be announced to the accused prisoner of war and to the prisoners' representative.

A record of disciplinary punishment shall be maintained by the camp commander and shall be open to inspection by representatives of the Protecting Power.

Article 97

Execution of punishment. I. Premises.

Prisoners of war shall not in any case be transferred to penitentiary establishments (prisons, penitentiaries, convict prisons, etc.) to undergo disciplinary punishment therein.

All premises in which disciplinary punishments are undergone shall conform to the sanitary requirements set forth in Article 25. A prisoner of war undergoing punishment shall be enabled to keep himself in a state of cleanliness, in conformity with Article 29.

Officers and persons of equivalent status shall not be lodged in the same quarters as non-commissioned officers or men.

Women prisoners of war undergoing disciplinary punishment shall be confined in separate quarters from male prisiners of war and shall be under the immediate supervision of women.

Article 98

II. Essential safeguards.

A prisoner of war undergoing confinement as a disciplinary punishment, shall continue to enjoy the benefits of the provisions of this Convention except in so far as these are necessarily rendered inapplicable by the mere fact that he is confined. In no case may he be deprived of the benefits of the provisions of Articles 78 and 126.

A prisoner of war awarded disciplinary punishment may not be deprived of the prerogatives attached to his rank.

Prisoners of war awarded disciplinary punishment shall be allowed to exercise and to stay in the open air at least two hours daily.

They shall be allowed, on their request, to be present at the daily medical inspections. They shall receive the attention which their state of health requires and, if necessary, shall be removed to the camp infirmary or to a hospital.

They shall have permission to read and write, likewise to send and receive letters. Parcels and remittances of money however, may be withheld from them until the completion of the punishment; they shall meanwhile be entrusted to the prisoners' representative, who will hand over to the infirmary the perishable goods contained in such parcels.

III. Judicial Proceedings

Essential rules I. General principles.

No prisoner of war may be tried or sentenced for an act which is not forbidden by the law of the Detaining Power or by International Law, in force at the time the said act was committed.

No moral or physical coercion may be exerted on a prisoner of war in order to induce him to admit himself guilty of the act of which he is accused.

No prisoner of war may be convicted without having had an opportunity to present his defence and the assistance of a qualified advocate or counsel.

Article 100

II. Death Penalty.

Prisoners of war and the Protecting Powers shall be informed, as soon as possible, of the offences which are punishable by the death sentence under the laws of the Detaining Power.

Other offences shall not thereafter be made punishable by the death penalty without the concurrence of the Power on which the prisoners of war depend.

The death sentence cannot be pronounced on a prisoner of war unless the attention of the court has, in accordance with Article 87, second paragraph, been particularly called to the fact that since the accused is not a national of the Detaining Power, he is not bound to it by any duty of allegiance, and that he is in its power as the result of circumstances independent of his own will.

Article 101

III. Delay in execution of the death penalty.

If the death penalty is pronounced on a prisoner of war, the sentence shall not be executed before the expiration of a period of at least six months from the date when the Protecting Power receives, at an indicated address, the detailed communication provided for in Article 107.

Article 102

Procedure. I. Conditions for validity of sentence.

A prisoner of war can be validly sentenced only if the sentence has been pronounced by the same courts according to the same procedure as in the case of members of the armed forces of the Detaining Power, and if furthermore, the provisions of the present Chapter have been observed.

Article 103

II. Confinement awaiting trial (Deduction from sentence, treatment).

Judicial investigations relating to a prisoner of war shall be conducted as rapidly as circumstances permit and so that his trial shall take place as soon as possible. A prisoner of war shall not be confined while awaiting trial unless a member of the armed forces of the Detaining Power would be so confined if he were accused of a similar offence, or if it is essential to do so in the interests of national security. In no circumstances shall this confinement exceed three months.

Any period spent by a prisoner of war in confinment awaiting trial shall be deducted from any sentence of imprisonment passed upon him and taken into account in fixing any penalty.

The provisions of Articles 97 and 98 of this Chapter shall apply to a prisoner of war whilst in confinement awaiting trial.

Article 104

III. Notification of proceedings.

In any case in which the Detaining Power has decided to institute judicial proceedings against a prisoner of war, it shall notify the Protecting Power as soon as possible and at least three weeks before the opening of the trial. This period of three weeks shall run as from the day on which such notification reaches the Protecting Power at the address previously indicated by the latter to the Detaining Power.

The said notification shall contain the following information:—

(1) Surname and first names of the prisoner of war, his rank, his army, regimental, personal or serial number, his date of birth, and his profession or trade, if any;

(2) Place of internment or confinement;

(3) Specification of the charge or charges on which the prisoner of war is to be arraigned, giving the legal provisions applicable;

(4) Designation of the court which will try the case, likewise the date and place fixed for the opening of the trial.

The same communication shall be made by the Detaining Power to the prisoners' representative.

If no evidence is submitted, at the opening of a trial that the notification referred to above was received by the Protecting Power, by the prisoner of war and by the prisoners' representative concerned, at least three weeks before the opening of the trial, then the latter cannot take place and must be adjourned.

Article 105

IV. Rights and means of defence.

The prisoner of war shall be entitled to assistance by one of his prisoner comrades, to defence by a qualified advocate or counsel of his own choice, to the calling of witnesses and, if he deems necessary, to the services of a competent interpreter. He shall be advised of these rights by the Detaining Power in due time before the trial.

Failing a choice by the prisoner of war, the Protecting Power shall find him an advocate or counsel, and shall have at least one week at its disposal for the purpose. The Detaining Power shall deliver to the said Power, on request, a list of persons qualified to present the defence. Failing a choice of an advocate or counsel by the prisoner of war or the Protecting Power, the Detaining Power shall appoint a competent advocate or counsel to conduct the defence.

The advocate or counsel conducting the defence on behalf of the prisoner of war shall have at his disposal a period of two weeks at least before the opening of the trial, as well as the necessary facilities to prepare the defence of the accused. He may, in particular, freely visit the accused and interview him in private. He may also confer with any witnesses for the defence, including prisoners of war. He shall have the benefit of these facilities until the term of appeal or petition has expired.

Particulars of the charge or charges on which the prisoner of war is to be arraigned, as well as the documents which are generally communicated to the accused by virtue of the laws in force in the armed forces of the Detaining Power, shall be communicated to the accused prisoner of war in a language which he understands, and in good time before the opening of the trial. The same communication in the same circumstances shall be made to the advocate or counsel conducting the defence on behalf of the prisoner of war.

The representatives of the Protecting Power shall be entitled to attend the trial of the case, unless, exceptionally, this is held in camera in the interest of State security. In such a case the Detaining Power shall advise the Protecting Power accordingly.

Article 106

V. Appeals.

Every prisoner of war shall have, in the same manner as the members of the armed forces of the Detaining Power, the right of appeal or petition from any sentence pronounced upon him, with a view to the quashing or revising of the sentence or the re-opening of the trial. He shall be fully informed of his right to appeal or petition and of the time limit within which he may do so.

Article 107

VI. Notification of findings and sentence.

Any judgement and sentence pronounced upon a prisoner of war shall be immediately reported to the Protecting Power in the form of a summary communication, which shall also indicate whether he has the right of appeal with a view to the quashing of the sentence or the re-opening of the trial. This communication shall likewise be sent to the prisoner's representative concerned. It shall also be sent to the accused prisoner of war in a language he understands, if the sentence was not pronounced in his presence. The Detaining Power shall also immediately communicate to the Protecting Power the decision of the prisoner of war to use or to waive his right of appeal.

Furthermore, if a prisoner of war is finally convicted or if a sentence pronounced on a prisoner of war in the first instance is a death sentence, the Detaining Power shall as soon as possible address to the Protecting Power a detailed communication containing—

(1) the precise wording of the finding and sentence;

(2) a summarized report of any preliminary investigation and of the trial, emphasizing in particular the elements of the prosecution and the defence;

(3) notification, where applicable, of the establishment where the sentence will be served.

The communications provided for in the foregoing subparagraphs shall be sent to the Protecting Power at the address previously made known to the Detaining Power.

Article 108

Execution of penalties Penal regulations.

Sentences pronounced on prisoners of war after a conviction has become duly enforceable, shall be served in the same establishments under the same conditions as in the case of members of the armed forces of the Detaining Power. These conditions shall in all cases conform to the requirements of health and humanity.

A woman prisoner of war on whom such a sentence has been pronounced shall be confined in separate quarters and shall be under the supervision of women.

In any case, prisoners of war sentence to a penalty depriving them of their liberty shall retain the benefit of the provisions of Articles 78 and 126 of the present Convention. Furthermore, they shall be entitled to receive and despatch correspondence, to receive at least one relief parcel monthly, to take regular exercise in the open air, to have the medical care required by their state of health, and the spiritual assistance they may desire. Penalties to which they may be subjected shall be in accordance with the provisions of Article 87, third paragraph.

PART IV

TERMINATION OF CAPTIVITY

DIRECT REPATRIATION AND ACCOMMODATION IN NEUTRAL COUNTRIES

Article 109

General observations.

Subject to the provisions of the third paragraph of this Article, Parties to the conflict are bound to send back to their own country, regardless of number or rank, seriously wounded and seriously sick prisoners of war, after having cared for them until they are fit to travel, in accordance with the first paragraph of the following Article.

Throughout the duration of hostilities, Parties to the conflict shall endeavour, with the co-operation of the neutral Powers concerned, to make arrangements for the accommodation in neutral countries of the sick and wounded prisoners of war referred to in the second paragraph of the following Article. They may, in addition, conclude agreements with a view to the direct repatriation or interument in a neutral country of able-bodied prisoners of war who have undergone a long period of captivity.

No sick or injured prisoner of war who is eligible for repatriation under the first paragraph of this Article, may be repatriated against his will during hostilities.

Article 110

Cases of repatriation and accommodation.

The following shall be repatriated direct:—

(1) Incurably wounded and sick whose mental or physical fitness seems to have been gravely diminished.

(2) Wounded and sick who, according to medical opinion, are not likely to recover within one year, whose condition requires treatment and whose mental or physical fitness seems to have been gravely diminished.

(3) Wounded and sick who have recovered, but whose mental or physical fitness seems to have gravely and permanently diminished.

The following may be accommodated in a neutral country:—

(1) Wounded and sick whose recovery may be expected within one year of the date of the wound or the beginning of the illness, if treatement in a neutral country might increase the prospects of a more certain and speedy recovery.

(2) Prisoners of war whose mental or physical health, according to medical opinion, is seriously threatened by continued capativity, but whose accommodation in a neutral country might remove such a threat.

The conditions which prisoners of war accommodated in a neutral country must fulfil in order to permit their repatriation shall be fixed, as shall likewise their status, by agreement between the Powers concerned. In general, prisoners of war who have been accommodated in a neutral country, and who belong to the following categories, should be repatriated:—

(1) Those whose state of health has deteriorated so as to fulfil the conditions laid down for direct repatriation.

(2) Those whose mental or physical powers remain, even after treatment, considerably impaired.

If no special agreement are concluded between the Parties to the conflict concerned, to determine the cases of disablement or sickness entailing direct repatriation or accommodation in a neutral country, such cases shall be settled in accordance with the principles laid down in the Model Agreement concerning direct repatriation and accommodation in neutral countries of wounded and sick prisoners of war and in the Regulations concerning Mixed Medical Commissions annexed to the present Convention.

Article 111

Internment in a neutral country.

The Detaining Power, the Power on which the prisoners of war depend, and a neutral Power agreed upon by these two Powers, shall endeavour to conclude agreements which will enable prisoners of war to be interned in the territory of the said neutral Power until the close of hostilities.

Article 112

Mixed Medical Commissions.

Upon the outbreak of hostilities, Mixed Medical Commissions shall be appointed to examine sick and wounded prisoners of war, and to make all appropriate decisions regarding them. The appointment, duties and functioning of these Commissions shall be in conformity with the provisions of the Regulations annexed to the present Convention.

However, prisoners of war who, in the opinion of the medical authorities of the Detaining Power, are manifestly seriously injured or seriously sick, may be repatriated without having to be examined by a Mixed Medical Commission.

Article 113

Prisoners entitled to examination by Mixed Medical Commissions.

Besides those who are designated by the medical authorities of the Detaining Power, wounded or sick prisoners of war belonging to the categories listed below shall be entitled to present themselves for examination by the Mixed Medical Commissions provided for in the foregoing Article:—

(1) Wounded and sick proposed by a physician or surgeon who is of the same nationality, or a national of a Party to the conflict allied with the Power on which the said prisoners depend, and who exercises his functions in the camp.

(2) Wounded and sick proposed by their prisoners' representative.

(3) Wounded and sick proposed by the Power on which they depend, or by an organization duly recognized by the said Power and giving assistance to the prisoners.

Prisoners of war who do not belong to one of the three foregoing categories may nevertheless present themselves for examination by Mixed Medical Commissions, but shall be examined only after those belonging to the said categories.

The physician or surgeon of the same nationality as the prisoners who present themselves for examination by the Mixed Medical Commission, likewise the prisoners' representative of the said prisoners, shall hve permission to be present at the examination.

Article 114

Prisoners meeting with accidents.

Prisoners of war who meet with accidents shall, unless the injury is self-inflicted, have the benefit of the provisions of this Convention as regards repatriation or accommodation in a neutral country.

Article 115

Prisoners serving a sentence.

No prisoner of war on whom a disciplinary punishment has been imposed and who is eligible for repatriation or for accommodation in a neutral country, may be kept back on the plea that he has not undergone his punishment.

Prisoners of war detained in connection with a judical prosecution or conviction and who are designated for repatriation or accommodation in a netural country, may benefit by such measures before the end of the proceedings or the completion of the punishment, if the Detaining Power consents.

Parties to the conflict shall communicate to each other the names of those who will be detained until the end of the proceedings or the completion of the punishment.

Article 116

Cost of repatriation.

The costs of repatriating prisoners of war or of transporting them to a neutral country shall be borne, from the frontiers of the Detaining Power, by the Power on which the said prisoners depend.

Article 117

Activity after repatriation.

No repatriated person may be employed on active military service.

SECTION II

RELEASE AND REPATRIATION OF PRISONERS OF WAR AT THE CLOSE OF HOSTILITIES

Article 118

Release and repatriation.

Prisoners of war shall be released and repatriated without delay after the cessation of active hostilities.

In the absence of stipulations to the above effect in any agreement concluded between the Parties to the conflict with a view to the cessation of hostilities, or failing any such agreement, each of the Detaining Powers shall itself establish and executed without delay a plan of repartriation in conformity with the principle laid down in the foregoing paragraph.

In either case, the measures adopted shall be brought to the knowledge of the prisoners of war.

The costs of repatriation of prisoners of war shall in all cases be equitably apportioned between the Detaining Power and the Power on which the prisoners depend. This apportionment shall be carried out on the following basis:—

(a) If the two Powers are contiguous, the Power on which the prisoners of war depend shall bear the cost of repatriation from the frontiers of the Detaining Power.

(b) If the two Powers are not contiguous, the Detaining Power shall bear the costs of transport of prisoners of war over its own territory as far as its frontier or its port of embarkation nearest to the territory of the Power on which the prisoners of war depend. The Parties concerned shall agree between themselves as to the equitable apportionment of the remaining costs of the repatriation. The conclusion of this agreement shall in no circumstances justify any delay in the repatriation of the prisoners of war

Details of procedure.

Repatriation shall be effected in conditions similar to those laid down in Articles 46 to 48 inclusive of the present Convention for the transfer of prisoners of war, having regard to the provisions of Article 118 and to those of the following paragraphs.

On repatriation, any articles of value impounded from prisoners of war under Article 18, and any foreign currency which has not been converted into the currency of the Detaining Power, shall be restored to them. Articles of value and foreign currency which, for any reason whatever, are not restored to prisoners of war on repatriation, shall be despatched to the Information Bureau set up under Article 122.

Prisoners of war shall be allowed to take with them their personal effects, and any correspondence and parcels which have arrived for them. The weight of such baggage may be limited, if the conditions of repatriation so require, to what each prisoner can reasonably carry. Each prisoner shall in all cases be authorised to carry at least twenty-five kilograms.

The other personal effects of the repatriated prisoner shall be left in the charge of the Detaining Power which shall have them forwarded to him as soon as it has concluded an agreement to this effect, regulating the conditions of transport and the payment of the costs involved, with the Power on which the prisoner depends.

Prisoners of war against whom criminal proceedings for an indictable offence are pending may be detained until the end of such proceedings, and, if necessary, until the completion of the punishment. The same shall apply to prisoners of war already convicted for an indictable offence.

Parties to the conflict shall communicate to each other the names of any prisoners of war who are detained until the end of the proceedings or until punishment has been completed.

By agreement between the Parties to the conflict, commissions shall be established for the purpose of searching for dispersed prisoners of war and of assuring their repatriation with the least possible delay.

SECTION III

DEATH OF PRISONERS OF WAR

Article 120

Wills, death certificates, burial, cremation.

Wills of prisoners of war shall be drawn up so as to satisfy the conditions of validity required by the legislation of their country of origin, which will take steps to inform the Detaining Power of its requirements in this respect. At the request of the prisoner of war and, in all cases, after death, the will shall be transmitted without delay to the Protecting Power; a certified copy shall be sent to the Central Agency.

Death certificates, in the form annexed to the present convention, or lists certified by a responsible officer, of all person who die as prisoners of war shall be forwarded as rapidly as possible to the Prisoner of War Information Bureau established in accordance with Article 122. The death certificates or certified lists shall show particulars of identity as set out in the third paragraph of Article 17, and also the date and place of death, the cause of death, the date and place of burial and all particulars necessary to identify the graves.

The burial or cremation of a prisoner of war shall be preceded by a medical examination of the body with a view to confirming death and enabling a report to be made and, where necessary, establishing identity.

The detaining authorities shall ensure that prisoners of war who have died in captivity are honourably buried, if possible according to the rites of the religion to which they belonged, and that their graves are respected, suitably maintained and marked so as to be found at any time. Wherever possible, deceased prisoners of war who depended on the same Power shall be interred in the same place.

Deceased prisoners of war shall be buried in individual graves unless unavoidable circumstances require the use of collective graves. Bodies may be cremated only for imperative reasons of hygiene, on account of the religion, of the deceased or in accordance with his express wish to this effect. In case of cremation, the fact shall be stated and the reasons given in the death certificate of the deceased.

In order that graves may always be found, all particulars of burials and graves shall be recorded with a Graves Registration Service established by the Detaining Power. Lists of graves and particulars of the prisoners of war interred in cemeteries and elsewhere shall be transmitted to the Power on which such prisoners of war depended. Responsibility for the care of these graves and for records of any subsequent moves of the bodies shall rest on the Power controlling the territory, if a Party to the present Convention. These provisions shall also apply to the ashes which shall be kept by the Graves Registration Service until proper disposal thereof in accordance with the wishes of the home country.

Prisoners killed or injured in special circumstances

Every death or serious injury of a prisoner of war caused or suspected to have been caused by a sentry, another prisoner of war, or any other person, as well as any death the cause of which is unknown, shall be immediately followed by an official enquiry by the Detaining Power.

A communication on this subject shall be sent immediately to the Protecting Power. Statements shall be taken from witnesses, especially from those who are prisoners of war, and a report including such statements shall be forwarded to the Protecting Power.

If the enquiry indicates the guilt of one or more persons, the Detaining Power shall take all measures for the prosecution of the person or persons responsible.

PART V

Information Bureaux and Relief Societies for prisoners of war

Article 122

National Bureaux.

Upon the outbreak of a conflict and in all cases of occupation, each of the Parties to the conflict shall institute an official Information Bureau for prisoners of war who are in its power. Neutral or non-belligerent Powers who may have received within their territory persons belonging to one of the categories referred to in Article 4, shall take the same action with respect to such persons. The Power concerned shall ensure that the Prisoners of War Information Bureau is provided with the necessary accommodation, equipment and staff to ensure its efficient working. It shall be at liberty to employ prisoners of war in such a Bureau under the conditions laid down in the Section of the present Convention dealing with work by prisoners of war.

Within the shortest possible period, each of the Parties to the conflict shall give its Bureau the information referred to in the fourth, fifth and sixth paragraphs of this Article regarding any enemy person belonging to one of the categories referred to in Article 4, who has fallen into its power. Neutral or non-belligerent Powers shall take the same action with regard to persons belonging to such categories whom they have received within their territory.

The Bureau shall immediately forward such information by the most rapid means to the Powers concerned through the intermediary of the Protecting Powers and likewise of the Central Agency provided for in Article 123.

This information shall make it possible quickly to advise the next of kin concerned. Subject to the provisions of Article 17, the information shall include, in so far as available to the Information Bureau, in respect of each prisoner of war, his surname, first names, rank, army, regimental, personal or serial number, place and full date of birth, indication of the Power on which he depends, first name of the father and maiden name of the mother, name and address of the person to be informed and the address to which correspondence for the prisoner may be sent.

The Information Bureau shall receive from the various departments concerned information regarding transfers, releases, repatriations, escapes, admissions to hospital, and deaths, and shall transmit such information in the manner described in the third paragraph above.

Likewise, information regarding the state of health of prisoners of war who are seriously ill or seriously wounded shall be supplied regularly, every week if possible.

The Information Bureau shall also be responsible for replying to all enquiries sent to it concerning prisoners of war, including those who have died in captivity; it will make any enquiries necessary to obtain the information which is asked for if this is not in its possession.

All written communications made by the Bureau shall be authenticated by a signature or a seal.

The Information Bureau shall furthermore be charged with collecting all personal valuables, including sums in currencies other than that of the Detaining Power and documents of importance to the next of kin, left by prisoners of war who have been repatriated or released, or who have escaped or died, and shall forward the said valuables to the Powers concerned. Such articles shall be sent by the Bureau in sealed packets which shall be accompanied by statements giving clear and full particulars of the identity of the person to whom the articles belonged, and by a complete list of the contents of the parcel. Other personal effects of such prisoners of war shall be transmitted under arrangements agreed upon between the Parties to the conflict concerned.

Article 123

Central Agency.

A Central Prisoners of War Information Agency shall be created in a neutral country. The International Committee of the Red Cross shall, if it deems necessary, propose to the Powers concerned the organization of such an Agency.

The function of the Agency shall be to collect all the information it may obtain through official or private channels respecting prisoners of war, and to transmit it as rapidly as possible to the country of origin of the prisoners of war or to the Power on which they depend. It shall receive from the Parties to the conflict all facilities for effecting such transmissions.

The High Contracting Parties, and in particular those whose nationals benefit by the services of the Central Agency, are requested to give the said Agency the financial aid it may require.

The foregoing provisions shall in no way be interpreted as restricting the humanitarian activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross, or of the relief Societies provided for in Article 125.

Article 124

Exemption from charges.

The National Information Bureaux and the Central Information Agency shall enjoy free postage for mail, likewise all the exemptions provided for in Article 74, and further, so far as possible, exemption from telegraphic charges or, at least, greatly reduced rates.

Article 125

Relief societies and other organizations.

Subject to the measures which the Detaining Powers may consider essential to ensure their security or to meet any other reasonable need, the representatives of religious organizations, relief societies, or any other organization assisting prisoners of war, shall receive from the said Powers, for themselves and their duly accredited agents, all necessary facilities for visiting the prisoners for distributing relief supplies and material, from any source, intended for religious, educational or recreative purposes, and for assisting them in organising their leisure time within the camps. Such societies or organizations may be constituted in the territory of the Detaining Power or in any other country, or they may have an international character.

The Detaining Power may limit the number of societies and organizations whose delegates are allowed to carry out their activities in its territory and under its supervision, on condition, however, that such limitation shall not hinder the effective operation of adequate relief to all prisoners of war.

The special position of the International Committee of the Red Cross in this field shall be recognized and respected at all times.

As soon as relief supplies or material intended for the abovementioned purposes are handed over to prisoners of war, or very shortly afterwards, receipts for each consignment, signed by the prisoners' representative, shall be forwarded to the relief society or organization making the shipment. At the same time, receipts for these consignments shall be supplied by the administrative authorities responsible for guarding the prisoners.

PART VI

SECTION 1

General provisions

Article 126

Supervision.

Representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall have permission to go to all places where prisoners of war may be, particularly to places of internment, imprisonment and labour, and shall have access to all premises occupied by prisoners of war; they shall also be allowed to go to the places of departure, passage and arrival of prisoners who are being transferred. They shall be able to interview the prisoners, and in particular the prisoners representatives, without witnesses, either personally or through an interpreter.

Representatives and delegates of the Protecting Powers shall have full liberty to select the places they wish to visit. The Duration and frequency of these visits shall not be restricted. Visits may not be prohibited except for reasons of imperative military necessity, and then only as an exceptional and temporary measure.

The Detaining Power and the Power on which the said prisoners of war depend may agree, if necessary, that compatriots of these prisoners of war be permitted to participate in the visits.

The delegates of the International Committee of the Red Cross shall enjoy the same prerogatives. The appointment of such delegates shall be submitted to the approval of the Power detaining the prisoners of war to be visited.

Article 127

Dissemination of the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake, in time of peace as in time of war, to disseminate the text of the present Convention as widely as possible in their respective countries, and, in particular, to include the study thereof in their programmes of military and, if possible, civil instruction, so that the principles thereof may become known to all their armed forces and to the entire population.

Any military or other authorities, who in time of war assume responsibilities in respect of prisoners of war, must possess the text of the Convention and be specially instructed as to its provisions.

Article 128

Translation. Rules of application.

The High Contracting Parties shall communicate to one another through the Swiss Federal Council and, during hostilities, through the Protecting Powers, the official translations of the present Convention, as well as the laws and regulations which they may adopt to ensure the application thereof.

Article 129

Penal sanctions I. General observations.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to enact any legislation necessary to provide effective penal sanctions for persons committing, or ordering to be committed, any of the grave breaches of the present Convention defined in the following Article.

Each High Contracting Party shall be under the obligation to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before its own courts. It may also, if it prefers, and in accordance with the trial to another High Contracting Party concerned, provided such High Contracting Party has made out a prima facie case.

Each High Contracting Party shall take measures necessary for the suppression of all acts country to the provisions of the present Convention other than the grave breaches defined in the following Article.

In all circumstances, the accused persons shall benefit by safeguards of proper trial and defence, which shall not be less favourable than those provided by Article 105 and those following of the present Convention.

Article 130

II. Grave breaches.

Grave breaches to which the preceding Article relates shall be those involving any of the following acts, if committed against persons or property protected by the Convention: wilful killing, torture or inhuman treatment, including biological experiments, wilfully causing great suffering or serious injury to body or health, compelling a prisoner of war to serve in the forces of the hostile Power, or wilfully depriving a prisoner of war of the rights of fair and regular trial prescribed in this Convention.

Article 131

III. Responsibilities of the Contracting Parties.

No High Contracting Party shall be allowed to absolve itself or any other High Contracting Party of any liability incurred by itself or by another High Contracting Party in respect of breaches referred to in the preceding Article.

Article 132

Enquiry procedure.

At the request of a Party to the conflict, an enquiry shall be instituted, in a manner to be decided between the interested Parties, concerning any alleged violation of the Convention.

If agreement has not been reached concerning the procedure for the enquiry, the Parties should agree on the choice of an umpire who will decide upon the procedure to be followed.

Once the violation has been established, the Parties to the conflict shall put an end to it and shall repress it with the least possible delay.

SECTION II

FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 133

Languages.

The present Convention is established in English and in French. Both texts are equally authentic.

The Swiss Federal Council shall arrange for official translations of the Convention to be made in the Russian and Spanish languages.

Article 134

Relation to the 1929 Convention.

The present Convention replaces the Convention of July 27, 1929, in relations between the High Contracting Parties.

Relation to the Hague Convention.

In the relations between the Powers which are bound by the Hague Convention respecting the Law and Customs of War on Land, whether that of July 29, 1899, or that of October 18, 1907, and which are parties to the present Convention, this last Convention shall be complementary to Chapter II of the Regulations annexed to the above-mentioned Conventions of the Hague.

Article 136

Signature.

The present Convention, which bears the date of this day, is open to signature until February 12, 1950, in the name of the Power represented at the Conference which opened at Geneva on April 21, 1949; furthermore, by Powers not represented at that Conference, but which are parties to the Convention of July 27, 1929.

Article 137

Ratification.

The present Convention shall be ratified as soon as possible and the ratification shall be deposited at Berne.

A record shall be drawn up of the deposit of each instrument of ratification and certified copies of this record shall be transmitted by the Swiss Federal Council to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 138

Coming into force.

The present Convention shall come into force six months after not less than two instruments of ratification have been deposited.

Thereafter, it shall come into force for each High Contracting Party six months after the deposit of the instrument of ratification.

Article 139

Accession.

From the date of its coming into force, it shall be open to any Power in whose name the present Convention has not been signed, to accede to this Convention.

Article 140

Notification of accession.

Accessions shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, and shall take effect six months after the date on which they are received.

The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate the accessions to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed or whose accession has been notified.

Article 141

Immediate effect.

The situations provided for in Article 2 and 3 shall give immediate effect to ratifications deposited and accessions notified by the Parties to the conflict before or after the beginning of hostilities or occupaton. The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate by the quickest method any ratifications or accessions received from Parties to the conflict.

Article 142

Denunciation.

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall be at liberty to denounce the present Convention.

The denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, which shall transmit it to the Governments of all the High Contracting Parties.

The denunciation shall take effect one year after the notification thereof has been made to the Swiss Federal Council. However, a denunciation of which notification has been made at a time when the denouncing Power is involved in a conflict shall not take effect until peace has been concluded, until after the operations connected with release and repatriation of the persons protected by the present Convention has been terminated.

The denunciation shall have effect only in respect of the denouncing Power. It shall in no way impair the obligations which the parties to the conflict shall remain bound to fulfil by virtue of the principles of the law of nations, as the result from the usages established among civilised peoples, from the laws of humanity and the dictates of the public conscience.

Article 143

Registration with the United Nations.

The Swiss Federal Council shall register the present Convention with the Secretariat of the United Nations. The Swiss Federal Council shall also inform the Secretariat of the United Nations of all ratifications, accessions and denunciations received by it with respect to the present Convention.

In witness whereof the undersigned, having deposited their respective full powers, have signed the present Convention.

Done at Geneva this twelfth day of August 1949, in the English and French languages. The original shall be deposited in the Archives of the Swiss Confederation. The Swiss Federal Council shall transmit certified copies thereof to each of the signatory and acceding States.

THE FOURTH SCHEDULE

(See section 2)

GENEVA CONVENTION RELATIVE TO THE PROTECTION OF PERSONS IN TIME OF WAR OF AUGUST 12, 1949.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries of the Governments represented at the Diplomatic Conference held at Geneva from April 21 to August 12, 1949, for the purpose of establishing a Convention for the Protection of Civilian persons in Time of War, have agreed as follows:

PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

Respect for the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to respect and to ensure respect for the present Convention in all circumstances.

Article 2

Application of the Convention.

In addition to the provisions which shall be implemented in peacetime, the present Convention shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting Parties, even if the state of war is not recognized by one of them.

The Convention shall also apply to all cases of partial or total occupation of the territory of a High Contracting Party, even if the said occupation meets with no armed resistance.

Although one of the Powers in conflict may not be a party to the present Convention, the Powers who are parties thereto shall remain bound by it in their mutual relations. They shall furthermore be bound by the Convention in relation to the said Power, if the latter accepts and applies the provisions thereof.

Article 3

Conflicts not of an international character.

In the case of armed conflict not of an international character occurring in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties, each Party to the conflict shall be bound to apply, as a minimum, the following provisions:

(1) Persons taking no active part in the hostilities, including members of armed forces who have laid down their arms and those placed hors de combat by sickness, wounds, detention, or any other cause, shall in all circumstances be treated humanely, without any adverse distinction founded on race, colour, religion or faith, sex birth or wealth or any other similar criteria.

To this end the following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever with respect to the abovementioned persons:—

(a) violence to life and persons, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture;

(b) taking of hostages;

(c) outrages upon personal dignity, in particular humilating and degrading treatment;

(d) the passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all the judicial guarantees which are recognized as indispensable by civilized peoples.

(2) The wounded and sick shall be collected and cared for.

An impartial humanitarian body, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, may offer its services to the Parties to the conflict.

The Parties to the conflict should further endeavour to bring into force, by means of special agreements, all or part of the other provisions of the present Convention.

The application of the preceding provisions shall not affect the legal status of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 4

Definition of protected persons

Persons protected by the Convention are those who, at a given moment and in any manner whatsoever, find themselves, in case of a conflict or occupation, in the hands of a Party to the conflict or Occupying Power of which they are not nationals.

Nationals of a State which is not bound by the Convention are not protected by it. Nationals of a neutral State who find themselves in the territory of a belligerent State, and nationals of a co-belligerent State, shall not be regarded as protected persons while the State of which they are nationals has normal diplomatic representation in the State in whose hands they are.

The provisions of Part II are, however, wider in application, as defined in Article 13.

Persons protected by the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949, or by the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the condition of wounded, Sick and Shipwrecked Members of Armed Forces at Sea of August 12, 1949, or by the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949, shall not be considered as protected persons within the meaning of the present Convention.

Article 5

Derogations.

Where, in the territory of a Party to the conflict, the latter is satisfied that an individual protected person is definitely suspected of or engaged in activities hostile to the security of the State, such individual person shall not be entitled to claim such rights and privileges under the present Convention as would, if exercised in the favour of such individual person, be prejudicial to the security of such State.

Where in occupied territory an individual protected person is detained as a spy or saboteur, or as a person under definite suspicion of activity hostile to the security of the Occupying Power, such person shall, in those cases where absolute military security so requires, be regarded as having forfeited rights of communication under the present Convention.

In each case, such persons shall nevertheless be treated with humanity and, in case of trial, shall not be deprived of the rights of fair and regular trial prescribed by the present Convention. They shall also be granted the full rights and privileges of a protected person under the present Convention at the earliest date consistent with the security of the State or Occupying Power, as the case may be.

Article 6

Beginning and end of application.

The present Convention shall apply from the outset of any conflict or occupation mentioned in Article 2.

In the territory of Parties to the conflict, the application of the present Convention shall cease on the general close of military operations.

In the case of occupied territory the application of the present Convention shall cease one year after the general close of military operations; however, the Occupying Power shall be bound, for the duration of the occupation, to the extent that such exercises the functions of government in such territory, by the provisions of the following Articles of the present Convention: 1 to 12, 27, 29 to 34, 47, 49, 51, 52, 53, 59, 61 to 77, 143

Protected persons whose release, repatriation or re-establishment may take place after such dates shall meanwhile continue to benefit by the present Convention.

Article 7

Special agreements.

In addition to the agreements expressly provided for in Articles 11, 14, 15, 17, 36, 108, 109, 132, 133 and 149, the High Contracting Parties may conclude other special agreements for all matters concerning which they may deem it suitable to make separate provision No special agreement shall adversely affect the situation of protected persons, as defined by the present Convention, nor restrict the rights which it confers upon them.

Protected persons shall continue to have the benefit of such agreements as long as the Convention is applicable to them, except where express provisions to the contrary are contained in the aforesaid or in subsequent agreements, or where more favourable measures have been taken with regard to them by one or other of the Parties to the conflict.

Article 8

Non-renunciation of rights.

Protected persons may in no circumstances renounce in part or in entirety the rights secured to them by the present Convention, and by the special agreements referred to in the foregoing Article, if such there be.

Article 9

Protecting Powers.

The present Convention shall be applied with the co-operation and under the scrutiny of the Protecting Powers whose duty it is to safeguard the interests of the Parties to the conflict. For this purpose, the Protecting Powers may appoint, apart from their diplomatic or consular staff, delegates from amongst their own nationals or the nationals of other neutral Powers. The said delegates shall be subject to the approval of the Power with which they are to carry out their duties.

The Parties to the conflict shall facilitate to the greatest extent possible the task of the representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers

The representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall not in any case exceed their mission under the present Convention. They shall, in particular, take account of the imperative necessities of security of the State wherein they carry out their duties.

Article 10

Activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

The provision of the present Convention constitute no obstacle to the humanitarian activities which the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other impartial humanitarian organization may, subject to the consent of the Parties to the conflict concerned, undertake for the protection of civilian persons and for their relief.

Article 11

Substitutes for Protecting Power.

The High Contracting Parties may at any time agree to entrust to an organization which offers all guarantees of impartiality and efficiency the duties incumbent on the Protecting Powers by virtue of the present Convention.

When persons protected by the present Convention do not benefit of cease to benefit, no matter for what reason, by the activities of a Protecting Power or of an organization provided for in the first paragraph above, the Detaining Power shall request a neutral State, or such an organization, to undertake the functions performed under the present Convention by a Protecting Power designated by the Parties to a conflict.

If protection cannot be arranged accordingly, the Detaining Power shall request or shall accept, subject to the provisions of this Article, the offer of the services of a humanitarian organization, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, to assume the humanitarian functions performed by Protecting Powers under the present Convention.

Any neutral Power or any organization invited by the Power concerned or offering itself for these purposes, shall be required to act with a sense of responsibility towards the Party to the conflict on which persons protected by the present Convention depend, and shall be required to furnish sufficient assurances that it is in a position to undertake the appropriate functions and to discharge them impartially.

No derogation from the preceding provisions shall be made by special agreements between Powers one of which is restricted, even temporarily in its freedom to negotiate with the other Power or its allies by reason of military events, more particularly where the whole, or a substantial part, of the territory of the said Power is occupied.

Whenever in the present Convention mention is made of a Protecting Power, such mention applies to substitute organizations in the sense of the present Article.

The provisions of this Article shall extend and be adapted to cases of nationals of a neutral State who are in occupied territory or who find themselves in the territory of a belligerent State in which the State of which they are nationals has not normal diplomatic representation.

Article 12

Conciliation Procedure.

In cases where they deem it advisable in the interest of protected persons, particularly in cases of disagreement between the Parties to the conflict as to the application or interpretation of the provisions of the present Convention, the Protecting Powers shall lend their good offices with a view to settling the disagreement.

For this purpose, each of the Protecting Powers may, either at the invitation of one Party or on its own initiative, propose to the Parties to the conflict a meeting of their representatives, and in particular of the authorities responsible for protected persons, possibly on neutral territory suitable chosen. The Parties to the conflict shall be bound to give effect to the proposals made to them for this purpose. The Protecting Powers may, if necessary, propose for approval by the Parties to the conflict, a person belonging to a neutral Power, or delegated by the International Committee of the Red Cross, who shall be invited to take part in such a meeting.

PART II

GENERAL PROTECTION OF POPULATIONS AGAINST CERTAIN CONSEQUENCES OF WAR

Article 13

Field of application of Part II.

The provisions of Part II cover the whole of the populations of the countries in conflict, without any adverse distinction based, in particular, on race, nationality, religion or political opinion, and are intended to alleviate the sufferings caused by war.

Article 14

Hospital and safety zones and localities.

In time of peace, the High Contracting Parties and, after the outbreak of hostilities, the Parties thereto, may establish in their own territory and, if the need arises, in occupied areas, hospital and safety zones and localities so organized as to protect from the effect of war, wounded, sick and aged persons, children under fifteen, expectant mothers and mothers of children under seven.

Upon the outbreak and during the course of hostilities, the Parties concerned may conclude agreements on mutual recognition of the zones and localities they have created. They may for this purpose implement the provisions of the Draft Agreement annexed to the present Convention, with such amendments as they may consider necessary.

The Protecting Powers and the International Committee of the Red Cross are invited to lend their good offices in order to facilitate the institution and recognition of these hospital and safety zones and localities.

Article 15

Neutralised zones.

Any Party to the conflict may, either direct or through a neutral State or some humanitarian organization, propose to the adverse Party to establish, in the regions where fighting is taking place, neutralized zones intended to shelter from the effects of war the following persons, without distinction:—

(a) wounded and sick combatants or non-combatants;

(b) civilian persons who take no part in hostilities, and who, while they reside in the zones, perform no work of a military character.

When the Parties concerned have agreed upon the geographical position, administration, food supply and supervision of the proposed neutralized zone, a written agreement shall be concluded and signed by the representatives of the Parties to the conflict. The agreement shall fix the beginning and the duration of the neutralization of the zone.

Article 16

Wounded and sick. I.

The wounded and sick, as well as the infirm, and expectant mothers, shall be the object of particular protection and respect.

General protection.

As far as military considerations allow, each Party to the conflict shall facilitate the steps taken to search for the killed and wounded, to assist the shipwrecked and other persons exposed to grave danger, and to protect them against pillage and ill-treatment.

Article 17

II. Evacuation.

The Parties to the conflict shall endeavour to conclude local agreements for the removal from besieged or encircled areas, of wounded, sick, infirm, and aged persons, children and maternity cases, and for the passage of ministers of all religions, medical personnel and medical equipment on their way to such areas.

Article 18

III. Protection of hospitals.

Civilian hospitals organized to give care to the wounded and sick, the infirm and maternity cases, may in no circumstances be the object of attack but shall at all times be respected and protected by the Parties to the conflict.

States which are Parties to a conflict shall provide all civilian hospitals with certificates showing that they are civilian hospitals and that the buildings which they occupy are not used for any purpose which would deprive these hospitals of protection in accordance with Article 19.

Civilian hospitals shall be marked by means of the emblem provided for in Article 38 of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949, but only if so authorized by the State.

The Parties to the conflict shall, in so far as military considerations permit, take the necessary steps to make the distinctive emblems indicating civilian hospitals clearly visible to the enemy land, air and naval forces in order to obviate the possibility of any hostile action.

In view of the dangers to which hospitals may be exposed by being close to military objectives, it is recommended that such hospitals be situated as far as possible from such objectives.

Article 19

IV. Discontinuance of protection of hospitals.

The protection to which civilian hospitals are entitled shall not cease unless they are used to commit, outside their humanitarian duties, acts harmful to the enemy. Protection may, however, cease only after due warning has been given, naming, in all appropriate cases, a reasonable time limit, and after such warning has remained unheeded.

The fact that sick or wounded members of the armed forces are nursed in these hospitals, or the presence of small arms and ammunition taken from such combatants which have not yet been handed to the proper service, shall not be considered to be acts harmful to the enemy.

Article 20

V. Hospital staff.

Persons regularly and solely engaged in the operation and administration of civilian hospitals, including the personnel engaged in the search for, removal and transporting of and caring for wounded and sick civilians, the infirm and maternity cases shall be respected and protected.

In occupied territory and in zones of military operations, the above personnel shall be recognisable by means of an identity card certifying their status, bearing the photograph of the holder and embossed with the stamp of the responsible authority, and also by means of a stamped, water resistant armlet which they shall wear on the left arm while carrying out their duties. This armlet shall be issued by the State and shall bear the emblem provided for in Article 38 of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949.

Other personnel who are engaged in the operation and administration of civilian hospitals shall be entitled to respect and protection and to wear the armlet, as provided in and under the conditions prescribed in this Article, while they are employed on such duties. The identity card shall state the duties on which they are employed.

The management of each hospital shall at all times hold at the disposal of the competent national or occupying authorities an up-to-date list of such personnel.

Article 21.

VI. Land and sea transport.

Convoys of vehicles or hospital trains on land or specially provided vessels on sea, conveying wounded and sick civilians, the infirm and maternity cases, shall be respected and protected in the same manner as the hospitals provided for in Article 18, and shall be marked, with the consent of the State, by the display of the distinctive emblem provided for in Article 38 of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949.

Article 22

VII. Air transport.

Aircraft exclusively employed for the removal of wounded and sick civilians, the infirm and maternity cases, or for the transport of medical personnel and equipment, shall not be attacked, but shall be respected while flying at heights, times and on routes specifically agreed upon between all the Parties to the conflict concerned.

They may be marked with the distinctive emblem provided for in Article 38 of the Geneva Convention for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field of August 12, 1949.

Unless agreed otherwise, flights over enemy or enemy occupied territory are prohibited.

Such aircraft shall obey every summons to land. In the event of a landing thus imposed, the aircraft with its occupants may continue its flight after examination, if any.

Article 23

Consignment of medical supplies, food and clothing.

Each High Contracting Party shall allow the free passage of all consignments of medical and hospital stores and objects necessary for religious worship intended only for civilians of another High Contracting Party, even if the latter is its adversary. It shall likewise permit the free passage of all consignments of essential foodstuffs, clothing and tonics intended for children under fifteen, expectant mothers and maternity cases.

The obligation of a High Contracting Party to allow the free passage of the consignments indicated in the preceding paragraph is subject to the condition that this Party is satisfied that there are no serious reasons for fearing—

(a) that the consignments may be diverted from their destination,

(b) that the control may not be effective, or

(c) that a definite advantage may accrue to the military efforts or economy of the enemy through the substitution of the above-mentioned consignments for goods which would otherwise be provided or produced by the enemy or through the release of such material, services or facilities as would otherwise be required for the production of such goods.

The Power which allows the passage of the consignments indicated in the first paragraph of this Article may make such permission conditional on the distribution to the persons benefited thereby being made under the local supervision of the Protecting Powers.

Such consignments shall be forwarded as rapidly as possible, and the Power which permits their free passage shall have the right to prescribe the technical arrangements under which such passage is allowed.

Article 24

Measures relating to child welfare.

The Parties to the conflict shall take the necessary measures to ensure that children under fifteen, who are orphaned or are separated from their families as a result of the war, are not left to their own resources, and that their maintenance, the exercise of their religion and their education are facilitated in all circumstances. Their education shall, as far as possible, be entrusted to persons of a similar cultural tradition.

The Parties to the conflict shall facilitate the reception of such children in a neutral country for the duration of the conflict with the consent of the Protecting Power, if any, and under due safeguards for the observance of the principles stated in the first paragraph.

They shall, furthermore, endeavour to arrange for all children under twelve to be identified by the wearing of identity discs or by some other means.

Article 25

Family news.

All persons in the territory of a Party to the conflict, or in a territory occupied by it, shall be enabled to give news of a strictly personal nature to members of their families, wherever they may be, and to receive news from them. This correspondence shall be forwarded speedily and without undue delay.

If, as a result of circumstances, it becomes difficult or impossible to exchange family correspondence by the ordinary post, the Parties to the conflict concerned shall apply to a neutral intermediary, such as the Central Agency provided for in Article 140, and shall decide in consultation with it how to ensure the fulfilment of their obligations under the best possible conditions, in particular with the co-operation of the National Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Societies.

If the Parties to the conflict deem it necessary to restrict family correspondence, such restrictions shall be confined to the compulsory use of standard forms containing twenty-five freely chosen words, and to the limitation of the number of these forms despatched to one each month.

Article 26

Dispersed families.

Each Party to the conflict shall facilitate enquiries made by members of families dispersed owing to the war, with the object of renewing contact with one another and of meeting, if possible. It shall encourage, in particular, the work of organisations engaged on this task provided they are acceptable to it and conform to its security regulations.

PART III

STATUS AND TREATMENT OF PROTECTED PERSONS

SECTION I

PROVISIONS COMMON TO THE TERRITORIES OF THE PARTIES TO THE CONFLICT AND TO OCCUPIED TERRITORIES

Article 27

Treatment I. General observations.

Protected persons are entitled, in all circumstances, to respect for their persons, their honour, their family rights, their religious convictions and practices, and their manners and customs. They shall at all times be humanely treated, and shall be protected especially against all acts of violence or threats thereof and against insults and public curiosity.

Women shall be especially protected against any attack on their honour, in particular against rape, enforced prostitution, or any form of indecent assault.

Without prejudice to the provisions relating to their state of health, age and sex, all protected persons shall be treated with the same consideration by the Party to the conflict in whose power they are, without any adverse distinction based, in particular, on race, religion or political opinion.

However, the Parties to the conflict may take such measures of control and security in regard to protected persons as may be necessary as a result of the war.

Article 28.

II. Danger zones.

The presence of a protected person may not be used to render certain points or areas immune from military operations.

Article 29

III. Responsibilities.

The Party to the conflict in whose hands protected persons may be, is responsible for the treatment accorded to them by its agents, irrespective of any individual responsibility which may be incurred.

Article 30

Application to Protecting Power and relief organizations.

Protected persons shall have every facility for making application to the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross, the National Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Society of the country where they may be, as well as to any organizations that might assist them.

These several organizations shall be granted all facilities for that purpose by the authorities, within the bounds set by military or security considerations.

Apart from the visits of the delegates of the Protecting Powers and of the International Committee of the Red Cross, provided for by Article 143, the Detaining or Occupying Powers shall facilitate as much as possible visits to protected persons by the representatives of other organizations whose object is to give spiritual aid or material relief to such persons.

Article 31

Prohibition of coercion.

No physical or moral coercion shall be exercised against protected persons, in particular to obtain information from them or from third parties.

Article 32

Prohibition of corporal punishment, torture, etc.

The High Contracting Parties specifically agree that each of them is prohibited from taking any measure of such a character as to cause the physical suffering or extermination of protected persons in their hands. This prohibition applies not only to murder, torture, corporal punishment, mutilation and medical or scientific experiments not necessitated by the medical treatment of a protected person, but also to any other measures of brutality whether applied by civilian or military agents.

Article 33

Individual responsibility, collective penalties, pillage, reprisals.

No protected person may be punished for an offence he or she has not personally committed. Collective penalties and likewise all measures of intimidation or of terrorism are prohibited.

Pillage is prohibited.

Reprisals against protected persons and their property are prohibited.

Article 34

Hostages.

The taking of hostages is prohibited.

SECTION II

ALIENS IN THE TERRITORY OF A PARTY TO THE CONFLICT

Article 35

Right to leave the territory.

All protected persons who may desire to leave the territory at the outset of, or during a conflict, shall be entitled to do so, unless their departure is contrary to the national interest of the State. The applications of such persons to leave shall be decided in accordance with regularly established procedures and the decision shall be taken as rapidly as possible. Those persons permitted to leave may provide themselves with the necessary funds for their journey and take with them a reasonable amount of their effects and articles of personal use.

If any such person is refused permission to leave the territory, he shall be entitled to have such refusal reconsidered as soon as possible by an appropriate court or administrative board designated by the Detaining Power for that purpose.

Upon request, representatives of the Protecting Power shall, unless reasons of security prevent it, or the persons concerned object, be furnished with the reasons for refusal of any request for permission to leave the territory and be given, as expeditiously as possible, the names of all persons who have been denied permission to leave.

Article 36

Method of repatriation.

Departures permitted under the foregoing Article shall be carried out in satisfactory conditions as regards safety, hygiene, sanitation and food. All costs in connection therewith, from the point of exit in the territory of the Detaining Power, shall be borne by the country of destination, or, in the case of accommodation in neutral country, by the Power whose nationals are benefited. The practical details of such movements may, if necessary, be settled by special agreements between the Powers concerned.

The foregoing shall not prejudice such special agreements as may be concluded between Parties to the conflict concerning the exchange and repatriation of their nationals in enemy hands.

Article 37

Persons in confinement.

Protected persons who are confined pending proceedings or subject to a sentence involving loss of liberty, shall during their confinement be humanely treated.

As soon as they are released, they may ask to leave the territory in conformity with the foregoing Articles.

Article 38

Non-repatriated persons I. General observations.

With the exception of special measures authorised by the present Convention, in particular by Articles 27 and 41 thereof, the situation of protected persons shall continue to be regulated, in principle, by the provisions concerning aliens in time of peace. In any case, the following rights shall be granted to them:—

(1) They shall be enabled to receive the individual or collective relief that may be sent to them.

(2) They shall, if their state of health so requires, receive medical attention and hospital treatment to the same extent as the nationals of the State concerned.

(3) They shall be allowed to practise their religion and to receive spiritual assistance from ministers of their faith.

(4) If they reside in an area particularly exposed to the dangers of war, they shall be authorised to move from that area to the same extent as the nationals of the State concerned.

(5) Children under fifteen years, pregnant women and mothers of children under seven years shall benefit by any preferential treatment to the same extent as the nationals of the State concerned.

Article 39

II. Means of existence.

Protected persons who, as a result of the war, have lost their gainful employment, shall be granted the opportunity to find paid employment. That opportunity shall, subject to security considerations and to the provisions of Article 40, be equal to that enjoyed by the nationals of the Power in whose territory they are.

Where a Party to the conflict applies to a protected person methods of control which result in his being unable to support himself, and especially if such a person is prevented for reasons of security from finding paid employment on reasonable conditions, the said Party shall ensure his support and that of his dependents.

Protected persons may in any case receive allowances from their home country, the Protecting Power, or the relief societies referred to in Aticle 30.

Article 40

III. Employment.

Protected persons may be compelled to work only to the same extent as nationals of the Party to the conflict in whose territory they are.

If protected persons are of enemy nationality, they may only be compelled to do work which is normally necessary to ensure the feeding, sheltering, clothing, transport and health of human beings and which is not directly related to the conduct of military operations.

In the cases mentioned in the two preceding paragraphs, protected persons compelled to work shall have the benefit of the same working conditions and of the same safeguards as national workers, in particular as regards wages, hours of labour, clothing and equipment, previous training and compensation for occupational accidents and diseases.

If the above provisions are infringed, protected persons shall be allowed to exercise their right of complaint in accordance with Article 30.

IV. Assigned residence. Internment.

Should the Power in whose hands protected persons may be consider the measures of control mentioned in the present Convention to be inadequate, it may not have recourse to any other measure of control more severe than that of assigned residence or internment, in accordance with the provisions of Articles 42 and 43.

In applying the provisions of Article 39, second paragraph, to the cases of persons required to leave their usual places of residence by virtue of a decision placing them in assigned residence elsewhere, the Detaining Power shall be guided as closely as possible by the standards of welfare set forth in Part III, Section IV of this Convention.

Article 42

V. Grounds for internment or assigned residence. Voluntary internment.

The internment or placing in assigned residence of protected persons may be ordered only if the security of the Detaining Power makes it absolutely necessary.

If any person, acting through the representatives of the Protecting Power, voluntarily demands internment, and if his situation renders this step necessary, he shall be interned by the Power in whose hands he may be.

Article 43

VI. Procedure.

Any protected person who has been interned or placed in assigned residence shall be entitled to have such action reconsidered as soon as possible by an appropriate court or administrative board designated by the Detaining Power for that purpose. If the internment or placing in assigned residence is maintained, the court or administrative board shall periodically, and at least twice yearly, give consideration to his or her case, with a view to the favourable amendment of the initial decision, if circumstances permit.

Unless the protected persons concerned object, the Detaining Power shall, as rapidly as possible, give the Protecting Power the names of any protected persons who have been interned or subjected to assigned residence, or who have been released from internment or assigned residence. The decisions of the courts or boards mentioned in the first paragraph of the present Article shall also, subject to the same conditions, be notified as rapidly as possible to the Protecting Power.

Article 44

VII. Refugees.

In applying the measures of control mentioned in the present Convention, the Detaining Power shall not treat as enemy aliens exclusively on the basis of their nationality de jure of an enemy State, refugees who do not, in fact, enjoy the protection of any government.

Article 45

VIII Transfer to another Power.

Protected persons shall not be transferred to a Power which is not a party to the Convention.

This provision shall in no way constitute an obstacle to the repatriation of protected persons, or to their return to their country of residence after the cessation of hostilities.

Protected persons may be transferred by the Detaining Power only to a Power which is a party to the present Convention and after the Detaining Power has satisfied itself of the willingness and ability of such transferee Power to apply the present Convention. If protected persons are transferred under such circumstances, responsibility for the application of the present Convention rests on the Power accepting them, while they are in its custody. Nevertheless, if that Power fails to carry out the provisions of the present Convention in any important respect, the Power by which the protected persons were transferred shall, upon being so notified by the Protecting Power, take effective measures to correct the situation or shall request the return of the protected persons. Such request must be complied with.

In no circumstances shall a protected person be transferred to a country where he or she may have reason to fear persecution for his or her political opinions or religious beliefs.

The provisions of this Article do not constitute an obstacle to the extradition, in pursuance of extradition treaties concluded before the outbreak of hostilities, of protected persons accused of offences against ordinary criminal law.

Article 46

Cancellation of restrictive measures.

In so far as they have not been previously withdrawn, restrictive measures taken regarding protected persons shall be cancelled as soon as possible after the close of hostilities.

Restrictive measures affecting their property shall be cancelled, in accordance with the law of the Detaining Power, as soon as possible after the close of hostilities.

SECTION III

Occupied territories

Article 47

Inviolability of rights.

Protected persons who are in occupied territory shall not be deprived, in any case or in any manner whatsoever, of the benefits of the present Convention by any change introduced, as the result of the occupation of a territory, into the institutions or government of the said territory, nor by any agreement concluded between the authorities of the occupied territories and the Occupying Power, nor by any annexation by the latter of the whole or part of the occupied territory.

Article 48

Special cases of repatriation.

Protected persons who are not nationals of the Power whose territory is occupied, may avail themselves of the right to leave the territory subject to the provisions of Article 35, and decisions thereon shall be taken according to the procedure which the Occupying Power shall establish in accordance with the said Article.

Article 49

Deportations, transfers, evacuations.

Individual or mass forcible transfers, as well as deportations of protected persons from occupied territory to the territory of the Occupying Power or to that of any other country, occupied or not, are prohibited, regardless or their motive.

Nevertheless, the Occupying Power may undertake total or partial evacuation of a given area if the security of the population or imperative military reasons so demand. Such evacuations may not involve the displacement of protected persons outside the bounds of the occupied territory except when for material reasons it is impossible to avoid such displacement. Persons thus evacuated shall be transferred back to their homes as soon as hostilities in the area in question have ceased.

The Occupying Power undertaking such transfers or evacuations shall ensure, to the greatest practicable extent, that proper accommodation is provided to receive the protected persons, that the removals are effected in satisfactory conditions of hygiene, health, safety and nutrition, and that members of the same family are not separated.

The Protecting Power shall be informed of any transfers and evacuations as soon as they have taken place.

The Occupying Power shall not detain protected persons in an area particularly exposed to the dangers of war unless the security of the population or imperative military reasons so demand.

The Occupying Power shall not deport or transfer parts of its own civilian population into the territory it occupies.

Article 50

Children.

The Occupying Power shall, with the co-operation of the national and local authorities, facilitate the proper working of all institutions devoted to the care and education of children.

The Occupying Power shall take all necessary steps to facilitate the identification of children and the registration of their parentage. It may not, in any case, change their personal status, nor enlist them in formations or organizations subordinate to it.

Should the local institutions be inadequate for the purpose, the Occupying Power shall make arrangements for the maintenance and education, if possible, by persons of their own nationality language and religion, of children who are orphaned or separated from their parents as a result of the war and who cannot be adequately cared for by a near relative or friend.

A special section of the Bureau set up in accordance with Article 136 shall be responsible for taking all necessary steps to identify children whose identity is in doubt. Particulars of their parents or other near relatives should always be recorded if available.

The Occupying Power shall not hinder the application of any preferential measures in regard to food, medical care and protection against the effects of war which may have been adopted prior to the occupation in favour of children under fifteen years, expectant mothers, and mothers of children under seven years.

Article 51

Enlistment. Labour.

The Occupying Power may not compel protected persons to serve in its armed or auxiliary forces. No pressure or propaganda which aims at securing voluntary enlistment is permitted.

The Occupying Power may not compel protected persons to work unless they are over eighteen years of age, and then only on work which is necessary either for the needs of the army of occupation, or for the public utility services, or for the feeding, sheltering, clothing, transportation or health of the population of the occupied country. Protected persons may not be compelled to undertake any work which would involve them in the obligation of taking part in military operations. The Occupying Power may not compel protected persons to employ forcible means to ensure the security of the installations where they are performing compulsory labour.

The work shall be carried out only in the occupied territory where the persons whose services have been requisitioned are. Every such person shall, so far as possible, be kept in his usual place of employment. Workers shall be paid a fair wage and the work shall be proportionate to their physical and intellectual capacities. The legislation in force in the occupied country concerning working conditions, and safeguards as regards, in particulars, such matters as wages, hours of work, equipment, preliminary training and compensation for occupational accidents and diseases, shall be applicable to the protected persons assigned to the work referred to in this Article.

In no case shall requisition of labour lead to a mobilization of workers in an organization of a military or semi-military character.

Article 52

Protection of workers.

No contract, agreement or regulation shall impair the right of any worker, whether voluntary or not and wherever he may be, to apply to the representatives of the Protecting Power in order to request the said Power's intervention.

All measures aiming at creating unemployment or at restricting the opportunities offered to workers in an occupied territory, in order to induce them to work for the Occupying Power, are prohibited.

Article 53

Prohibited destruction.

Any destruction by the Occupying Power of real or personal property belonging individually or collectively to private persons, or to the State, or to other public authorities, or to social or co-operative organizations, is prohibited, except where such destruction is rendered absolutely necessary by military operations.

Article 54

Judges and public officials.

The Occupying Power may not alter the status of public officials or judges in the occupied territories, or in any way apply sanctions to or take any measures of coercion or discrimination against them, should they abstain from fulfilling their functions for reasons of conscience.

This prohibition does not prejudice the application of the second paragraph of Article 51. It does not affect the right of the Occupying Power to remove public officials from their posts.

Article 55

Food and medical supplies for the population.

To the fullest extent of the means available to it, the Occupying Power has the duty of ensuring the food and medical supplies of the population; it should, in particular, bring in the necessary foodstuffs, medical stores and other articles if the resources of the occupied territory are inadequate.

The Occupying Power may not requisition foodstuffs, articles or medical supplies available in the occupied territory, except for use by the occupation forces and administration personnel, and then only if the requirements of the civilian population have been taken into account. Subject to the provisions of other international Conventions, the Occupying Power shall make arrangements to ensure that fair value is paid for any requisitioned goods.

The Protecting Power shall, at any time, be at liberty to verify the state of the food and medical supplies in occupied territories, except where temporary restrictions are made necessary by imperative military requirements.

Article 56

Hygiene and public health.

To the fullest extent of the means available to it, the Occupying Power has the duty of ensuring and maintaining, with the co-operation of national and local authorities, the medical and hospital establishments and services, public health and hygiene in the occupied territory, wtih particular reference to the adoption and application of the prophylactic and preventive measures necessary to combat the spread of contagious diseases and epidemics. Medical personnel of all categories shall be allowed to carry out their duties.

If new hospitals are set up in occupied territory and if the competent organs of the occupied State are not operating there, the occupying authorities shall, if necessary, grant them the recognition provided for in Article 18. In similar circumstances, the occupying authorities shall also grant recognition to hospital personnel and transport vehicles under the provisions of Articles 20 and 21.

In adopting measures of health and hygiene and in their implementation, the Occupying Power shall take into consideration the moral and ethical susceptibilities of the population of the occupied territory.

Article 57

Requisition of hospitals.

The Occupying Power may requisition civilian hospitals only temporarily and only in cases of urgent necessity for the care of military wounded and sick, and then on condition that suitable arrangements are made in due time for the care and treatment of the patients and for the needs of the civilian population for hospital accommodation.

The material and stores of civilian hospitals cannot be requisitioned so long as they are necessary for the needs of the civilian population.

Article 58

Spiritual assistance.

The Occupying Power shall permit ministers of religion to give spiritual assistance to the members of their religious communities.

The Occupying Power shall also accept consignments of books and articles required for religious needs and shall facilitate their distribution in occupied territory.

Article 59

Relief I. Collective relief.

If the whole or part of the population of an occupied terirtory is inadequately supplied, the Occupying Power shall agree to relief schemes on behalf of the said population, and shall facilitate them by all the means at its disposal.

Such schemes, which may be undertaken either by States or by impartial humanitarian organizations, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, shall consist, in particular, of the provision of consignments of foodstuffs, medical supplies and clothing.

All Contracting Parties shall permit the free passage of these consignments and shall guarantee their protection.

A Power granting free passage to consignments on their way to territory occupied by an adverse Party to the conflict shall, however, have the right to search the consignments, to regulate their passage according to prescribed times and routes, and to be reasonably satisfied through the Protecting Power that these consignments are to be used for the relief of the needy population and are not to be used for the benefit of the Occupying Power,

Article 60

II. Responsibilities of the Occupying Power.

Relief consignments shall in no way relieve the Occupying Power of any of its responsibilities under Articles 55, 56 and 59. The Occupying Powers shall in no way whatsoever divert relief consignment from the purpose for which they are intended, except in cases of urgent necessity, in the interests of the population of the occupied territory and with the consent of the Protecting Power.

Article 61

III. Distribution.

The distribution of the relief consignments referred to in the foregoing Articles shall be carried out with the cooperation and under the supervision of the Protecting Power. This duty may also be delegated, by agreement between the Occupying Power and the Protecting Power, to a neutral Power, to the International Committee of the Red Cross or to any other impartial humanitarian body.

Such consignments shall be exempt in occupied territory from all charges, taxes or customs duties unless these are necessary in the interests of the economy of the territory. The Occupying Power shall facilitate the rapid distribution of these consignments.

All Contracting Parties shall endeavour to permit the transit and transport, free of charge, of such relief consignments on their way to occupied territories.

Article 62

IV. Individual relief.

Subject to imperative reasons of security, protected persons in occupied territories shall be permitted to receive the individual relief consignments sent to them.

Article 63

National Red Cross and other relief societies.

Subject to temporary and exceptional measures imposed for urgent reasons of security by the Occupying Power—

(a) recognized National Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Societies shall be able to pursue their activities in accordance with Red Cross principles, as defined by the International Red Cross Conferences. Other relief societies shall be permitted to continue their humanitarian activities under similar conditions;

(b) the Occupying Power may not require any changes in the personnel or structure of these societies, which would prejudice the aforesaid activities.

The same principles shall apply to the activities and personnel of special organizations of a non-military character, which already exist or which may be established, for the purpose of ensuring the living conditions of the civilian population by the maintenance of the essential public utility services, by the distribution of relief and by the organization of rescues.

Article 64

Penal legislation. I. General observations.

The penal laws of the occupied territory shall remain in force, with the exception that they may be repealed or suspended by the Occupying Power in cases where they constitute a threat to its security or an obstacle to the application of the present Convention. Subject to the latter consideration and to the necessity for ensuring the effective administration of justice, the tribunals of the occupied territory shall continue to function in respect of all offences covered by the said laws.

The Occupying Power may, however, subject the population of the occupied territory to provisions which are essential to enable the Occupying Power to fulfil its obligations under the present Convention, to maintain the orderly government of the territory, and to ensure the security of the Occupying Power, of the members and property of the occupying forces or administration, and likewise of the establishments and lines of communications used by them.

Article 65

II. Publication.

The penal provisions enacted by the Occupying Power shall not come into force before they have been published and brought to the knowledge of the inhabitants in their own language. The effect of these penal provisions shall not be retroactive.

Article 66

III. Competent Courts.

In case of a breach of the penal provisions promulgated by it by virtue of the second paragraph of Article 64, the Occupying Power may hand over the accused to its properly constituted, non-political military courts, on condition that the said courts sit in the occupied country. Courts of appeal shall preferably sit in the occupied country.

Article 67

IV. Applicable provisions.

The courts shall apply only those provisions of law which were applicable prior to the offence, and which are in accordance with general principles of law, in particular the principle that the penalty shall be proportional to the offence. They shall take into consideration the fact that the accused is not a national of the Occupying Power.

Article 68

V. Penalties. Death penalty.

Protected persons who commit an offence which is solely intended to harm the Occupying Power, but which does not constitute an attempt on the life or limb of members of the occupying forces or administration, nor a grave collective danger, nor seriously damage the property of the occupying forces or administration or the installations used by them, shall be liable to internment or simple imprisonment, provided the duration of such internment or imprisonment is proportionate to the offence committed. Furthermore, internment or imprisonment shall, for such offences, be the only measure adopted for depriving protected persons of liberty. The courts provided for under Article 66 of the present convention may at their discretion convert a sentence of imprisonment to one of internment for the same period.

The penal provisions promulgated by the Occupying Power in accordance with Articles 64 and 65 may impose the death penalty on a protected person only in cases where the person is guilty of espionage, of serious acts of sabotage against the military installations of the Occupying Power or of intentional offences which have caused the death of one or more persons, provided that such offences were punishable by death under the law of the occupied territory in force before the occupation began.

The death penalty may not be pronounced against a protected person unless the attention of the court has been particularly called to the fact that since the accused is not a national of the Occupying Power, he is not bound to it by any duty of allegiance.

In any case, the death penalty may not be pronounced against a protected person who was under eighteen years of age at the time of the offence.

Article 69

VI. Deduction from sentence of period spent under arrest.

In all cases, the duration of the period during which a protected person accused of an offence is under arrest awaiting trial or punishment shall be deducted from any period of imprisonment awarded.

Article 70

VIII. Offences committed before occupation.

Protected persons shall not be arrested, prosecuted or convicted by the Occupying Power for acts committed or for opinions expressed before the occupation, or during a temporary interruption thereof, with the exception of breaches of the laws and customs of war.

Nationals of the Occupying Power who, before the outbreak of hostilities, have sought refuge in the territory of the occupied State, shall not be arrested, prosecuted, convicted or deported from the occupied territory, except for offences committed after the outbreak of hostilities, or for offences under common law committed before the outbreak of hostilities, which, according to the law of the occupied State, would have justified extradition in time of peace.

Article 71

Penal procedure I. General observations.

No sentence shall be pronounced by the competent courts of the Occupying Power except after a regular trial.

Accused persons who are prosecuted by the Occupying Power shall be promptly informed, in writing, in a language which they understand, of the particulars of the charges preferred against them, and shall be brought to trial as rapidly as possible. The Protecting Power shall be informed of all proceedings instituted by the Occupying Power against protected persons in respect of charges involving the death penalty or imprisonment for two years or more; it shall be enabled, at any time, to obtain information regarding the state of such proceedings. Furthermore, the Protecting Power shall be entitled, on request, to be furnished with all particulars of these and of any other proceedings instituted by the Occupying Power against protected persons.

The notification to the Protecting Power, as provided for in the second paragraph above, shall be sent immediately, and shall in any case reach the Protecting Power three weeks before the date of the first hearing. Unless, at the opening of the trial, evidence is submitted that the provisions of this Article are fully complied with, the trial shall not proceed. The notification shall include the following particulars:—

(a) description of the accused;

(b) place of residence or detention;

(c) specification of the charge or charges (with mention of the penal provisions under which it is brought);

(d) designation of the court which will hear the case;

(e) place and date of the first hearing.

Article 72

II. Right of defence.

Accused persons shall have the right to present evidence necessary to their defence and may, in particular, call witnesses. They shall have the right to be assisted by a qualified advocate or counsel of their own choice, who shall be able to visit them freely and shall enjoy the necessary facilities for preparing the defence.

Failing a choice by the accused, the Protecting Power may provide him with an advocate or counsel. When an accused person has to meet a serious charge and the Protecting Power is not functioning, the Occupying Power, subject to the consent of the accused, shall provide an advocate or counsel.

Accused persons shall, unless they freely waive such assistance, be aided by an interpreter both during preliminary investigation and during the hearing in court. They shall have the right at any time to object to the interpreter and to ask for his replacement.

Article 73

III. Right of appeal.

A convicted person shall have the right of appeal provided for by the laws applied by the court. He shall be fully informed of his right to appeal or petition and of the time limit within which he may do so.

The penal procedure provided in the present Section shall apply, as far as it is applicable, to appeals. Where the laws applied by the Court make no provision for appeals, the convicted person shall have the right to petition against the finding and sentence to the competent authority of the Occupying Power.

Article 74

IV. Assistance by the Protecting Power.

Representatives of the Protecting Power shall have the right to attend the trial of any protected person, unless the hearing has, as an exceptional measure, to be held in camera in the interests of the security of the Occupying Power, which shall then notify the Protecting Power. A notification in respect of the date and place of trial shall be sent to the Protecting Power.

Any judgement involving a sentence of death, or imprisonment for two years or more, shall be communicated, with the relevant grounds, as rapidly as possible to the Protecting Power. The notification shall contain a reference to the notification made under Article 71 and, in the case of sentences of imprisonment, the name of the place where the sentences is to be served. A record of judgements other than those referred to above shall be kept by the court and shall be open to inspection by representatives of the Protecting Power. Any period allowed for appeal in the case of sentences involving the death penalty, or imprisonment of two years or more, shall not run until notification of judgment has been received by the Protecting Power.

Article 75

V. Death sentence.

In no case shall persons condemned to death be deprived of the right of petition for pardon or reprieve.

No death sentence shall be carried out before the expiration of a period of at least six months from the date of receipt by the Protecting Power of the notification of the final judgment confirming such death sentence, or of an order denying pardon or reprieve.

The six months period of suspension of the death sentence herein prescribed may be reduced in individual cases in circumstances of grave emergency involving an organized threat to the security of the Occupying Power or its forces, provided always that the Protecting Power is notified of such reduction and is given reasonable time and opportunity to make representations to the competent occupying authorities in respect of such death sentences.

Article 76

Treatment of detainees.

Protected persons accused of offences shall be detained in the occupied country, and if convicted they shall serve their sentences therein. They shall, if possible, be separated from other detainees and shall enjoy conditions of food and hygiene which will be sufficient to keep them in good health, and which will be at least equal to those obtaining in prisons in the occupied country.

They shall receive the medical attention required by their state of health.

They shall also have the right to receive any spiritual assistance which they may require.

Women shall be confined in separate quarters and shall be under the direct supervision of women.

Proper regard shall be paid to the special treatment due to minors.

Protected persons who are detained shall have the right to be visited by delegates of the Protecting Power and of the International Committee of the Red Cross, in accordance with the provisions of Article 143.

Such persons shall have the right to receive at least one relief parcel monthly.

Article 77

Handing over of detainees at the close of occupation.

Protected persons who have been accused of offences or convicted by the courts in occupied territory, shall be handed over at the close of occupation, with the relevant records, to the authorities of the liberated territory.

Article 78

Security measures. Internment and assigned residence. Right of appeal.

If the Occupying Power considers it necessary, for imperative reasons of security, to take safety measures concerning protected persons, it may, at the most, subject them to assigned residence or to internment.

Decisions regarding such assigned residence or internment shall be made according to a regular procedure to be prescribed by the Occupying Power in accordance with the provisions of the present Convention. This procedure shall include the right of appeal for the parties concerned. Appeals shall be decided with the least possible delay. In the event of the decision being upheld, it shall be subject to periodical review, if possible every six months, by a competent body set up by the said Power.

Protected persons made subject to assigned residence and thus required to leave their homes shall enjoy the full benefit of Article 39 of the present Convention.

SECTION IV

REGULATIONS FOR THE TREATMENT OF INTERNEES

CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 79

Cases of internment and applicable provisions.

The Parties to the conflict shall not intern protected persons, except in accordance with the provisions of Articles 41, 42, 43, 68 and 78.

Article 80

Civil capacity.

Internees shall retain their full civil capacity and shall exercise such attendant rights as may be compatible with their status.

Article 81

Maintenance.

Parties to the conflict who intern protected persons shall be bound to provide free of charge for their maintenance, and to grant them also the medical attention required by their state of health.

No deduction from the allowances, salaries or credits due to the internees shall be made for the repayment of these costs.

The Detaining Power shall provide for the support of those dependent on the internees, if such dependents are without adequate means of support or are unable to earn a living.

Article 82

Grouping of internees.

The Detaining Power shall, as far as possible, accommodate the internees according to their nationality, language and customs. Internees who are nationals of the same country shall not be separated merely because they have different languages.

Throughout the duration of their internment, members of the same family, and in particular parents and children, shall be lodged together in the same place of internment, except when separation of a temporary nature is necessitated for reasons of employment or health or for the purposes of enforcement of the provisions of Chapter IX of the present Section. Internees may request that their children who are left at liberty without parental care shall be interned with them.

Wherever possible, interned members of the same family shall be housed in the same premises and given separate accommodation from other internees, together with facilities for leading a proper family life.

CHAPTER II

PLACES OF INTERNMENT

Article 83

Location of places of internment.

The Detaining Power shall not set up places of internment in areas particularly exposed to the dangers of war.

Marking of camps.

The Detaining Power shall give the enemy Powers, through the intermediary of the Protecting Powers, all useful information regarding the geographical location of places of internment.

Whenever military considerations permit, internment camps shall be indicated by the letters IC, placed so as to be clearly visible in the daytime from the air. The Powers concerned may, however, agree upon any other system of marking. No place other than an internment camp shall be marked as such.

Article 84

Separate internment.

Internees shall be accommodated and administered separately from prisoners of war and from persons deprived of liberty for any other reason.

Article 85

Accommodation, hygiene.

The Detaining Power is bound to take all necessary and possible measures to ensure that protected persons shall, from the outset of their internment, be accommodated in buildings or quarters which afford every possible safeguard as regards hygiene and health, and provide efficient protection against the rigours of the climate and the effects of the war. In no case shall permanent places of internment be situated in unhealthy areas or in districts the climate of which is injurious to the internees. In all cases where the district, in which a protected person is temporarily interned, is an unhealthy area or has a climate which is harmful to his health, he shall be removed to a more suitable place of internment as rapidly as circumstances permit.

The premises shall be fully protected from dampness, adequately heated and lighted, in particular between dusk and lights out. The sleeping quarters shall be sufficiently spacious and well-ventilated, and the internees shall have suitable bedding and sufficient blankets, account being taken of the climate, and the age, sex, and state of health of the internees.

Internees shall have for their use, day and night, sanitary conveniences which conform to the rules of hygiene, and are constantly maintained in a state of cleanliness. They shall be provided with sufficient water and soap for their daily personal toilet and for washing their personal laundry; installations and facilities necessary for this purpose shall be granted to them. Showers or baths shall also be available. The necessary time shall be set aside for washing and for cleaning.

Whenever it is necessary, as an exceptional and temporary measure, to accommodate women internees who are not members of a family unit in the same place of internment as men, the provision of separate sleeping quarters and sanitary conveniences for the use of such women internees shall be obligatory.

Article 86

Premises for religious services.

The Detaining Power shall place at the disposal of interned persons, of whatever denomination, premises suitable for the holding of their religious services.

Article 87

Canteens.

Canteens shall be installed in every place of internment, except where other suitable facilities are available. Their purpose shall be to enable internees to make purchases, at prices not higher than local market prices, of foodstuffs and articles of everyday use, including soap and tobacco, such as would increase their personal well-being and comfort.

Profits made by canteens shall be credited to a welfare fund to be set up for each place of internment, and administered for the benefit of the internees attached to such place of internment. The Internee Committee provided for in Article 102 shall have the right to check the management of the canteen and of the said fund.

When a place of internment is closed down, the balance of the welfare fund shall be transferred to the welfare fund of a place of internment for internees of the same nationality, or, if such a place does not exist, to a central welfare fund which shall be adminstered for the benefit of all internees remaining in the custody of the Detaining Power. In case of a general release, the said profits shall be kept by the Detaining Power, subject to any agreement to the contrary between the Powers concerned.

Article 88

Air raid shelters. Protective measures.

In all places of internment exposed to air raids and other hazards of war, shelters adequate in number and structure to ensure the necessary protection shall be installed. In case of alarms, the internees shall be free to enter such shelters as quickly as possible, excepting those who remain for the protection of their quarters against the aforesaid hazards. Any protective measures taken in favour of the population shall also apply to them.

All due precautions must be taken in places of internment against the danger of fire.

CHAPTER III

FOOD AND CLOTHING

Article 89

Food.

Daily food rations for internees shall be sufficient in quantity, quality and variety to keep internees in a good state of health and prevent the development of nutritional deficiencies. Account shall also be taken of the customary diet of the internees.

Internees shall also be given the means by which they can prepare for themselves any additional food in their possession.

Sufficient drinking water shall be supplied to internees. The use of tobacco shall be permitted.

Internees who work shall receive additional rations, in proportion to the kind of labour which they perform.

Expectant and nursing mothers and children under fifteen years of age, shall be given additional food, in proportion to their physiological needs.

Article 90

Clothing.

When taken into custody, internees shall be given all facilities to provide themselves with the necessary clothing, footwear and change of underwear, and later on, to procure further supplies if required. Should any internees not have sufficient clothing, account being taken of the climate, and be unable to procure any, it shall be provided free of charge to them by the Detaining Power.

The clothing supplied by the Detaining Power to internees and the outward markings placed on their own clothes shall not be ignominious nor expose them to ridicule.

Workers shall receive suitable working outfits, including protective clothing, whenever the nature of their work so requires.

CHAPTER IV

HYGIENE AND MEDICAL ATTENTION

Article 91

Medical attention

Every place of internment shall have an adequate infirmary, under the direction of a qualified doctor, where internees may have the attention they require, as well as appropriate diet. Isolation wards shall be set aside for cases of contagious or mental diseases.

Maternity cases and internees suffering from serious diseases, or whose conditions require special treatment, a surgical operation or hospital care, must be admitted to any institution where adequate treatment can be given and shall receive care not inferior to that provided for the general population.

Internees shall, for preference, have the attention of medical personnel of their own nationality.

Internees may not be prevented from presenting themselves to the medical authorities for examination. The medical authorities of the Detaining Power shall, upon request, issue to every internee who has undergone treatment an official certificate showing the nature of his illness or injury, and the duration and nature of the treatment given. A duplicate of this certificate shall be forwarded to the Central Agency provided for in Article 140.

Treatment, including the provision of any apparatus necessary for the maintenance of internees in good health, particularly dentures and other artificial appliances and spectacles, shall be free of charge to the internee.

Article 92

Medical inspections. Medical inspections of internees shall be made at least once a month. Their purpose shall be, in particular, to supervise the general state of health nutrition and cleanliness of internees and to detect contagious diseases especially tuberculosis, malaria and venereal diseases. Such inspections shall include, in particular, the checking of weight of each internee and, at least once a year, radioscopic examination.

CHAPTER V

RELIGIOUS, INTELLECTUAL AND PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES

Article 93

Religious duties. Internees shall enjoy complete latitude in the exercise of their religious duties, including attendance at the services of their faith, on condition that they comply with the disciplinary routine prescribed by the detaining authorities.

Ministers of religion who are interned shall be allowed to minister freely to the members of their community. For this purpose the Detaining Power shall ensure their equitable allocation amongst the various places of internment in which there are internees speaking the same language and belonging to the same religion. Should such ministers be too few in number, the Detaining Power shall provide them with the necessary facilities including means of transport, for moving from one place to another, and they shall be authorised to visit any internees who are in hospital. Ministers of religions shall be at liberty to correspond on matters concerning their ministry with the religious authorities in the country of detention and, as far as possible, with the international religious organizations of their faith. Such correspondence shall not be considered as forming a part of the quota mentioned in Article 107. It shall, however, be subject to the provisions of Article 112.

When internees do not have at their disposal the assistance of ministers of their faith, or should these latter be too few in number, the local religious authorities of the same faith may appoint, in agreement with the Detaining Power, a minister of the internees' faith or, if such a course is feasible from a denominational point of view, a minister of similar religion or a qualified layman. The latter shall enjoy the facilities granted to the ministry he has assumed. Persons so appointed shall comply with all regulations laid down by the Detaining Power in the interests of discipline and security.

Article 94

Recreation, study sports and games. The Detaining Power shall encourage intellectual, educational and recreational pursuits, sports and games amongst internees, whilst leaving them free to take part in them or not. It shall take all practicable measures to ensure the exercise thereof, in particular by providing suitable premises.

All possible facilities shall be granted to internees to continue their studies or to take up new subjects. The education of children and young people shall be ensured; they shall be allowed to attend schools either within the place of internment or outside.

Internees shall be given opportunities for physical exercise, sports and outdoor games. For this purpose, sufficient open spaces shall be set aside in all places of internment. Special playgrounds shall be reserved for children and young people.

Article 95

Working conditions.

The Detaining Power shall not employ internees as workers, unless they, so desire. Employment which, if undertaken under compulsion by a protected person not in internment, would involve a breach of Article 40 or 51 of the present Convention, and employment on work which is of a degrading or humiliating character are in any case prohibited.

After a working period of six weeks, internees shall be free to give up work at any moment, subject to eight days' notice.

These provisions constitute no obstacle to the right of the Detaining Power to employ interned doctors, dentists and other medical personnel in their professional capacity on behalf of their fellow internees, or to employ internees for administrative and maintenance work in places of internment and to detail such persons for work in the kitchens or for other domestic tasks, or to require such persons to undertake duties connected with the protection of internees against aerial bombardment or other war disks. No internee may however, be required to perform tasks for which he is in the opinion of a medical officer, physically unsuited.

The Detaining Power shall take entire responsibility for all working conditions, for medical attention, for the payment of wages, and for ensuring that all employed internees receive compensation for occupational accidents and diseases. The standards prescribed for the said working conditions and for compensation shall be in accordance with the national laws and regulations, and with the existing practice; they shall in no case be inferior to those obtaining for work of the same nature in the same district. Wages for work done shall be determined on an equitable basis by special agreement between the internees, the Detaining Power, and, if the case arises, employers other than the Detaining Power, due regard being paid to the obligation of the Detaining Power to provide for the free maintenance of internees and for the medical attention which their state of health may require. Internees permanently detailed for categories of work mentioned in the third paragraph of this Article shall be paid fair wages by the Detaining Power. The working conditions and the scale of compensation for occupational accidents and diseases to internees, thus detailed, shall not be inferior to those applicable to work of the same nature in the same district.

Article 96

Labour detachments.

All labour detachments shall remain part of and dependent upon a place of internment. The competent authorities of the Detaining Power and the commandant of a place of internment shall be responsible for the observance in a labour detachment of the provisions of the present Convention. The commandant shall keep an up-to date list of the labour detachments subordinate to him and shall communicate it to the delegates of the Protecting Power, of the International Committee of the Red Cross and of other humanitarian organisations who may visit the places of internment.

CHAPTER VI

PERSONAL PROPERTY AND FINANCIAL RESOURCES

Article 97

Valuables and personal effects.

Internees shall be permitted to retain articles of personal use. Monies, cheques, bonds, etc., and valuables in their possession may not be taken from them except in accordance with established procedure. Detailed receipts shall be given therefor.

The amounts shall be paid into the account of every internee as provided for in Article 98. Such amounts may not be converted into any other currency unless legislation in force in the territory in which the owner is interned so requires or the internee gives his consent.

Article which have above all a personal or sentimental value may not be taken away.

A woman internee shall not be searched except by a woman.

On release or repatriation, internees shall be given all articles, monies or other valuables taken from them during internment and shall receive in currency the balance of any credit to their accounts kept in accordance with Article 98, with the exception of any articles or amounts withheld by the Detaining Power by virtue of its legislation in force. If the property of an internee is so withheld, the owner shall receive a detailed receipt.

Family or identity documents in the possession of internees may not be taken away without a receipt being given. At no time shall internees be left without identity document. If they have none, they shall be issued with special documents drawn up by the detaining authorities, which will serve as their identity papers until the end of their internment.

Internees may keep on their persons a certain amount of money, in cash or in the shape of purchase coupons, to enable them to make purchases.

Article 98

Financial resources and individual accounts.

All internees shall receive regular allowances, sufficient to enable them to purchase goods and articles, such as tobacco, toilet requisites, etc. Such allowances may take the form of credits or purchase coupons.

Furthermore, internees may receive allowances from the Power to which they owe allegience, the Protecting Powerrs, the organizations which may assist them, or their families, as well as the income on their property in accordance with the law of the Detaining Power. The amount of allowances granted by the Power to which they owe allegiance shall be the same for each category of internees (infirm, sick, pregnant women, etc.) but may not be allocated by that Power or distributed by the Detaining Power on the basis of discriminations between internees which are prohibited by Article 27 of the present Convention.

The Detaining Power shall open a regular account for every internee, to which shall be credited the allowances named in the present Article, the wages earned and the remittances received, together with such sums taken from him as may be available under the legislation in force in the territory in which he is interned. Internees shall be granted all facilities consistent with the legislation in force in such territory to make remittances to their families and to other dependants. They may draw from their accounts the amounts necessary for their personal expenses, within the limits fixed by the Detaining Power. They shall at all times be afforded reasonable facilities for consulting and obtaining copies of their accounts. A statement of accounts shall be furnished to the Protecting Power, on request and shall accompany the internee in case of transfer.

CHAPTER VII

ADMINISTRATION AND DISCIPLINE

Article 99

Camp administration. Posting of the Convention and of orders.

Every place of internment shall be put under the authority of a responsible officer, chosen from the regular military forces or the regular civil administration of the Detaining Power. The officer in charge of the place of internment must have in his possession a copy of the present Convention in the official language, or one of the official languages, of his country and shall be responsible for its application. The staff in control of internees shall be instructed in the provisions of the present Convention and of the administrative measures adopted to ensure its application.

The text of the present Convention and the texts of special agreements concluded under the said Convention shall be posted inside the place of internment, in a language which the internees understand, or shall be in the possession of the Internee Committee.

Regulations, orders, notices and publications of every kind shall be communicated to the internees and posted inside the places of internment, in a language which they understand.

Every order and command addressed to internees individually must, likewise, be given in a language which they understand.

Article 100

General discipline.

The disciplinary regime in places of internment shall be consistent with humanitarian principles, and shall in no circumstances include regulations imposing on internees any physical exertion dangerous to their health or involving physical or moral victimization. Identification by tatooing or imprinting signs or markings on the body, is prohibited.

In particular, prolonged standing and roll-calls, punishment drill, military drill and manoeuvres, or the reduction of food rations, are prohibited.

Article 101

Complaints and petitions.

Internees shall have the right to present to the authorities in whose power they are, any petition with regard to the conditions of internment to which they are subjected.

They shall also have the right to apply without restriction through the Internee Committee or, if they consider it necessary, direct to the representatives of the Protecting Power, in order to indicate to them any points on which they may have complaints to make with regard to the conditions of internment.

Such petitions and compaints shall be transmitted forthwith and without alteration, and even if the latter are recognised to be unfounded they may not occasion any punishment.

Periodic reports on the situation in places of internment and as to the needs of the internees may be sent by the Internee Committees to the representatives of the Protecting Powers.

Article 102

Internee committees. I. Election of members.

In every place of internment, the internees shall freely elect by secret ballot every six months, the members of a Committee empowered to represent them before the Detaining and the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross and any other organisation which may assist them. The members of the Committee shall be eligible for re-election.

Internees so elected shall enter upon their duties after their election has been approved by the detaining authorities. The reasons for any refusals or dismissals shall be communicated to the Protecting Powers concerned.

Article 103

II. Duties.

The Internee Committees shall further the physical, spiritual and intellectual well-being of the internees.

In case the internees decide, in particular, to organise a system of mutual assistance amongst themselves, this organisation would be within the competence of the Committees in addition to the special duties entrusted to them under other provisions of the present Convention.

Article 104

III. Prerogative.

Members of Internee Committees shall not be required to perform any other work, if the accomplishment of their duties is rendered more difficult thereby.

Members of Internee Committees may appoint from amongst the internees such assistants as they may require. All material facilities shall be granted to them, particularly a certain freedom of movement necessary for the accomplishment of their duties (visits to labour detachments, receipt of supplies, etc.).

All facilities shall likewise be accorded to members of Internee Committees for communication by post and telegraph with the detaining authorities, the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross and their delegates, and with the organizations which give assistance to internees. Committee members in labour detachments shall enjoy similar facilities for communication with their Internee Committee in the principal place of internment. Such communications shall not be limited, nor considered as forming a part of the quota mentioned in Article 107.

Members of Internee Committees who are transferred shall be allowed a reasonable time to acquaint their successors with current affairs.

CHAPTER VIII

Relations with the exterior

Article 105

Notification of measures taken.

Immediately upon interning protected persons, the Detaining Powers shall inform them, the Power to which they owe allegiance and their Protecting Power of the measures taken for executing the provisions of the present Chapter. The Detaining Powers shall likewise inform the Parties concerned of any subsequent modifications of such measures.

Article 106

Internment card

As soon as he is interned, or at the latest not more than one week after his arrival in a place of internment, and likewise in cases of sickness or transfer to another place of internment or to a hospital, every internee shall be enabled to send direct to his family, on the one hand, and to the Central Agency provided for by Article 140, on the other, an internment card similar, if possible, to the model annexed to the present convention, informing his relatives of his detention, address and state of health. The said cards shall be forwarded as rapidly as possible and may not be delayed in any way.

Article 107

Correspondence.

Internees shall be allowed to send and receive letters and cards. If the Detaining Power deems it necessary to limit the number of letters and cards sent by each internee, the said number shall not be less than two letters and four cards monthly; these shall be drawn up so as to conform as closely as possible to the models annexed to the present Convention. If limitations must be placed on the correspondence addressed to internees, they may be ordered only by the Power to which such internees owe allegiance, possibly at the request of the Detaining Power. Such letters and cards must be conveyed with reasonable despatch; they may not be delayed or retained for disciplinary reasons.

Internees who have been a long time without news, or who find it impossible to receive news from their relatives, or to give them news by the ordinary postal route, as well as those who are at a considerable distance from their homes, shall be allowed to send telegrams, the charges being paid by them in the currency at their disposal. They shall likewise benefit by this provision in cases which are recognized to be urgent.

As a rule, internees' mail shall be written in their own language. The Parties to the conflict may authorize correspondence in other languages.

Relief shipments. I. General principles.

Internees shall be allowed to receive, by post or by any other means, individual parcels or collective shipments containing in particular foodstuffs, clothing, medical supplies, as well as books and objects of a devotional, educational or recreational character which may meet their needs. Such shipments shall in no way free the Detaining Power from the obligations imposed upon it by virtue of the present Convention.

Should military necessity require the quantity of such shipments to be limited, due notice thereof shall be given to the Protecting Power and to the International Committee of the Red Cross, or to any other organization giving assistance to the internees and responsible for the forwarding of such shipments.

The conditions for the sending of individual parcels and collective shipments shall, if necessary, be the subject of special agreements between the Powers concerned, which may in no case delay the receipt by the internees of relief supplies. Parcels of clothing and foodstuffs may not include books. Medical relief supplies shall, as a rule, be sent in collective parcels.

Article 109

II. Collective relief.

In the absence of special agreements between Parties to the conflict regarding the conditions for the receipt and distribution of collective relief shipments, the regulations concerning collective relief which are annexed to the present Convention shall be applied.

The special agreements provided for above shall in no case restrict the right of Internee Committees to take possession of collective relief shipments intended for internees, to undertake their distribution and to dispose of them in the interests of the recipients.

Nor shall such agreements restrict the right of representatives of the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross, or any other organization giving assistance to internees and responsible for the forwarding of collective shipments, to supervise their distribution to the recipients.

Article 110

III. Exemption from postal and transport charges.

All relief shipments for internees shall be exempt from import, customs and other dues.

All matter sent by mail, including relief parcels sent by parcel post and remittances of money, addressed from other countries to internees or despatched by them through the post office, either direct or through the Information Bureaux provided for in Article 136 and the Central Information Agency provided for in Article 140, shall be exempt from all postal dues both in the countries of origin and destination and in intermediate countries. To this end, in particular, the exemption provided by the Universal Postal Convention of 1947 and by the agreements of the Universal Postal Union in favour of civilians of enemy nationality detained in camps or civilian prisons, shall be extended to the other interned persons protected by the present Convention. The countries not signatory to the above-mentioned agreements shall be bound to grant freedom from charges in the same circumstances.

The cost of transporting relief shipments which are intended for internees and which, by reason of their weight or any other cause, cannot be sent through the post office, shall be borne by the Detaining Power in all the territories under its control. Other Powers which are Parties to the present Convention shall bear the cost of transport in their respective territories.

Costs connected with the transport of such shipments, which are not covered by the above paragraphs, shall be charged to the senders.

The High Contracting Parties shall endeavour to reduce, so far as possible, the charges for telegrams sent by internees, or addressed to them.

Article 111

Special means of transport.

Should military operations prevent the Powers concerned from fulfilling their obligation to ensure the conveyance of the mail and relief shipments provided for in Articles 106, 107, 108 and 113, the Protecting Powers concerned, the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other organization duly approved by the Parties to the conflict may undertake the conveyance of such shipments by suitable means (rail, motor vehicles, vessels or aircraft, etc.). For this purpose, the High Contracting Parties shall endeavour to supply them with such transport, and to allow its circulation, especially by granting the necessary safe-conducts.

Such transport may also be used to convey—

(a) correspondence, lists and reports exchanged between the Central Information Agency referred to in Article 140 and the National Bureaux referred to in Article 136;

(b) correspondence and reports relating to internees which the Protecting Powers, the International Committee of the Red Cross or any other organization assisting the internees exchange either with their own delegates or with the Parties to the conflict.

These provisions in no way detract from the right of any Party to the conflict to arrange other means of transport if it should so prefer, nor preclude the granting of safe-conducts, under mutually agreed conditions, to such means of transport.

The costs occasioned by the use of such means of transport shall be borne, in proportion to the importance of the shipments, by the Parties to the conflict whose nationals are benefited thereby.

Article 112

Censorship and examination.

The censoring of correspondence addressed to internees or despatched by them shall be done as quickly as possible.

The examination of consignments intended for internees shall not be carried out under conditions that will expose the goods contained in them to deterioration. It shall be done in the presence of the addressee, or of a fellow-internee duly delegated by him. The delivery to internees of individual or collective consignments shall not be delayed under the pretext of difficulties of censorship.

Any prohibition of correspondence ordered by the Parties to the conflict either for military or political reasons, shall be only temporary and its duration shall be as short as possible.

Article 113

Execution and transmission of legal documents.

The Detaining Powers shall provide all reasonable facilities for the transmission, through the Protecting Power or the Central Agency provided for in Article 140 or as otherwise required, of wills, powers of attorney, letters of authority, or any other documents intended for internees or despatched by them.

In all cases the Detaining Powers shall facilitate the execution and authentication in due legal form of such documents on behalf of internees, in particular by allowing them to consult a lawyer.

Article 114

Management of property.

The Detaining Power shall afford internees all facilities to enable them to manage their property, provided this is not incompatible with the conditions of internment and the law which is applicable. For this purpose, the said Power may give them permission to leave the place of internment in urgent cases and if circumstances allow.

Article 115

Facilities for preparation and conduct of cases.

In all cases where an internee is a party to proceedings in any court, the Detaining Power shall, if he so requests, cause the court to be informed of his detention and shall, within legal limits, ensure that all necessary steps are taken to prevent him from being in any way prejudiced, by reason of his internment, as regards the preparation and conduct of his case or as regards the execution of any judgment of the court.

Article 116

Visits.

Every internee shall be allowed to receive visitors, especially near relatives, at regular intervals and as frequently as possible.

As far as is possible, internees shall be permitted to visit their homes in urgent cases, particularly in cases of death or serious illness of relatives.

CHAPTER IX

PENAL AND DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS

Article 117

General provisions. Applicable legislation.

Subject to the provisions of the present Chapter, the laws in force in the territory in which they are detained will continue to apply to internees who commit offences during internment.

If general laws, regulations or orders declare acts committed by internees to be punishable, whereas the same acts are not punishable when committed by persons who are not internees, such acts shall entail disciplinary punishments only.

No internee may be punished more than once for the same act, or on the same count.

Penalties.

The courts or authorities shall in passing sentence take as far as possible into account the fact that the defendant is not a national of the Detaining Power. They shall be free to reduce the penalty prescribed for the offence with which the internee is charged and shall not be obliged, to this end, to apply the minimum sentence prescribed.

Imprisonment in premises without daylight, and, in general, all forms of cruelty without exception are forbidden.

Internees who have served disciplinary or judicial sentences shall not be treated differently from other internees.

The duration of preventive detention undergone by an internee shall be deducted from any disciplinary or judicial penalty involving confinement to which he may be sentenced.

Internee Committees shall be informed of all judicial proceedings instituted against internees whom they represent, and of their result.

Article 119

Disciplinary punishments.

The disciplinary punishments applicable to internees shall be the following:—

(1) A fine which shall not exceed 50 per cent. of the wages which the internee would otherwise receive under the provisions of Article 95 during a period of not more than thirty days.

(2) Discontinuance of privileges granted over and above the treatment provided for by the present Convention.

(3) Fatigue duties, not exceeding two hours daily, in connection with the maintenance of the place of internment.

(4) Confinement.

In no case shall disciplinary penalties be inhuman, brutal or dangerous for the health of internees. Account shall be taken of the internee's age, sex and state of health.

The duration of any single punishment shall in no case exceed a maximum of thirty consecutive days, even if the internee is answerable for several breaches of discipline when his case is dealt with, whether such breaches are connected or not.

Article 120

Escapes.

Internees who are recaptured after having escaped or when attempting to escape, shall be liable only to disciplinary punishment in respect of this act, even if it is a repeated offence.

Article 118, paragraph 3, notwithstanding, internees punished as a result of escape or attempt to escape, may be subjected to special surveillance, on condition that such surveillance does not affect the state of their health, that it is exercised in a place of internment and that it does not entail the abolition of any of the safeguards granted by the present Convention.

Internees who aid and abet an escape or attempt to escape, shall be liable on this count to disciplinary punishment only.

Article 121

Connected offences.

Escape, or attempt to escape, even if it is a repeated offence, shall not be deemed an aggravating circumstance in cases where an internee is prosecuted for offences committed during his escape.

The Parties to the conflict shall ensure that the competent authorities exercise leniency in deciding whether punishment inflicted for an offence shall be of a disciplinary or judicial nature, especially in respect of acts committed in connection with an escape, whether successful or not.

Article 122

Investigations, Confinement awaiting hearing.

Acts which constitute offences against discipline shall be investigated immediately. This rule shall be applied, in particular, in cases of escape or attempt to escape. Recaptured internees shall be handed over to the competent authorities as soon as possible.

In case of offences against discipline, confinement awaiting trial shall be reduced to an absolute minimum for all internees, and shall not exceed fourteen days. Its duration shall in any case be deducted from any sentence of confinement. The provisions of Articles 124 and 125 shall apply to internees who are in confinement awaiting trial for offences against discipline.

Article 123

Competent authorities. Procedure.

Without prejudice to the competence of courts and higher authorities, disciplinary punishment may be ordered only by the commendant of the place of internment, or by a responsible officer or official who replaces him, or to whom he has delegated his disciplinary powers.

Before any disciplinary punishment is awarded, the accused internee shall be given precise information regarding the offences of which he is accused, and given an opportunity of explaining his conduct and of defending himself. He shall be permitted, in particular, to call witnesses and to have recourse, if necessary, to the services of a qualified interpreter. The decision shall be announced in the presence of the accused and of a member of the Internee Committee.

The period elapsing between the time of award of a disciplinary punishment and its execution shall not exceed one month.

When an internee is awarded a further disciplinary punishment, a period of at least three days shall elapse between the execution of any two of the punishments, if the duration of one of these is ten days or more.

A record of disciplinary punishments shall be maintained by the commandant of the place of internment and shall be open to inspection by representatives of the Protecting Power.

Article 124

Premises for disciplinary punishments.

Internees shall not in any case be transferred to penitentiary establishments (prisons, penitentiaries, convict prisons, etc.) to undergo disciplinary punishment therein.

The premises in which disciplinary punishments are undergone shall conform to sanitary requirements; they shall in particular be provided with adequate bedding. Internees undergoing punishment shall be enabled to keep themselves in a state of cleanliness.

Women internees undergoing disciplinary punishment shall be confined in separate quarters from male internees and shall be under the immediate supervision of women.

Article 125

Essential safeguards.

Internees awarded disciplinary punishment shall be allowed to exercise and to stay in the open air at least two hours daily.

They shall be allowed, if they so request, to be present at the daily medical inspections. They shall receive the attention which their state of health requires and, if necessary, shall be removed to the infirmary of the place of internment or to a hospital.

They shall have permission to read and write, likewise to send and receive letters. Parcels and remittances of money, however, may be withheld from them until the completion of their punishment; such consignments shall meanwhile be entrusted to the Internee Committee, who will hand over to the infirmary the perishable goods contained in the parcels.

No internee given a disciplinary punishment may be deprived of the benefit of the provisions of Articles 107 and 143 of the present Convention.

Article 126

Provisions applicable to judicial proceedings.

The provisions of Articles 71 to 76 inclusive shall apply, by analogy, to proceedings against internees who are in the national territory of the Detaining Power.

CHAPTER X

TRANSFERS OF INTERNEES

Article 127

Conditions.

The transfer of internees shall always be effected humanely. As a general rule, it shall be carried out by rail or other means of transport, and under conditions at least equal to those obtaining for the forces of the Detaining Power in their changes of station. If as an exceptional measure such removals have to be effected on foot, they may not take place unless the internees are in a fit state of health, and may not in any case expose them to excessive fatigue.

The Detaining Power shall supply internees during transfer with drinking water and food sufficient in quantity, quality and variety to maintain them in good health, and also with the necessary clothing, adequate shelter and the necessary medical attention. The Detaining Power shall take all suitable precautions to ensure their safety during transfer, and shall establish before their departure a complete list of all internees transferred.

Sick, wounded or infirm internees and maternity cases shall not be transferred if the journey would be seriously detrimental to them, unless their safety imperatively so demands.

If the combat zone draws close to a place of internment, the internees in the said place shall not be transferred unless their removal can be carried out in adequate conditions of safety, or unless they are exposed to greater risks by remaining on the spot than by being transferred.

When making decisions regarding the transfer of internees, the Detaining Power shall take their interests into account and, in particular, shall not do anything to increase the difficulties of repatriating them or returning them to their own homes.

Article 128

Method.

In the event of transfer, internees shall be officially advised of their departure and of their new postal address. Such notification shall be given in time for them to pack their luggage and inform their next of kin.

They shall be allowed to take with them their personal effects, and the correspondence and parcels which have arrived for them. The weight of such baggage may be limited if the conditions of transfer so require, but in no case to less than twenty-five kilograms per internee.

Mail and parcels addressed to their former place of internment shall be forwarded to them without delay.

The commandant of the place of internment shall take, in agreement with the Internee Committee, any measures needed to ensure the transport of the internees' community property and of the luggage the internees are unable to take with them in consequence of restrictions imposed by virtue of the second paragraph.

CHAPTER XI

DEATHS

Article 129

Wills. Death certificates.

The wills of internees shall be received for safe-keeping by the responsible authorities; and in the event of the death of an internee his will shall be transmitted without delay to a person whom he has previously designated.

Deaths of internees shall be certified in every case by a doctor, and a death certificate shall be made out, showing the causes of death and the conditions under which it occurred.

An official record of the death, duly registered, shall be drawn up in accordance with the procedure relating thereto in force in the territory where the place of internment is situated, and a duly certified copy of such record shall be transmitted without delay to the Protecting Power as well as to the Central Agency referred to in Article 140.

Article 130

Burial. Cremation.

The detaining authorities shall ensure that internees who die while interned are honourably buried, if possible according to the rites of the religion to which they belonged and that their graves are respected, properly maintained, and marked in such a way that they can always be recognized.

Deceased internees shall be buried in individual graves unless unavoidable circumstances require the use of collective graves. Bodies may be cremated only for imperative reasons of hygiene, on account of the religion of the deceased or in accordance with his expressed wish to this effect. In case of cremation, the fact shall be stated and the reasons given in the death certificate of the deceased. The ashes shall be retained for safe-keeping by the detaining authorities and shall be transferred as soon as possible to the next of kin on their request.

As soon as circumstances permit, and not later than the close of hostilities, the Detaining Power shall forward lists of graves of deceased internees to the Powers on whom deceased internees depended, through the Information Bureaux provided for in Article 136. Such lists shall include all particulars necessary for the identification of the deceased internees, as well as the exact location of their graves.

Article 131

Internees killed or injured in special circumstances.

Every death or serious injury of an internee, caused or suspected to have been caused by a sentry, another internee or any other person, as well as any death the cause of which is unknown, shall be immediately followed by an official enquiry by the Detaining Power.

A communication on this subject shall be sent immediately to the Protecting Power. The evidence of any witnesses shall be taken, and a report including such evidence shall be prepared and forwarded to the said Protecting Power.

If the enquiry indicates the guilt of one or more persons, the Detaining Power shall take all necessary steps to ensure the prosecution of the person or persons responsible.

CHAPTER XII

RELEASE, REPATRIATION AND ACCOMMODATION IN NEUTRAL COUNTRIES.

Article 132

During hostilities or occupation.

Each interned person shall be released by the Detaining Power as soon as the reasons which necessitated his internment no longer exist.

The Parties to the conflict shall moreover, endeavour during the course of hostilities, to conclude agreements for the release, the repatriation, the return to places of residence or the accommodation in a neutral country of certain classes of internees, in particular children, pregnant women and mothers with infants and young children, wounded and sick, and internees who have been detained for a long time.

Article 133

After the close of hostilities.

Internment shall cease as soon as possible after the close of hostilities.

Internees in the territory of a Party to the conflict against whom penal proceedings are pending for offences not exclusively subject to disciplinary penalties, may be detained until the close of such proceedings and, if circumstances require, until the completion of the penalty. The same shall apply to internees who have been previously sentenced to a punishment depriving them of liberty.

By agreement between the Detaining Power and the Powers concerned, committees may be set up after the close of hostilities, or of the occupation of territories, to search for dispersed internees.

Article 134

Repatriation and return to last place of residence.

The High Contracting Parties shall endeavour, upon the close of hostilities or occupation, to ensure the return of all internees to their last place of residence, or to facilitate their repatriation.

Article 135

Costs.

The Detaining Power shall bear the expense of returning released internees to the places where they were residing when interned, or, if it took them into custody while they were in transit or on the high seas, the cost of completing their journey or of their return to their point of departure.

Where a Detaining Power refuses permission to reside in its territory to a released internee who previously had his permanent domicile therein, such Detaining Power shall pay the cost of the said internee's repatriation. If, however, the internee elects to return to his country on his own responsibility or in obedience to the Government of the Power to which he owes allegiance, the Detaining Power need not pay the expenses of his journey beyond the point of his departure from its territory. The Detaining Power need not pay the cost of repatriation of an internee who was interned at his own request.

If internees are transferred in accordance with Article 45, the transferring and receiving Powers shall agree on the portion of the above costs to be borne by each.

The foregoing shall not prejudice such special agreements as may be concluded between Parties to the conflict concerning the exchange and repatriation of their nationals in enemy hands.

SECTION V

Information Bureaux and Central Agency

Article 136

National Bureaux.

Upon the outbreak of a conflict and in all cases of occupation, each of the Parties to the conflict shall establish an official Information Bureau responsible for receiving and transmitting information in respect of the protected persons who are in its power.

Each of the Parties to the conflict shall, within the shortest possible period, give its Bureau information of any measure taken by it concerning any protected persons who are kept in custody for more than two weeks, who are subjected to assigned residence or who are interned. It shall, furthermore, require its various departments concerned with such matters to provide the aforesaid Bureau promptly with information concerning all changes pertaining to these protected persons, as for example, transfers, releases, repatriations, escapes, admittances to hospitals, births and deaths.

Article 137

Transmission of information.

Each national Bureau shall immediately forward information concerning protected persons by the most rapid means to the Powers of whom the aforesaid persons are nationals, or to Powers in whose territory they resided, through the intermediary of the Protecting Powers and likewise through the Central Agency provided for in Article 140. The Bureaux shall also reply to all enquiries which may be received regarding protected persons.

Information Bureaux shall transmit information concerning a protected person unless its transmission might be detrimental to the person concerned or to his or her relatives. Even in such a case, the information may not be withheld from the Central Agency which, upon being notified of the circumstances, will take the necessary precautions indicated in Article 140.

All communications in writing made by any Bureau shall be authenticated by a signature or a seal.

Article 138

Particulars required.

The information received by the national Bureau and transmitted by it shall be of such a character as to make it possible to identify the protected person exactly and to advise his next of kin quickly. The information in respect of each person shall include at least his surname, first names, place and date of birth, nationality, last residence and distinguishing characteristics, the first name of the father and the maiden name of the mother, the date, place and nature of the action taken with regard to the individual, the address at which correspondence may be sent to him and the name and address of the person to be informed.

Likewise, information regarding the state of health of internees who are seriously ill or seriously wounded shall be supplied regularly and if possible every week.

Article 139

Forwarding of personal valuables.

Each national Information Bureau shall, furthermore, be responsible for collecting all personal valuables left by protected persons mentioned in Article 136, in particular those who have been repatriated or released, or who have escaped or died; it shall forward the said valuables to those concerned, either direct, or, if necessary, through the Central Agency. Such articles shall be sent by the Bureau in sealed packets which shall be accompanied by statements giving clear and full identity particulars of the person to whom the articles belonged, and by a complete list of the contents of the parcel. Detailed records shall be maintained of the receipt and despatch of all such valuables.

Article 140

Central Agency.

A Central Information Agency for protected persons, in particular for internees, shall be created in a neutral country. The International Committee of the Red Cross shall, if it deems necessary, propose to the Powers concerned the organization of such an Agency, which may be the same as that provided for in Article 123 of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949.

The function of the Agency shall be to collect all information of the type set forth in Article 136 which it may obtain through official or private channels and to transmit it as rapidly as possible to the countries of origin or of residence of the persons concerned, except in cases where such transmissions might be detrimental to the persons whom the said information concerns, or to their relatives. It shall receive from the Parties to the conflict all reasonable facilities for effecting such transmissions.

The High Contracting Parties, and in particular those whose nationals benefit by the services of the Central Agency, are requested to give the said Agency the financial aid it may require.

The foregoing provisions shall in no way be interpreted as restricting the humanitarian activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross and of the relief Societies described in Article 142.

Article 141

Exemption from charges.

The national Information Bureaux and the Central Information Agency shall enjoy free postage for all mail, likewise the exemptions provided for in Article 110, and further, so far as possible, exemption from telegraphic charges or, at least, greatly reduced rates.

PART IV

Execution of the Convention

SECTION I

General provisions

Article 142

Relief societies and other organisations.

Subject to the measures which the Detaining Powers may consider essential to ensure their security or to meet any other reasonable need, the representatives of religious organisations, relief societies, or any other organizations assisting the protected persons, shall receive from these Powers, for themselves or their duly accredited agents, all facilities for visiting the protected persons, for distributing relief supplies and material from any source, intended for educational, recreational or religious purposes, or for assisting them in organizing their leisure time within the places of internment. Such societies or organizations may be constituted in the territory of the Detaining Power, or in any other country, or they may have an international character.

The Detaining Power may limit the number of societies and organizations whose delegates are allowed to carry out their activities in its territory and under its supervision, on condition, however, that such limitation shall not hinder the supply of effective and adequate relief to all protected persons.

The special position of the International Committee of the Red Cross in this field shall be recognized and respected at all times.

Article 143

Super-vision.

Representatives or delegates of the Protecting Powers shall have permission to go to all places where protected persons are, particularly to places of internment, detention and work.

They shall have access to all premises occupied by protected persons and shall be able to interview the latter without witnesses, personally or through an interpreter.

Such visits may not be prohibited except for reasons of imperative military necessity, and then only as an exceptional and temporary measure. Their duration and frequency shall not be restricted.

Such representatives and delegates shall have full liberty to select the places they wish to visit. The Detaining or Occupying Power, the Protecting Power and when occasion arises the Power of origin of the persons to be visited, may agree that compatriots of the internees shall be permitted to participate in the visits.

The delegates of the International Committee of the Red Cross shall also enjoy the above prerogatives. The appointment of such delegates shall be submitted to the approval of the Power governing the territories where they will carry out their duties.

Article 144

Dissemination of the Convention.

The High Contracting Parties undertake, in time of peace as in time of war, to disseminate the text of the present Convention as widely as possible in their respective countries, and, in particular, to include the study thereof in their programmes of military and, if possible, civil instruction, so that the principles thereof may become known to the entire population.

Any civilian, military, police or other authorities, who in time of war assume responsibilities in respect of protected persons, must possess the text of the Convention and be specially instructed as to its provisions.

Article 145

Translations. Rules of application.

The High Contracting Parties shall communicate to one another through the Swiss Federal Council and, during hostilities, through the Protecting Powers, the official translations of the present Convention, as well as the laws and regulations which they may adopt to ensure the application thereof.

Article 146

Penal sanctions. I. General observations.

The High Contracting Parties undertake to enact any legislation necessary to provide effective penal sanctions for persons committing, or ordering to be committed, any of the grave breaches of the present Convention defined in the following Article.

Each High Contracting Party shall be under the obligation to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before its own courts. It may also, if it prefers, and in accordance with the provisions of its own legislation, hand such persons over for trial to another High Contracting Party concerned, provided such High Contracting Party has made out a prima facie case.

Each High Contracting Party shall take measures necessary for the suppression of all acts contrary to the provisions of the present Convention other than the grave breaches defined in the following Article.

In all circumstances, the accused persons shall benefit by safeguards of proper trial and defence which shall not be less favourable than those provided by Article 105 and those following of the Geneva Convention relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War of August 12, 1949.

Article 147

II. Grave breaches.

Grave breaches to which the preceding Article relates shall be those involving any of the following acts, if committed against persons or property protected by the present Convention: wilful killing, torture or inhuman treatment, including biological experiments, wilfully causing great suffering or serious injury to body or health, unlawful deportation or transfer or unlawful confinement of a protected person, compelling a protected person to serve in the forces of a hostile Power, or wilfully depriving a protected person of the rights of fair and regular trial prescribed in the present Convention, taking of hostages and extensive destruction and appropriation of property, not justified by military necessity and carried out unlawfully and wantonly.

Article 148

III. Responsibilities of the Contracting Parties.

No High Contracting Party shall be allowed to absolve itself or any other High Contracting Party of any liability incurred by itself or by another High Contracting Party in respect of breaches referred to in the preceding Article.

Article 149

Enquiry procedure.

At the request of a Party to the conflict, an enquiry shall be instituted, in a manner to be decided between the interested Parties, concerning any alleged violation of the Convention.

If agreement has not been reached concerning the procedure for the enquiry, the Parties should agree on the choice of an umpire who will decide upon the procedure to be followed.

Once the violation has been established, the Parties to the conflict shall put an end to it and shall repress it with the least possible delay.

SECTION II

FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 150

Languages. The present Convention is established in English and in French. Both texts are equally authentic.

The Swiss Federal Council shall arrange for official translations of the Convention to be made in the Russian and Spanish languages.

Article 151

Signature. The present Convention, which bears the date of this day, is open to signature until February 12, 1950, in the name of the Powers represented at the Conference which opened at Geneva on April 21, 1949.

Article 152

Ratification. The present Convention shall be ratified as soon as possible and the ratifications shall be deposited at Berne.

A record shall be drawn up of the deposit of each instrument of ratification and certified copies of this record shall be transmitted by the Swiss Federal Council to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 153

Coming into force. The present Convention shall come into force six months after not less than two instruments of ratification have been deposited.

Thereafter, it shall come into force for each High Contracting Party six months after the deposit of the instrument of ratification.

Article 154

Relation with the Hague Conventions. In the relations between the Powers who are bound by the Hague Conventions repecting the Laws and Customs of War on Land, whether that of July 29, 1899, or that of October, 18, 1907, and who are parties to the present Convention, this last Convention shall be supplementary to Sections II and III of the Regulations annexed to the abovementioned Conventions of the Hague.

Article 155

Accession. From the date of its coming into force, it shall be open to any Power in whose name the present Convention has not been signed, to accede to this Convention.

Article 156

Notification of accessions. Accessions shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, and shall take effect six months after the date on which they are received.

The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate the accessions to all the Powers in whose name the Convention has been signed, or whose accession has been notified.

Article 157

Immediate effect. The situations provided for in Articles 2 and 3 shall give immediate effect to ratifications deposited and accessions notified by the Parties to the conflict before or after the beginning of hostilities or occupation. The Swiss Federal Council shall communicate by the quickest method any ratifications or accessions received from Parties to the conflict.

Article 158

Denunciation.

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall be at liberty to denounce the present Convention.

The denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, which shall transmit it to the Governments of all the High Contracting Parties.

The denunciation shall take effect one year after the notification thereof has been made to the Swiss Federal Council. However, a denunciation of which notification has been made at a time when the denouncing Power is involved in a conflict shall not take effect until peace has been concluded, and until after operations connected with release, repatriation and re-establishment of the persons protected by the present Convention have been terminated.

The denunciation shall have effect only in respect of the denouncing Power. It shall in no way impair the obligations which the Parties to the conflict shall remain bound to fulfil by virtue of the principles of the law of nations, as they result from the usages established among civilized peoples, from the laws of humanity and the dictates of the public conscience.

Article 159

Registration with the United Nations.

The Swiss Federal Council shall register the present Convention with the Secretariat of the United Nations.

The Swiss Federal Council shall also inform the Secretariat of the United Nations of all ratifications, accessions and denunciations received by it with respect to the present Convention.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the undersigned, having deposited their respective full powers, have signed the present Convention.

DONE at Geneva this twelfth day of August 1949, in the English and French languages. The original shall be deposited in the Archives of the Swiss Confederation. The Swiss Federal Council shall transmit certified copies thereof to each of the signatory and acceding States.

Government of West Bengal

DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PANCHAYATS

NOTIFICATIONS

No. 14873/M./1M-97/59.—23rd December 1960. —Whereas the term of four years provided by clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 56 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), for which the Commissioners of the Kotrung Municipality as at present constituted were to hold office expired on the 10th June, 1960;

And whereas the said term was extended by Notifications No. 6534/M./1M-97/59, dated the 31st May 1960, No. 6950/M./1M-97/59, dated the 28th June 1960 and No. 10753/M.1M-97/59, dated the 22nd September 1960 till the 31st December 1960;

And whereas in the special circumstances specified in the schedule, the Governor thinks it fit to extend further the said term of office of the Commissioners of the said Municipality;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (5) of section 56 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to extend the term of office of the Commissioners of the Kotrung Municipality up to the 31st March 1961.

The Schedule

It is not possible to reconstitute the Commissioners of the Kotrung Municipality on the basis of the general election of Commissioners of the said municipality held on the 28th Feburary 1960. pending disposal of Civil Rule No. 873 of 1960 issued by the High Court at Calcutta with an interim injunction against publication of the result of the said general election.

By order of the Governor,
J. C. TALUKDAR,
Jt. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

No. 14962/M.1C-109/60.—27th December 1960. —In exercise of the power conferred by clause (b) of rule 2 of the Calcutta Corporation (Conduct of Elections of Councillors) Rules, 1952, published under notification No. M.3R-14/52, dated the 4th July 1952, the Governor is pleased to appoint Shri S. K. Sen Rai Chaudhury, Registering Authority of the Corporation of Calcutta, to perform, in addition to his own duties, the functions of the Election Officer under the said rules in connection with the next general election of Councillors of the said Corporation.

By order of the Governor,
J. C. TALUKDAR,
Jt. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

No. 14966/M.1M-110/59.—27th December 1960. —Whereas the term of four years provided by clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 56 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), for which the Commissioners of the Birnagar Municipality as at present constituted shall hold office expired on the 24th June 1960;

And whereas the said term was extended by notifications Nos. 6783/M.1M-110/59, dated the 23rd June 1960, 7613/M.1M-110/59, dated the 22nd July 1960, 9242/M.1M-110/59, dated the 22nd August 1960 and 12395/M.1M-110/59, dated the 26th October 1960, till the 31st December 1960;

And whereas in the special circumstances specified in the schedule the Governor thinks it fit to extend the said term of office of the Commissioners of the said municipality;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (5) of section 56 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to extend the term of office of the Commissioners of the Birnagar Municipality up to the 28th February 1961.

The Schedule

In view of the Civil Rule No. 990 of 1960 issued by the High Court at Calcutta relating to the general election of the Commissioners of the Birnagar Municipality held on the 27th March 1960 it is considered inadvisable to reconstitute the Commissioners of the said Municipality on the basis of the said general election before the disposal of the Civil Rule.

NOTIFICATIONS

No. 4092F/F1R-14(9)60.—15th December 1960.—In exercise of the power conferred by the proviso to article 309 of the Constitution of India read with article 313 of the said Constitution and paragraph 19 of the Adaptation of Laws Order, 1950, the Governor is pleased to make the followig further amendments in the Civil Services Regulations as subsequently amended, namely:—

Amendment

1. In the said regulations for article 934, substitute the following article, namely:—

"934. Except as specifically provided otherwise, all pensions shall be payable in rupees in India:

Provided that, in the case of a non-Indian Officer who entered service before the 10th September 1949 and who on retirement taken up his residence in the United Kingdone or any of the territories mentioned in Appendix 15, payment of pension except death-cum-retirement gratuity and family pension, if any, admissible under the West Bengal Services (Revision of Pensions) Rules, 1952, may be made in sterling through the High Commissioner for India in the United Kingdom or through any of the authorities mentioned in Appendix 15, for the period of such residence at the minimum rate of conversion of 1s. 9d. to the rupee:

Provided further that Indian pensioners who retired from service before the 12th June 1956 and who before that date took up residence in the United Kingdom or in any of the territories mentioned in Appendix 15, shall continue to enjoy the concession of conversion of their pensions into sterling at the minimum rate of 1s. 9d. to the rupee during the continuance of their residence in the United Kingdom or those territories, as the case may be".

"Provided further that the minimum rate of conversion of 1s. 9d. to the rupee shall not apply to those territories included in appendix 15, where the Indian rupee is either legal or current tender or whose currency is at par with the Indian rupee."

In the said regulations the following Explanation shall be inserted, namely:—

"Explanation for the purposes of this article and articles 934A, 934B, 934C, 934D and 935, the expression 'non-Indian' means a person who on the date of his retirement was a citizen of a country other than India".

2. In articles 934A, 934B and 934C, for the word "pensioner", whenever it occurs, substitute the words "non-Indian pensioner who entered service before the 10th September 1949".

3. In article 934C, for the words "at or through the Home treasury or from", substitute the words "through the High Commissioner for India in the United Kingdom or through".

4. for article 934D, substitute the following article, namely:—

"934D. The pension of any non-Indian pensioner, who entered service before the 10th September 1949, who is entitled to the minimum rate and who has commuted any portion of his pension after the 4th December 1928, shall be converted at the rate of exchange prescribed by the President and to the resulting pension shall be added, so long as he remains entitled to the minimum rate, the differences betweeen the values of the full pension (less any portion commuted before the 5th December 1928) converted at that rate and at the rate of exchange prescribed respectively".

5. In article 935 (i) for the word "persons", substitute the words "non-Indian officers, who entered service before the 10th September 1949"; and (ii) omit the note below the said article.

6. for article 936, substitute the following article, namely:—

"936. Transfer of a pension from India to the United Kingdom (where it is payable through the High Commissioner for India) and vice versa is permitted twice only".

11. This notification shall be deemed to have effect and to have always had effect on and from the 12th June 1956.

By order of the Governor,

S. M. BANERJEE,

Special Financial Adviser, Chief Minister's Secretariat and Ex-officio Secy.

S. K. GHOSE, Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PANCHAYATS

NOTIFICATIONS

No. 14567/M3R-27/60.—19th December 1960. —Whereas the Commissioners of the North Dum Dum Municipality in the district of 24-Parganas have made the following rules under section 91 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), and have applied to the State Government for confirmation of the said rules under section 506 of the said Act;

And whereas (a) notice of the intention to apply for such confirmation of the said rules has been duly given one month before the making of the application for confirmation as required under clause (i) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act, and (b) for one month before the making of the application, a copy of the said rules has been kept at the office of the Commissioners of the said municipality and has been open during office hours thereat to the inspection of the inhabitants of the said municipality without fee, as required by clause (ii) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act;

Now, therefore, the Governor is pleased in exercise of the power conferred by section 91 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), to approve and in exercise of the power conferred by section 506 of the said Act, to confirm the following rules, namely:—

RULES OF BUSINESS FOR NORTH DUM DUM MUNICIPALITY

I. The time of meetings, the business to be transacted at meetings, and the period of notice of meetings.

1. An ordinary meeting of the Commissioners shall be held at the hour of 4-30 p.m. on the last Saturday of every month:

Provided that the last Saturday if for any reason is deemed inconvenient, the Chairman or in his absence the Vice-Chairman may fix another day, for the ordinary meeting.

2. Other meetings may be held on such day and at such time as may be fixed by the Chairman, or in his absence by the Vice-Chairman.

3. Notice of motions and questions, accompanied by verbatim drafts shall be sent to the Chairman, or in the case of there being a Secretary, to the Secretary, in time to be included in the list of business for the next meeting. Notices received too late shall be inserted in the list of business of the next succeeding meeting.

4. A notice book shall be kept by the Chairman in which all notices of motions shall be entered. All such notices shall be dated and numbered as soon as received.

5. At least one week's notice of all meetings shall be given to every Commissioner.

6. When a notice of a meeting has been issued to the Commissioners it shall not be cancelled or postponed unless at least three clear days' notice of such cancellation or postponement is given to the Commissioners:

Provided that in no case shall a meeting, of which due notice has been given, be cancelled or postponed if by such cancellation or postponement the business on the agenda cannot be transacted within a definite period prescribed by law for the purpose.

II. The conduct and control of proceedings at meetings, the due record of all dissents and discussions and the adjournment of meetings.

Order of Business

7. At ordinary meetings the business shall be conducted in the following order:—

(a) The minutes of the last ordinary meeting, and of any special meeting held thereafter, shall be read and if approved as correctly entered, shall be signed by the President of such meeting.

(b) Business postponed from the last ordinary meeting shall be considered.

(c) A progress report of works shall be laid before the Commissioners.

(d) Letters and reports of committees shall be read and accounts and statements shall be considered and passed.

(e) Motions of which due notice has been given shall be discussed.

8. At a special meeting, only the business for which the meeting was called shall be considered; provided that with the consent of the Commissioners present any other business, of which notice has been sent to every Commissioner at least three days' previously, may be considered.

9. In the event of any objection being raised to the manner in which any resolution has been recorded, the President shall decide the question after reference to the original draft of the resolution, and if he finds the minute to be inaccurate, shall make the necessary correction in the minute book.

10. Except by the permission of the majority of the Commissioners present at the meeting, all subjects shall be discussed in the order in which they appear in the list of business.

Of Questions

11. If due notice has been given under rule 3, any Commissioner may, before other business commences, ask a question or questions of the President relating to the affairs of the municipality. Such Commissioner may briefly explain his question when putting it, and the President may explain his answer; but no debate shall be allowed on any question. The President shall, when he thinks it advisable, have the answer to such question printed and laid before the meeting.

Of Motions and Amendments

12. Every motion and amendment duly moved shall be seconded, and, until seconded, no debate thereon can take place.

13. Every motion or amendment duly made and seconded, and pressed to a division, shall be reduced to writing and signed by the proposer and seconder before being put to the vote. Every such motion or amendment shall be recorded in full in the proceedings, together with the number and names of voters for and against it.

14. Every amendment shall be worded as to be capable of making an intelligible sentence either alone or in its proper place in an original motion, as the case may be; provided that no amendment shall be allowed which in effect only negatives the original motion.

15. After a motion has been moved and seconded, an amendment may be moved at any stage of the debate thereon.

16. On the discussion being concluded, in the event of several amendments having been proposed, the President shall put the last amendment to the vote first and if it is lost, he shall put the amendment preceding the last amendment and lastly the first amendment, and, if all the amendments are lost, the original motion shall be put to the vote.

17. When a motion or an amendment has been put from the Chair, and has been declared by the President to be duly carried, no further proposals for amending the motion or amendment can be entertained.

Of the Right to Speak

18. The President may require the Commissioners to stand when they address the meeting.

19. The Commissioner, who first rises to address the meeting, shall be entitled to be heard first, and should more than one Commissioner rise to address the meeting at the same time, the order of precedence shall be determined by the President.

20. Any Commissioner shall be at liberty to call the attention of the President to a point of order, even when a Commissioner is speaking. On a point of order being raised, the Commissioner addressing the meeting shall resume his seat until the question has been decided by the President After the decision of the President, the same point of order cannot be raised again. Except as provided by this rule no Commissioner shall interrupt a speaker in possession of the meeting.

21. Except as provided in rule 11 or rule 21, no Commissioner shall speak except to move or second a motion or amendment, or to support or oppose a motion or amendment which has been duly moved and seconded.

22. A speaker, who has exhausted his right to speak on an original motion, may speak on any amendment being moved, as that raises a new question.

23. The mover of a motion of amendment shall, in all cases, have a right of reply, but otherwise no Commissioner shall speak more than once on the same motion or amendment, unless in explanation of some part of his original speech.

Of protests or dissents

24. Protests shall be limited to a concise and definite statement of the motives which prompted the votes of Commissioners who voted in the minority on a given question.

25. Protests shall be handed to the President before the conclusion of the meeting at which the motion protested against was passed.

26. Protests duly made shall be appended to and published with the minutes.

Of adjournments

27. It shall be competent to any Commissioner to move the adjournment of the debate or of the meeting in a speech not exceeding five minutes in duration.

28. When a motion for the adjournment of the meeting or of a debate is made, it shall be seconded without a speech, and put by the President to the vote without debate or amendment.

29. No motion for the adjournment of the meeting or of a debate shall be admissible which proposes an adjournment beyond the next ordinary meeting.

Adjourned Meetings

30. No business shall be transacted at an adjourned meeting save that which was left unfinished at the original meeting.

Miscellaneous

31. Unless not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners consent by signing a requisition, no subject once finally disposed of can be reconsidered within six months of its disposal.

32. For the purpose of taking into consideration any business involving many details, the meeting may resolve itself into a committee of the whole body. When such action has been taken, the rule prohibiting any person from speaking more than once on the same question shall be deemed suspended until the meeting resumes.

33. Voting by proxy is prohibited; and no Commissioner shall vote upon any motion or amendment unless he is present in person at the time when it is put to the vote.

34. The minutes shall contain a brief abstract of the discussion on every motion.

35. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of any meeting of the Commissioners shall be supplied to every Commissioner who may apply for it. An abstract of the minutes shall be affixed in some conspicuous spot accessible to the public at the place of meeting of the Commissioners.

III. The custody of the common seal

36. The common seal shall remain in the custody of the Chairman; provided that if a Secretary has been appointed, the Chairman may by a written order delegate the custody of the seal to the Secretary.

IV. Division of duties among the Commissioners

37. The Commissioners may, from time to time, delegate to one or more of their number the duty of inspecting any work which is being carried out under their orders or any institution under their control and management.

V. (i) Manner of appointment of committees

38. The Commissioners at a meeting may for each year appoint any of the following or other standing committees as may appear to be necessary in accordance with section 86 of the Act, namely:—

(1) Finance Standing Committee.

(2) Public Works Standing Committee.

(3) Sanitation and Public Health Standing Committee.

(4) Medical Standing Committee.

(5) Standing Ward Committee for any ward or group of wards:

Provided that the Standing Ward Committee shall include the Commissioner or Commissioners representing the ward or group of wards, as the case may be, for which the committee is appointed.

39. The members of a standing committee shall hold office for one year only but shall be eligible for reappointment.

40. Save in the case of illness, a member of a standing committee who, without the previous permission of the Commissioners, shall fail to attend six consecutive meetings of such committee, shall thereby cease to be a member and the committee shall apply to the Commissioners at a meeting to appoint another member in his place.

41. Whenever any Commissioner shall move a motion for the appointment of a committee of a special nature, under section 89 of the Act and such motion is duly seconded and carried, it shall be incumbent on the mover (1) to move that the committee shall consist of a definite number of persons (any other number may be moved as an amendment); and (2) to draw up a list of as many persons as may be thus fixed for constituting the committee. On this list being seconded, any other Commissioner may either move the substitution of any one or more names for one or more of those contained in the list proposed by the mover of the original motion:

Provided always that if a ballot be demanded by at least five members the Chairman shall put it to the meeting whether they wish the election to be by ballot and if this is carried the committee shall be elected by ballot.

(ii) Constitution of committees

42. A standing committee shall not consist of more than nine members and no Commissioner shall at the same time be a member of more than two standing committees.

(iii) Regulation and conduct of business of Standing and Special Committees

43. Every committee shall conform to any instructions that may from time to time be given to them by the Commissioners at a meeting.

44. Every committee shall appoint one of their number to be their Chairman; provided that no person shall at the same time be the Chairman of more than one committee.

45. In the absence of the Chairman the members of the committee shall choose one of their number to preside over their meeting.

46. A committee may meet and adjourn as it thinks proper.

47. The quorum of a committee shall be one-third of its total number, provided that not less than two shall constitute a quorum.

48 Every question at a meeting of a committee shall be determined by a majority of votes of the members present and voting on that occasion.

49. In case of an equal division of votes the President shall have a second or casting vote.

By order of the Governor,

A. N. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 14814/M./1M-40/58.—22nd December 1960. —Whereas the term of four years provided by clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 56 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), for which the Commissioners of the Rishra Municipality as at present constituted shall hold office expired on the 15th January 1959;

And whereas the said term was extended by notifications No. 9207/M./1M-40/58, dated the 10th October 1958, No. 9978/M./1M-40/58, dated the 13th November 1958, No. 3556/M./1M-40/58, dated the 24th April 1959 and No. 178/M./1M-40/58, dated the 7th January 1960 till the 31st December 1960;

ORDERS

No. 6440I.R./IR/4L-77/59. — 8th December 1960.- Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4034I.R./IR/4L-77/59, dated the 30th July 1960, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Nalinakshya Das, Bus Owner, Young Road, P.O. Asansol, Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Asansol Subdivisional Bus Workers' Union, P.O. Asansol, district Burdwan, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Seventh Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Nalinakshya Das, Bus Owner, Young Road, P.O. Asansol, Burdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Asansol Subdivisional Bus Workers' Union, P.O. Asansol, district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-464/60.)

For the Union: None.

AWARD

The above industrial dispute relating to the alleged dismissal of Shri Nankoo Prosad, a workman under the Company, and the relief, if any, to which he is entitled, was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6357I.R./IR/4L-77/59, dated 26th November 1959, and the same dispute has subsequently been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4034I.R./IR/4L-77/59, dated the 30th July 1960. The only issue formulated in the schedule to the order of reference stands thus:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Nankoo Prosad is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After receipt of the reference in this Tribunal, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 5th November 1960, for their appearance and filing of written statement, if any, by the Union. The notices were duly served No appearance was entered by the Union, but it appears that the Company entered appearance through some representative by filing a memorandum of appearance. As no written statement was filed by the Union stating its case under the issue and formulating its claim the case was adjourned to 26th November 1960 for ex parte hearing if no appearance was entered by the Union by 12 noon on that day. By this adjournment the Union was given another opportunity to appear and file written statement in the case. But on 26th November 1960 also no appearance was entered by or on behalf of the Union and no written statement was filed by it. The case was taken up at 12-45 p.m. in presence of a representative of the Company. This representative filed a petition stating that the industrial dispute has ceased to exist and so he would not adduce any evidence and take any further step and prayed for a "no dispute" award. In view of the absence of the Union in spite of the service of the notice of this reference and of the statement made in the petition filed by the Company's representative on 26th November 1960, I am satisfied that the industrial dispute between the parties has ceased to exist Consequently this case should be disposed of by a "no dispute" award

In the result I award that the industrial dispute between the parties has ceased to exist and there is nothing to adjudicate upon.

For the Union: Shri D. Bagchi, Vice-President, instructed by Shri Alok Choudhury, General Secretary of the Union.

By order No. 4767I R./IR/10L-9/57, dated Calcutta, the 15th November 1958, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Purulia Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., Purulia, and their workers represented by the Purulia Electric Supply Workers' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issues mentioned in the order of reference.

Issues

(1) Revision of pay scales, grades and D.A. of the different categories of the monthly paid workmen.

(2) Revision of wages of and provision of D.A to the daily-rated workers.

(3) Provision for gratuity for all categories of workmen.

The Purulia Electric Supply Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), has stated in its written statement that Messrs. Purulia Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), are a prosperous concern and that particularly since 3rd April 1955 the Company has been earning heavy revenues from year to year. The Union has stated in its written statement the minimum monthly wages of a worker in different Electric Supply Companies and by comparison has pointed out that the minimum monthly wage of a worker of the above Company is far below that in the other companies. So the Union has stated its claim as regards the three issues mentioned in the order of reference It has stated pay scales grades and dearness allowance of the different categories of the monthly-paid workmen and daily-rated workers of the Company which it claims. It has also claimed for provision of gratuity at a rate of 15 days' wages for every completed year of service.

The Company, on the other hand, has contended that it suffered heavy losses from its inception in 1940 up to the year 1955. After that year it has made some profits, but still the outstanding losses are very heavy. In the year 1949 the Company was forced to take a loan of Rs. 3 lakhs from the Industrial Finance Corporation of India. So the financial position of the Company is none but satisfactory. The companies to which the Union has referred in its written statement are big and prosperous concerns and comparison of this Company with those companies is out of place. Since 1955 the Company has been giving a number of monetary and other benefits to its employees which were not in existence prior to 1955. The Company contends that it is unable to give further and to revise upward the salaries and wages of its employees, not to speak of granting the scales of pay and dearness allowance demanded by the Union in its written statement.

Findings

The legal representative of the Company in his cross-examination of P.W. 1, the General Secretary of the Union, has made much of the fact that the Company is not a generating Company, whereas some of the companies with which comparison has been made by the Union are generating ones. But such an argument does not lie in his mouth, because the case of the Company is that it has been making profits after it stopped generating electric energy and began to purchase it from the D.V.C Whatever may be said about the companies which have been compared with this Company by the Union, it must be said that Burdwan Electric Supply Company stands almost at a par with this Company in that both of them purchase electricity from the D.V.C. and I can certainly presume that they have been purchasing electricity at the same price. I have also considered the awards of some of the Tribunals in respect of some Electric Supply Companies in the mofussil towns of West Bengal, this can be easily compared with the present Company

But this comparison is not enough. Before I can saddle the Company with any extra financial liability, I shall have to be sure that the Company is capable of bearing that burden. It is admitted by the Company that though it was making losses up to 1955, its profits have been rising continuously since that year. In the year ending on 31st March 1958, the Company made a clear profit of a little over Rs. 33,000, vide Statutory Accounts (Ext C5). This shows that the former losses have been completely recouped. It is also seen from the statements of accounts for different years that the Company has been liquidating its debts There is another factor: the Company has, amongst its assets, plants and machineries. Obviously those plants and machineries were purchased for generating electricity. So the Company no longer requires them. It is no evidence adduced on behalf of the Company that the Company is trying to sell them and has incurred an expenditure of a little over Rs. 16,000 for overhauling of the generating sets So the sale-proceeds of the generating sets will be a sort of wind-fall income to the Company. In view of the above considerations, it cannot be held that the present financial condition of the Company or its future prospect is bad. So I reject the contention of the Company that it is unable to bear the financial burden of any upward revision of the wage and salaries of its employees whatsoever.

It is clear from evidence that while the scale of pay of the Accountant is Rs. 80—5—130, that of the Head Clerk is Rs. 60—5—125. It is not understood why the Company which can afford to pay its Accountant a scale of pay from Rs. 80 to Rs. 130 cannot pay a higher scale to the Head Clerk. Again the Company pays the old Assistant Meter Reader in the scale of Rs. 30—2—50, whereas it has given an initial pay of Rs. 45 per month to a newly appointed Assistant Meter Reader. All this show that the Company has paid better salaries to some of its employees. As I have discussed above, the Company has the financial capability to pay better salaries and wages to all its employees.

In consideration of the present and future financial capacity of the Company and of the scales of pay paid by the sister concerns, I decide the issues mentioned in the order of reference as follows:—

I order that the scales of pay of the different categories of employees should be revised as follows:—

(1) Head Clerk—Rs. 90—6—150.

(2) Cashier, Bill Clerk, Despatch Clerk and Storekeeper—Rs. 60—4—100.

(3) Lineman and Meter Reader—Rs. 55—3—85.

(4) Assistant Meter Reader and Blacksmith—Rs. 45—2—65.

The above scales of pay shall take effect from 1st January 1961, on which date the incumbents of the above categories shall get the next increment in the new scales of pay irrespective of the dates on which their increments would otherwise fall due. The pay of the Assistant Meter Readers on 1st January 1961 shall, however, be fixed at the stage of the new scale which they would have reached had they started service at the initial pay of the present scale with half the period of service actually put in by them.

The scales of pay of the other categories of monthly-paid employees would remain unchanged.

The financial condition of the Company is not so good as to allow any further increase in dearness allowance. So the present rate of dearness allowance at 25 per cent. of the pay should continue.

Issue No. 2: The Union has failed to make out any case for revision of the wages of the daily-rated workers. So I do not order any revision of the wages of the daily-rated workers. I, however, expect that the management would increase the wage of the daily-rated workers according to circumstances, as they have done in the case of two of them. I, however, order that the daily-rated workers should also be paid dearness allowance at the rate of 25 per cent. of their wages.

Issue No. 3: All that the Company has been able to show is that in the past the financial condition of the Company was not good. As I have remarked above, the present financial condition and the future prospect of the Company are good. So the Company cannot resist the claim for gratuity made by the Union. So I order that the Company shall pay gratuity to its workmen at the rate of 15 days' basic pay for every completed year of service. In view of the bad financial condition of the Company in the past, I allow it this concession that for purposes of gratuity ¼th (one-fourth) of the period of service put in by each employee up to 31st December 1960 shall be taken into account.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Thorne's (P) Ltd., 13 Ezra Mansions, Calcutta, Proprietors of the Technical and General Press, and two of their workmen represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII-C-268/58.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mookherjee, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Moni Bose, Assistant Secretary.

By Government order No. 4435I.R./IR/13L-33/58, dated the 16th October 1958, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Thorne's (Private) Ltd., Proprietors of the Technical and General Press, and two of their workmen represented by the Press Employees' Association, has been referred to this Court regarding a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), for adjudication.

Issue

(1) Whether the termination of services of Sarbasri Rahim and Bholanath Singh was justified? To what relief are they entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:—

Shri A. Rahim was an inkman at the Technical and General Press. His service was terminated by a letter, dated 2nd April 1956, without assignment of any reason. By a letter, dated 5th April 1956 the Management informed him that they would allow him to continue in his job. When he reported for work in pursuance of that letter, the management proposed to allow him to do only half a month's work and to give half a month's pay every month. Shri A. Rahim refused to work on the proposed terms. The matter became a subject of conciliation proceedings, and in that connexion the Company by a letter, dated 12th July 1956, stated its inability to reinstate Shri A. Rahim on the false ground that he had committed theft while he was in the employment of the Company. At that time a conciliation proceeding was pending about a charter of demands by the Union. The Conciliation Officer called a tripartite conference about the charter of demands on 11th July 1956. On the following day, i.e., on 12th July 1956 the management questioned Shri Bholanath Singh, an active member of the Union, as to why he had been a signatory to a representation, dated 20th June 1956. The management without waiting for his reply dismissed him on 14th July 1956 without any charge-sheet or without assignment of any reason. So the Union contends that the termination of services of Sarbasri A. Rahim and Bholanath Singh is unjustified.

The case of the Company, on the other hand, in brief, is as follows:—

Shri A. Rahim was dismissed on the report of the Press Manager that he refused to work overtime. That report was, however, detected to be untrue and Shri A. Rahim was requested by the Company by its letter, dated 5th April 1956, to join his duties. In the meantime before 5th April 1956 it was revealed that Shri Rahim had misappropriated the Company's money from time to time by erasing amounts in cash memos. and putting thereon fictitious amounts for the purchase of mobil oil. Therefore, when Shri Rahim came to the office in accordance with the Company's letter, dated 5th April 1956, he was asked whether he had misappropriated the Company's money in the manner described above. As Shri Rahim confessed in presence of witnesses that he had done so, he has not taken back in the Company's service. Shri Bholanath Singh was dismissed as he threatened to murder the Managing Director and other staff in the office during office hours. The Company did not state the above charges in the letters terminating the services of Sarbasri A. Rahim and Bholanath Singh for their own benefit. So the Company contends that the termination of their services is justified.

The Company has also raised a preliminary objection that the Government order of reference is bad in law on the following ground:—

The Company by its letter in July 1956 informed the Labour Directorate as to the reason of dismissal of Shri A. Rahim. Neither the Labour Directorate nor the Union thereafter pursued the matter further, and as such the matter was dropped. On or about 27th March 1958, Shri M. M. Sanyal, Conciliation Officer, Government of West Bengal, requested the Company to send its comments on the dismissal of Sarbasri A. Rahim and Bholanath Singh. As the Company had no demand from the Union for the reinstatement either of the above two employees, the Company by its letter, dated 31st March 1958, requested the above Conciliation Officer to send the letter of the Union on which the Company's comments were asked for, but the Company received no reply.

Findings

I take, first of all, the preliminary objection. The Company itself admits that in July, 1956 it informed the Labour Directorate about the reason of dismissal of Shri A. Rahim. If no dispute was raised before the Labour Directorate there could be no occasion for the Company to write any such letter. So it is clear that the dispute about the dismissal of Shri A. Rahim was raised before the Labour Directorate. The Union has not been able to produce any letter of complaint to the Labour Directorate about the dismissal of Shri Bholanath Singh. The representative of the Union has argued that the whole file dealt with by Sm. R. Dutta, Labour Officer, about the dismissal of Sarbasri A Rahim and Bholanath Singh was missing, and thereafter, the matter was referred afresh to Shri M. M. Sanyal, Conciliation Officer. A letter, dated 4th July 1957, of the Secretary of the Union to the Joint Secretary, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department [Ext. 3(a)] shows that the dismissal of both Shri A. Rahim and Shri Bholanath Singh was referred to the Labour Directorate. The law nowhere requires that the Union must take a demand to the management for the reinstatement of dismissed employees before referring their case to the Labour Directorate. It is clear from the evidence adduced before me that the dismissal of Shri A Rahim and Shri Bholanath Singh was referred to the Labour Directorate and that that Directorate pursued the matter, as a result of which the present reference arose, though there has been an inordinate delay in making a report to the Government by the Labour Directorate. So I reject the initial objection of the Company that the order of reference is bad, and proceed to consider the merits of the case.

The Company by its letter, dated 5th April 1956, virtually cancelled its letter, dated 2nd April 1956, by which it terminated the service of Shri A. Rahim. So the contention of the Company is that it dismissed him on ground of misappropriation of the Company's money. The Company did not issue to him any charge-sheet on the above allegation. As such the question of subsequent enquiry does not arise. So I shall have to decide on the allegation made by the Company on the basis of evidence adduced before me. O.P.W. 2 Shri Sunil Kumar Bose, Accountant of the Company, is the main witness in support of the allegation. He says that for three years Shri A. Rahim produced cash memos. showing the price of half a gallon of mobil oil as Rs. 5-14, whereas the actual price was Rs. 2. He cannot say what price was shown in the cash memos. which came to him prior to those three years. If the price was really Rs. 2 and if Shri A. Rahim had shown the price to be Rs. 5-14, the Accountant ought to have detected this, when Shri A. Rahim produced the first cash memo. showing Rs. 5-14 as the price. The circumstances narrated by him as to how this misappropriation by Shri A. Rahim was detected are suspicious. He poses not to know that Shri A. Rahim had been dismissed on 2nd April 1956; on 5th April 1956 he enquires about Shri Rahim in order to send the latter to purchase mobil oil, and then he learns that Shri Rahim was dismissed; he then asks one Shri Satish Maity who purchases mobil oil and brings cash memo. showing Rs. 2 as the price. The accountant did not bring this to the notice of the Managing Director on that day. He waited for Shri A. Rahim to come to the Managing Director on 6th April 1956 and then he brought the cash memos. alleged to have been produced by Shri Rahim to the notice of the Managing Director in presence of Shri Rahim. The evidence on behalf of the Company is that Shri A. Rahim then admitted his guilt. Shri Rahim has denied this in his evidence before me. The evidence of the Accountant as well as other evidence produced by the Company about this allegation are unbelievable. So I hold that the Company has failed to prove that Shri Rahim misappropriated the Company's money, the charge on which he has been dismissed. On the contrary, the evidence adduced in this case lends support to the contention of the Union that on 6th April 1956 the management offered half a month's work to Shri A. Rahim, which he refused. This, in turn, leads to the question whether the management was justified in making such an offer. The evidence does not disclose any justification for such an offer.

As to Shri Bholanath Singh, the contention of the Company is that one day he went to the room of the Managing Director while chewing a "পান" (betel-leaf) and wanted to talk to the latter; the latter asked him to throw out the "পান" and then to talk to him. Shri Bholanath insisted on talking to the Managing Director with the "পান" in his mouth. So the latter refused to listen to him. Then Shri Bholanath threatened to kill the Managing Director. The Company did not issue any charge-sheet to him on the above allegation and there was no question of any enquiry; so the whole case is at large before me.

O.P.W. 1 Shri Keshab Ranjan Thakur, the General Assistant in the Company, and O.P.W. 2 Shri Sunil Kumar Bose, the Accountant of the Company, are the two witnesses produced by the Company about the incident. Their evidence as to the date of the incident and other circumstances is discrepant on material points. The story described by them is also improbable in the circumstances of the case. On the other hand, P.W. 1 Shri Bholanath Singh has stated in his evidence that on 12th June 1956 the Managing Director called him and told him that he was taking part in the activities of the union and that he would be dismissed and would be informed accordingly. On 13th July 1956 the durwan did not allow him to sign the Attendance Register and drove him out. There is no reason to disbelieve his evidence on this point. In consideration of the evidence adduced on both sides, I hold that the Company has failed to prove the allegation of misconduct on the part of Shri Bholanath Singh for which he was dismissed.

In view of my above findings, I hold that the termination of services of Sarbasri A. Rahim and Bholanath Singh is unjustified. So I order that they be reinstated in their services and be paid wages for the periods of their forced unemployment. The above order shall take effect within a month of the publication of this Award in the "Calcutat Gazette".

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 3620-I.R./IR/13L-30/57, dated the 19th July 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), an industrial dispute between Messrs Calcutta Job Press Private Ltd. and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Press Workers' Employees' Union, regarding the matter specified in the second schedule to the Act, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court by G.O. No. 564-I.R./IR/13L-30/57, dated the 14th February 1958, for adjudication which has been abolished by notification No. 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960.

The Schedule

Is the dismissal of Md. Harun and Banshi Chandra justified? To what relief are they entitled?

Notices were duly served on the parties. 1st November 1960 was fixed for hearing of the case and on that date both parties filed a joint petition of compromise annexing therewith a memorandum of settlement the terms of which seem to be fair and reasonable and may be given effect to.

Hence, an award be made in terms of the petition of compromise which do form part of the award as Schedule A.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Khoribari Tea Estate (Darjeeling), and their workmen represented by the Darjeeling Zila Chia Kaman Mazdur Union, Mahanandapara, Siliguri. (Case No. VIII-C-124 of 1958.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Bibhuti Bhusan Ghosh, Advocate, with Shri P. K. Bose, Advocate, and Shri A. T. Choudhuri, Pleader.

For the Union: Shri S. N. Bhattacharjee, Pleader, with Shri Biren Bose, Secretary of the Terai Branch of Darjeeling Zila Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union.

By order No. 2316-I.R./IR/9L-11/57, dated Calcutta, the 7th June 1958, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Khoribari Tea Estate (Darjeeling), and their workmen represented by the Darjeeling Zila Chia Kaman Mazdur Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issues mentioned in the order of reference.

Issues

(1) Are the workers entitled to wages for the strike period which commenced on 26th June 1957?

(2) Is the dismissal of Kastu Rautia justified? What relief is he entitled to?

The case was originally fixed for hearing on 20th June 1960. On that day Shri B. B. Ghosh, Advocate, appearing for the company argued that Issue No. (1) related to a dispute connected with wages and that wages was a matter which has been mentioned in the 3rd schedule of the Industrial Disputes Act and that as such it is beyond the jurisdiction of this Court to adjudicate on this issue. I heard both sides about this contention. By my order No. 28, dated 11th July 1960, I held that the first issue related to wages and that it was not the case of any side that the issue did not affect more than 100 workmen. So I hold that I am not competent to adjudicate on the first issue. Accordingly this award relates to the second issue alone.

As to the second issue, the case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:—

The Union of the workers at Kharibari Tea Estate was formed towards the end of the year 1954 and Shri Kastu Routia was elected Secretary of the Garden Committee of the Union. From the very inception of the Union the Management was trying to victimise Shri Kastu Routia for his union activities. In the year 1955 he was denied work and was not given any work for about a year, and after much struggle and due to intervention of Government Labour Officer he was given work sometime in May 1956. On 2nd February 1957 the Manager of the Tea Estate issued a charge-sheet on Shri Kastu Routia alleging that he was guilty of misconduct on the ground of an alleged assault on one of the workers, and asked for his explanation by 3rd February 1957. Shri Kastu Routia went to the Manager with his explanation, but his explanation was not accepted on the plea that the office had been closed then. No enquiry about the allegation in the charge-sheet was made. Shri Kastu Routia was dismissed in violation of the principles of natural justice and as a measure of victimisation. So the Union contends that the dismissal of Shri Kastu Routia is unjustified.

The company in its written statement has raised a preliminary objection that Messrs. Kharibari Tea Estate mentioned as a party in the order of reference is not a person but a property, and that as such it cannot be made a party in any adjudication proceedings. The company has urged that the reference is invalid, unless Messrs. Kharibari Tea Company Limited, a public limited company which owns and possesses Kharibari Tea Estate be brought on record. Though technically speaking, this contention of the company is correct, this cannot affect the validity of the order of reference. The main purpose of the order of reference is for adjudication on an industrial dispute which has arisen, and the main purpose of any adjudication thereon should be to promote industrial peace. Adjudication of industrial dispute should not be thwarted by the niceties of legal technicalities. In the present case Kharibari Tea Company Limited has put in appearance and has contested the case throughout. Further the order of reference mentions Messrs. Kharibari Tea Estate as one of the parties, meaning obviously Messrs. Kharibari Tea Company Limited. So there can be no scope of any doubt as to who are the parties in the present dispute. Hence I reject the preliminary objection of the company and proceed to adjudicate on the second issue in the order of reference.

As to that issue the case of the company, in brief, is as follows:—

Due to various illegal activities resulting in mob violence and riotous behaviour nine persons including Shri Kastu Routia were dismissed in March 1955. Later they approached the Management and implored them to give them employment assuring the Management of good and proper behaviour. The Management seeing them in distress and believing in good faith that they were repentent employed them as workers in the garden in the month of June 1956. Shri Kastu Routia was one of those persons who were so re-employed. In spite of having given assurance of good conduct Shri Kastu Routia occasionally indulged in disorderly and violent activities. On 8th December 1956 he illegally trespassed into the factory during working hours and abused the Factory Assistant in filthy language. Accordingly he was asked to show cause by 21st December 1956 why disciplinary action would not be taken against him. He did not care to submit any explanation. On the nights of 30th January 1957, 31st January 1957 and 1st February 1957 he trespassed into the house of Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar, a worker in the garden, attempted to extort money from him and assaulted him with a lathi (stick). The shouts of the victim attracted the notice of others, and some Babus of the Garden amongst other employees rushed to the place of occurrence and Shri Kastu Routia then fled away from the scene. The Manager drew up a charge-sheet against him on 2nd February 1957 and asked him to show cause why he would not be dismissed from the service. The Manager also suspended him with effect from 3rd February 1957 pending enquiry. Proper enquiries were held about the charge-sheet and Shri Kastu Routia was found guilty of the charge and was dismissed on 6th April 1957. So the company says that the dismissal of Shri Kastu Routia is justified.

Decision

Though the company has narrated a number of incidents in which Shri Kastu Routia was involved in the past, they are immaterial for adjudication on the present dismissal of Shri Kastu Routia, as the company dismissed him on the charge-sheet about the incidents of 30th January 1957, 31st January 1957 and 1st February 1957. So the point for my determination would be whether his dismissal on the above charge-sheet is justified. The Union denies that any enquiry was held. The company contends that proper enquiries were held. The company has adduced evidence in support of the fact that an enquiry about the charge-sheet was held. The documentary evidence about the enquiry are three sheets of paper alleged to be statements of three witnesses, none of them has been produced before me. It is on the evidence of the company that the statements of other witnesses were recorded at the enquiry; but no such statement has been produced before me. The company contends that Shri Kastu Routia was present at the enquiry, but the company has not produced any documentary evidence in support of its contention. The oral evidence adduced by the company also leads to the inference that the presence of Shri Kastu Routia at the alleged enquiry is doubtful, and that if he was at all present at the enquiry, he was not given ample opportunity to defend himself. There is also nothing on record to show when and how the enquiry was held. So I am unable to hold that any enquiry, not to speak of a proper enquiry, was held about the charge-sheet issued to Shri Kastu Routia. Hence the whole case about his dismissal is at large before me.

The company has adduced evidence about the incidents of 30th January 1957, 31st January 1957 and 1st February 1957. There is no reason to disbelieve that evidence. Particularly, the evidence as to the incident on 1st February 1957 when Shri Kastu Routia is alleged to have assaulted Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar is very convincing. It appears therefrom that on that day Shri Kastu Routia along with some others went to the house of Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar, dragged him out of his house and beat him; and that this was an aftermath of gambling played by Shri Kastu Routia, Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar and others that day and two preceding days. P.W. 3 and P.W. 4, witnesses on behalf of the Union, have deposed that nothing took place at night of any of the above three days. But it is clear from the evidence that they could not know what took place at the house of Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar at night on those days. So their evidence is absolutely unbelievable. It is admitted by the Secretary of the Union in his letter, dated 4th April 1957, addressed to the Manager of the Tea Estate that Shri Kastu Routia being under the influence of alcohol quarreled with one of his fellow workers. So it is not the case of the Union that nothing took place on any of the three days mentioned above. In view of the evidence adduced on behalf of the company I hold that Shri Kastu Routia assaulted Shri Bhuleswar Kumbhakar on 1st February 1957.

The lawyer on behalf of the Union has argued that such an action cannot be termed misconduct meriting dismissal, because Shri Kastu Routia did not do this during working hours nor did he create any disturbance so far as the Management of the garden was concerned. But Standing Orders of the Tea Estate (Ext. C) make the following acts as misconduct meriting dismissal:—

1. (v) Violent or riotous acts or conducts, and acts which directly or indirectly aid, abet or incite others to violence;

(xi) Any offence or violation of any provisions, punishable with fine or imprisonment, either under the Indian Penal Code or any other special or local law for the time being in force in the locality wherein the Estate is situated.

So it is clear that the action of Shri Kastu Routia on 1st February 1957 is a misconduct meriting dismissal. In view of the past record of Shri Kastu Routia which has been proved by evidence before me, the Management could reasonably dismiss him for his conduct on 1st February 1957.

Hence I hold that the dismissal of Shri Kastu Routia is justified. As such he is not entitled to any relief.

No. 6686-I.R./IR/11L-27/59.—16th December 1960.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 806-I.R./IR/11L-27/59, dated the 2nd March 1959, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Chungking Dyers & Dry Cleaners, 3A Harrington Street, Calcutta-16, and their workmen represented by the Laundry Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Second Labour Court for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Second Labour Court, Shri Buniadi Ram, a workman of the said company, made a complaint in writing to the said Labour Court against the said company alleging that the said company had altered to the prejudice of the said workman, the conditions of service applicable to him immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Labour Court has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shri Buniadi Ram, an employee of Messrs. Chungking Dyers and Dry Cleaners, 3 Harrington Street, represented by the Laundry Workers' Union against the aforesaid company. (Case No. 63/33A/1959.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the complainant: Shri P. K. Nandi, Advocate.

The original reference out of which the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order No. 806-I.R./IR/11L-27/59, dated 2nd March 1959.

The case of the complainant Shri Buniadi Ram is that the company deprived him of the housing accommodation on 5th October 1959 and as such violated the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, appearing for the company has raised the preliminary objection that this is not a violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and as such this complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

Findings

Section 33(2)(a) says that during the pendency of a proceeding an employer may alter the conditions of service applicable to a worker in any matter not connected with the dispute. In the present case it is not the case of the complainant that provision of housing accommodation is in any way connected with the dispute raised in the original order of reference. So section 33(2)(a) clearly empowers the employer in this case to change the condition of service relating to housing accommodation of Shri Buniadi Ram. The only point raised by Shri P. K. Nandi, Advocate, appearing for the complainant, is that in the present case the company changed the condition of service not in accordance with the standing orders. But it is admitted that this company has no standing orders. So the question arises whether in view of the absence of any standing orders the company is precluded from exercising the power given to it under section 33(2)(a). Having regard to the scheme of provisions of the amended Industrial Disputes Act and to the provisions of section 33 in the Act of 1947, I hold that the absence of standing orders, does not preclude an employer from exercising the power conferred by section 33(2)(a) of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. So I hold that the company did not violate section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by depriving Shri Buniadi Ram of the housing accommodation. Hence the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Anpore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the same form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(3) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 (for each category of posts) in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(4) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(5) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(6) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or statutory body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fees should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected
